Parents of the three runaway boys

Parents of the three runaway boys from New York City sent carfare today. The boys will be returned under the care of a New York officer. Since their arrival in Harrisburg they have been a source of much annoyance to police department attaches.

Late yesterday afternoon after ransacking the supply room of Johnny Grissinger, the custodian, they ran away. Two of the boys, Joseph Chashi and Tony Belli were caught at Middletown. The other, Joseph Deblania, was captured at Seventh and Herr streets.

MANAGEMENT OF PLANT TO STAY

tion of Iron Age; Reviews Situation

Further light upon the transactions attending the sale of the Pennsylvania Steel Company and all its subsidiaries to the Bethlehem Steel Corporation in which Charles M. Schwab, the steel wizard, is the prime figure, is given in the current issue of the Iron Age, a reliable trade journal.

The present management of the Pennsylvania Steel Company will not change, declares the Iron Age. The Bethlehem concern will act simply as a holding company and benefit by the diversified product which it now will be able to turn out. As the Iron Age's information is always reliable it is evident that recent stories in local newspapers other than the Telegraph to the effect that there would be a big shakeup at Steelton and that the works will likely be removed, are totally unfounded. Bethlehem concern will act simply

No Change in Stock

The Iron Age story says:
"While the finalities have not been concluded, it is definitely known that the Pennsylvania Steel Company, with all its subsidiaries, will shortly be acquired by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.
"It is further reported that the organization of the Pennsylvania Steel Company will be continued, the Bethlehem Steel Corporation simply acting as a holding company. The transaction will not necessitate any change in the stock capitalization of the Bethlehem Corporation. The two companies have not been trade competitors, as their products have been diverse except as to steel rails and structural material. The acquisition of the Pennsylvania Steel Company is especially important from the standpoint of the supply of iron ore Through its subsidiary, the Spanish-American Iron Company, it has a very large deposit of iron ore in Cuba, the chrome-nickel contents of which are particularly desirable in the manufacture of such products as are made by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. The acquisition of another subsidiary, the Maryland Steel Company, will give the Bethlehem Corporation a large steel plant located directly on tidewater, at Sparrows Point, Md., including a well-equipped shipyard."

one-fourth of the locomotive work is completed, none of the passenger order touched and but a very small porten of the freight cars completed. So far the order for fifty-six passenger cars placed with the local shops has not been touched and thirty-two passenger cars are still remaining for completion from the 1914 program. These will be completed soon and the 1915 equipment order in passenger cars begun.

Less than 300 freight cars have been turned out, there being 277 ordinary type cars built and several of a special class. Almost 2,000 remain yet to be completed. The work cannot be rushed, it was stated, as material is holding up many of the operations.

The last order placed with the local shops called for 100 cabinet cars. Work previously placed will be completed as soon as possible and the latter order taken up.

New Freight Records on United States Railroads

Special to The Telegraph

New York, Oct. 22.—A general revival of freight traffic, unequaled since 1907, was reported yesterday by almost every railroad entering New York city or with terminals on the New Jersey shore across the Hudson

New Jersey shorto river.

Every road has added many extra mento its payroll, it is said, to care for flood tide of business.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Com-pany declined to state the volume of business being done over its lines, but in railroad circles it was reported that seldom in the road's history had it been equaled.

Two Cars Leave Train: Freight Keeps Moving

Special to The Telegraph

Special to The Telegraph

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 22. — That a train can lose cars and keep on moving was proved yesterday. It happened yesterday to a long freight train while passing Trevorton near this city. Two cars, loaded with steel bars and tin plate, in the middle of the train, jumped the track and rolled down an embankment into the Chesapeake and Ohio canal. When the cars left the rails the two sections of the train came together and automatically coupled, but the air would not work. This was discovered by a flagman, who signalled to the engineer, who stopped the train. The air connections were made and the train proceeded. The accident did not delay traffic on the railroad or on the canal.

RECOVERY FROM GRIP

The form of influenza popularly called grip lasts but a short time, is seldom fatal, but causes suffering and misery out of all proportion to its misery out of all proportion to its importance.

The reason is this: When the acute stage of the grip is passed there often remains a neurasthenia that persists for months if not properly corrected. The patient is moody, in poor spirits, suffers lack of appetite and vigor and feels indisposed to work or even to enloy life. Warmth and quiet alone give comfort and these not for long at a time. Sleep is restless and does not refresh the nerves, which are always at high tension.

The best way to correct this after-effect of the grip is to build up the blood, and there is no better blood builder than Dr. Williams Pink Pills. As soon as the revitalized blood courses through the system you are aware of its soothing influence. Gradually the color returns to the pale cheeks, appetite and digestion improve and you are on the road to health.

The free book, "Building Up the Blood," contains a chapter on the health.
