AMUSEMENTS

THE STAGE

A new play based on the story of Statutory Grounds by Georgie Earle and Fanny Cannon, was seen for the first time on Wednesday night at the Princess Theater. The play features George Nash.

Vernon Castle has caused Charles Dillingham to find a successor for him in "Watch Your Step." Mr. Castle is still bent on entering the British army as an aviation officer. His place will be supplied by Bernard Granville.

It is rumored that Billie Burke's play for the coming season will be Hall Caine's, "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," dramatized from his own novel of the same title.

No great has been the demand to see William Gillette in "Sherlock Holmes," that he will continue to appear at the Empire Theater in this play up to November 8. On the following Monday the bill will be changed to "Secret Service."

MOTION PICTURES

Edna Goodrich will make her debut in a Lasky feature play on the Paramount program, November 18. The play is "Armstrong's Wife" by Margaret Turnbull, of the Lasky literary staff.

Mary Pickford, who will shortly appear as Cho-Cho-San in "Madame Butterfly," has engaged a Japanese maid to instruct her in local color and manners.

The new forth-coming Pallas picture, "The Gentleman From Indiana," to be released on the Paramount program, will give its patrons atmosphere and realism aplenty. An entire town has been constructed in order to give a background in keeping with the period of the original story.

ORPHEUM

Monday evening, Oct. 25—Melba.
Thursday evening, Oct. 28—May Robson in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," and John Henry.
Friday matinee and night, Oct. 29—"Uncle Tom's Cabin."
Saturday matinee and night, Oct. 30—"The Two Johns."

MAY ROBSON

May Robson, who comes to the Orpheum next Thursday evening, in a sumptuous revival of "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," in conjunction with the comedy "John Henry," based on Elizabeth Jordan's character sketches, is an actress of unusual ability: an adept in make-up and with a sunny, winning personality that places her in the same moment is no easy task and Miss Robson is one of the few women on the stage who can accomplish it. An artist is required to bring tears with softly spoken lines and delicate facial expression and then in an instant set the audience laughing uproariously at the commonplace remarks quickly timed. Miss Robson is such an artist.—Advertisement.

"PLAYING DEAD" AT THE COLONIAL

In the production of the Vitagraph's Billie Ribbow, a feature entitled "Playing Dead," pictured by Mrs. Sidney Drew from Richard Harding Davis' popular story and which appears at the Colonial to-day and to-morrow, Sidney Drew, through his family connections, succeeded in obtaining permission from Ethel Barrymore to record some of the most important action in her home. Another interesting background scene at the Knottwood Country Club, showing the golf links, interior and exterior view of the clubhouse. During the filming of these scenes Mr. Drew "caught" many of the prominent members of the club, whose presence in the picture add that atmosphere so essential to the realism of the story. The plot deals with the interruption of a young man's career by a woman, who, in the mooning, by a bachelor, who is a socialist and feminist, who explains to her that women should not marry. Despite her great love for her husband, she asks him to give her a divorce. Hubby succeeds in procuring a drug that renders him apparently lifeless and then the wife, believing him dead, attempts amends for her great mistake. Everything ends happy however after their many peculiar and exciting experiences.—Advertisement.

MAJESTIC VAUDEVILLE

"The Pullman Porter Maids" started on their three-day joy trip at the Majestic yesterday and a goodly number of Harrisburg amusement goers enjoyed the trip. There will be trips each afternoon and evening during the remainder of this week, so the time is limited in which we can enjoy this corking vaudeville treat. The attraction is a musical comedy tuncful and funny throughout. The pretty misses are seen in the capacity of port maids, and the stage setting is fashioned after the interior of an elegant Pullman car. Marjorie Fairbanks and company present a screeching comedy playlet called "Evolution." "Laughing Dogs," a troupe of wonderfully well trained canines, complete the fetching bill. Interesting motion picture features are included also.—Amusement.

MYRTLE STEDMAN IN "THE WILD OLIVE" AT THE REGENT TO-DAY

The Oliver-Morocco Company presents Myrtle Stedman and Forrest Stanley in a fascinating love story, "The Wild Olive" from the novel by Basil King, on the Paramount program to-day only.

On the circumstantial evidence of the bloody dagger having been found in his hand, Norris is indicted and sentenced to death. Breaking away from his guards, Norris escapes into the cabin of a girl of beauty and culture, who aids him to make his escape to Argentine, after they have vowed their love for each other. Growing a beard and changing his name, Norris Ford soon becomes the favorite of Buenos Ayres. Sending letter after letter to the mountain girl, whom he knows only as "The Wild Olive," the letter are returned marked "No Such Name." In his endeavors to forget her he becomes engaged to a New York girl and shortly after is transferred to New York by his firm. Venturing back to the States he finds "The Wild Olive" again, only to learn that she is the girl whom he betrothed.

Saturday, one day only—"Reaping the Whirlwind" with Jackie Saunders, a thrilling political drama by Robert Palmer, the young district attorney, is fighting the "system" led by James O'Donnell, nicknamed "Big Jim." When other means fail, "Big Jim" seeks control of Palmer by marrying his daughter to him.

Prof. Wallace, the eminent blind organist as the organ from 2 p. m. till 4.30 and from 7 till 11 p. m. and Miss Merchant from 10.30 till 2 and from 4.30 till 7 p. m.—Advertisement.

LADDERS TO COME UNDER STATE EYES

Industrial Board Fixes a Hearing in the Safety Code For Philadelphia

Ladders, prolific causes of accidents in industries, must hereafter be built in accordance with regulations laid down by the industrial board of the State Department of Labor and Industry.

Regulations governing ladder construction have already been formulated by the industrial board. Ladder manufacturers or proprietors of industries using ladders will have an opportunity to obtain information regarding the regulations or voice objections at a public hearing to be held by the industrial board in Room 484, City Hall, Philadelphia, Monday, October 25, at 10.30 o'clock. If objections do not warrant further hearings, the board will then adopt the regulations effective throughout Pennsylvania thirty days later.

Any ladders used in industries come within the rules of the board. Ladders of municipal fire departments and the household stepladder are excluded.

To Keep Your Skin Free From Hairs

(Beauty Topics).
If you are willing to spend a few minutes time in your room using a delatone paste, you can easily banish any ugly, hairy growth without discomfort or injury. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is then spread over the hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed. You will not be disappointed with this treatment, providing you get real delatone.
