Prof. D. C. Millard Celebrates 85th Birthday at Halifax

Special to The Telegraph
Halifax, Pa., Oct. 18.—Professor D. C. Millard celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary at his home in South Front street on Friday by giving a dinner to his son, William Millard, and family, of Plymouth, Pa., and his niece, Mrs. Anna M. McClymonds, of Morris Plains, N. J. Flowers and cards from many other friends added to the pleasures of the day.

Professor D. C. Millard is one of the oldest school teachers in Dauphin county. He commenced teaching in the fall of 1853 and closed in the spring of 1899, having taught forty-five consecutive years. He was examined by Superintendent Samuel L. Ingram in 1854. His first vote was for General Winfield Scott in 1852. Professor Millard has read the Harrisburg Telegraph ever since he was a boy.

President Pays Early Call on His Fiancee

Washington, Oct. 18.—Neither the President nor Mrs. Gault attended church yesterday in the disappointment of those at both the Central Presbyterian and at St. Margaret's on Connecticut avenue. Mrs. Gault only recently took a pew at the latter church, but as yet has not occupied it. The President, visited the home of his fiancee this morning, walking up Connecticut avenue about 10 o'clock. Two secret Service men were only three feet behind. This afternoon the President took another walk, attended by the Secret Service men.

O. P. Beckley Talks to Derry Street Men

O. P. Beckley, one of the lay leaders in the Harrisburg church world, yesterday afternoon addressed the Men's Bible Class of Derry Street United Brethren Church, Fifteenth and Derry streets, on "New Men For Old." Mr. Beckley urged the 275 men who were present at the Sunday School session to throw off their old habits of sin, lethargy and listlessness for a new life of purity, high mindedness and success. He pointed out that a man who would really be big must be so not only in business and in social life, but in his home life, as well. "Too many men," he said, "do their utmost to be big in their work and in their social relations, but do nothing to maintain business of character in their home circles. The greatest achievement in the world and that successful home-making is a greater achievement than the building up of a business or a prominent place socially."

Hunter Shot in Face and Hurt in Auto Collision

Special to The Telegraph
Lewistown, Pa., Oct. 18.—A heavy hunting cap saved Chauncey Shull, a member of the Lewistown Rod and Gun Club, from fatal injuries, when he was struck on the head and face by a charge of shot fired by a hunter in the mountains near the Narrows. The man who shot him gave his name and his license number was taken. Shull's misfortunes did not end with the shooting for while the automobile that he was riding home in approached Jack's creek bridge another machine crashed into it. The force of the collision threw the wounded man from the auto spraining his left wrist.

Virginia Black Bear, Caught by Hunter, in Paxtang Park Zoo

The big black bear brought to this city from Virginia Saturday evening by Elmer D. Oyer, 629 Mahantongo street, was safely escorted this afternoon to his new home in Paxtang Park, where he was transferred from the big wooden cage to the den in the park grounds. The bear was captured alive by Mr. Oyer while on a hunting trip in Virginia, and was brought here Saturday. Felix Davis, of the Harrisburg Railway Company immediately closed a contract purchasing the animal for exhibition in the Park. The bear is almost three feet high, a little more than 6 and one-half feet long, weighs 125 pounds, and is about 16 months old. He was captured near Winchester, Va. The other large bear at the park has been caged in another part of the den, but in a few days will be allowed to join the newcomer. Harry G. Pedlow, 110 South Thirtieth street, while hunting back of Lewistown Saturday, bagged a 22-pound wild turkey.

CHILD'S PLEA LEADS TO RAID

Members of Slough Party Assist Lebanon Police in Closing Gambling Place

Lebanon, Pa., Oct. 18.—The Rev. Dr. Henry W. Slough, in his answer to District Attorney Paul G. Adams for enjoining him from speaking on "Who Murdered Cy Miller?" scathingly arraigned that official yesterday afternoon at the tabernacle. It was an attack on the efficiency of the district attorney and his chief detective, Aaron Sattazahn. The evangelist showed his audience the spoils of a raid made shortly after midnight yesterday morning on an uptown gambling house, in which ten men were taken prisoners. The raid was made by the police, accompanied by three men of the Slough party, one of whom, William Irwin, the Slough pianist, narrowly escaped death when attacked by one of the gamblers armed with a knife. The gamblers on being arraigned in police court were let off on paying a nominal fine after pleading for mercy on behalf of their families. Among the spoils of the raid was a unique poker table cover, with which Dr. Slough draped his preaching stand. It was dedicated here to-day by a little girl who hit the trail and asked Dr. Slough to save her father, who each week lost his money in the house, that led to the raid.

$2,000,000 Masonic Temple Dedicated in Washington

Washington, D. C., Oct. 18.—The new $2,000,000 Masonic Temple, headquarters of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Freemasonry for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States, which also is called The Mother Council of the World, was dedicated here to-day with elaborate ceremonies and in the presence of a large assemblage of distinguished Masons from many parts of the country. The stately structure, fashioned after the famous mausoleum erected for King Mausolus by Queen Artemisia at Halicarnassus—one of the seven wonders of the ancient world—is unique among the many magnificent buildings in the National Capital. It has been under construction since 1911 when ground was broken. It stands in Sixteenth street, about one mile from the White House on the capital's finest boulevard and in a section of the city where many of the nation's most celebrated public men have lived during their public service in Washington. Viewed from the exterior, on a plateau above symbolic flights of steps, the structure presents a plain base, above which rises a lofty pyramidal obelisk supported by thirty-three massive columns.

Man Who Captured Jeff Davis Buried Today

Washington, D. C., Oct. 18.—Funeral services were held here to-day for William P. Stedman, a former private in the Fourth Michigan Regiment during the Civil War and the captor of Jefferson Davis after the fall of Richmond. Stedman died here yesterday at the age of 79 years. He had been a resident of Washington for almost a quarter of a century and at the time of his death was an employe of the Department of Agriculture.

MRS. GALT GETS HER TROUSSEAU

Green Plays Prominent Part in Frocks Ordered in Baltimore

A large part of the trousseau of Mrs. Galt, the President's fiancee, is being made in Baltimore. Two afternoon frocks, a going-away suit and several separate blouses destined for the outfit of the future Mrs. Woodrow Wilson have already been sent to Washington from a shop there.

The frocks and the suit were ordered last Saturday a week, and Monday on which days two or three friends who are helping Mrs. Galt in the selection of her trousseau motored to Baltimore for shopping.

The suit which is believed to be the one which Mrs. Galt intends to wear on the wedding trip is a model in dull green duvetyn with a chin chin collar and cuffs of beaver. The top of the coat is cut to fit the figure rather closely. A flare measuring four yards and a half is about the bottom of the coat edged with a wide band of leather. The coat buttons straight down the front and is worn with a simple slightly flared skirt.

The prettier of the two afternoon frocks is a model in crepe georgette and taffeta of the same rich dull green as the suit. The model shows a strong Chinese influence. The skirt has five narrow flounces of crepe georgette and is mounted on a crepe underskirt. There is an under bodice of taffeta flowered in dull rose, over which falls a Chinese sleeveless jacket of crepe georgette exquisitely embroidered in self-colored beads.

The other afternoon frock is a combination of crepe chiffon and crepe georgette in seal brown. There is a very wide and elaborate skirt with bands of plain chiffon in a lighter shade of brown set in at intervals above the hem. To this model also there is a slip-on overcoat embroidered with threads of silver and gold. The bindings on the skirt are also outlined with silver and gold.

The blouses are largely models of crepe georgette chiffon and crepe georgette in seal brown. There is a very wide and elaborate skirt with bands of plain chiffon in a lighter shade of brown set in at intervals above the hem. To this model also there is a slip-on overcoat embroidered with threads of silver and gold. The bindings on the skirt are also outlined with silver and gold.

Both of President Wilson's daughters, Mrs. Sayre and Mrs. McAdoo, obtained part of their trousseaus in Baltimore. Two seamstresses are in constant attendance at the Galt home in Washington, but it is said that most of the trousseau has been made on rush orders, such as those supplied in Baltimore.

In addition to the gowns submitted to Mrs. Galt by a Baltimore modiste at Washington house to-day, she presented a model which may be for the wedding toilet, but which would be equally appropriate for one of the gowns she will wear for state dinners and receptions. This is of old fashioned velvet, a quality soft as chiffon, but so rich that it shows wonderful lights with each movement and may be made up with equal success in long or bouffant lines. It is from the same famous French looms, and some people claim the same identical weave, from which the former Mrs. Oliver Cromwell selected the gown in which she became Mrs. Edward Stotesbury of Philadelphia.

$211,859,163 Expended For Highways of Country
Washington, D. C., Oct. 18.—The great interest that is now manifest throughout the country in the road and roads movement is shown in the increasing activity of the State governments in the work. At the present time all of the States, with the exception of Indiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Texas, have enacted laws providing for State aid in road work.

From the year 1895, when Massachusetts and Connecticut enacted State aid laws, to January, 1915, thirty-nine States expended $211,859,163 in road work. Pennsylvania expended $5,000,000.

Root Is Presidential Favorite; Burton Next
Washington, D. C., Oct. 18.—Ohio friends of ex-Senator Theodore E. Burton in Washington intimate that there will be a clearing of the decks in Ohio soon in which they will insure him the united support of the Republicans of his State for the Republican nomination for President.

The only candidate seriously discussed up to this time, they say, are ex-Senator Root, who appears to be the favorite; Senator Weeks, of Massachusetts, and the delegates, perhaps, than those of any other candidate, and ex-Senator Burton. There is always present the sentiment for Theodore E. Burton, but the feeling is strong that he will not allow any movement in his interest.

PUT STOMACH IN ORDER AND STOP GAS INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" regulates disordered stomachs in five minutes.

No more dyspepsia, sourness, heartburn, pain, belching, or acidity.

Nothing will remain undigested or sour on your stomach if you will take a little Diapiesin occasionally. This powerful digestive and antacid, though as harmless and pleasant as candy, will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you can eat.

Eat what your stomach craves without the slightest fear of indigestion or that you will be bothered with acidity or sour risings, belching, gas on stomach, heartburn, headache from stomach, aches, nausea, bad breath, water brash or a feeling like you had swallowed a lump of lead, or other disagreeable miseries. Should you be suffering now from any stomach disorder you can get relief within five minutes.

If you will get from your pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin you could always go to the table with a hearty appetite and your meals would taste good, because you would know there would be no indigestion or sleepless nights or headache or stomach misery all the next day; and, besides, you would not need laxative or liver pills to keep your stomach and bowels clean and fresh.

Pape's Diapiesin can be obtained from your druggist, and contains more than sufficient to thoroughly overcome the worst case of indigestion or dyspepsia. There is nothing better for gas on the stomach or sour odors from the stomach or to cure a stomach headache.
