

DEMOCRATS IN SNARL
BEG FOR HELP

factions of the party, painted up a big banner bearing Fritchey's name alone and flung it as their defiance to the machine from the windows of the Central Democratic Club. This is said to have so angered the "big boss" that he refused to attend the club rally Wednesday night.

Try as they are able, the other candidates have not been able to get that banner down and the bosses back of Fritchey have come back at the McCormick wing of the party by giving out the order, "Put Fritchey through at any cost."

The other candidates and their friends are trying to patch up the rapidly growing feud by bringing force to bear to make the bosses come out strong next week in the county newspaper they control in favor of the whole ticket, although they know that whatever will be said in that way will be counteracted by the press. It is said that the pressure is beginning to tell and that some semblance of a campaign will be started next week. This last week of the campaign however will be in sharp contrast with the weeks of preceding argument and invective in behalf of the Democratic ticket last year.

Eby and Wells

Another jarring influence is the vigorous attacks of Eby and Wells on each other for county commissioner. Wells openly admits there is no hope of electing more than one Democratic commissioner this week and he is appealing to the voters on the strength of his past record as an independent Democrat. It being known that he has not taken orders from the bosses and that he made his own campaign for sheriff four years ago. Eby is playing on his strength in the upper end and is working through the county newspaper as a help, although he is not nearly so active in that direction as he was previous to the open attempt of Vice-Chairman Rubenstahl to throw him overboard in favor of Danner.

Secretly neither Eby nor Wells believes the Democrats will elect anybody this Fall except the one county commissioner elected by the minority party and both are playing for the place.

Stucker, Hatz and Shuler

To-day it was reported about that Paul A. Kunkel is prepared to appoint the following staff if elected district attorney: Robert Stucker and James C. Hatz, assistant district attorneys, and George W. Shuler, county detective.

At once there was dissatisfaction among the attorneys at the bar over these selections, but it is said that the agreements have been made and that nothing can shake them except the defeat of Kunkel, which is regarded as assured from reports received from over the county in recent weeks.

BIG PARADE MARKS
TOWN'S BIRTHDAY

first to ring it. Its tones, sweeping over the town served as a signal for the men stationed in the churches to be ringing the bells in the church towers.

Biggest Crowd in History

West Fairview never entertained a greater crowd than she is entertaining today. Shortly after noon the streets were well filled and by the time the parade started the principal thoroughfares were thronged. Old residents of the town has there been a parade such as that seen this afternoon. Hundreds of people were in line and the attractive uniforms of the firemen, the prettily decorated floats, the unique costumes worn by the school children and the music by the bands helped to make the affair a gala event, an event which far exceeded even the fondest hopes of the committees which arranged the big celebration.

Chief Marshal Albert J. Shaulf had his plans well laid and there was little delay in getting the big pageant under way. He was ably assisted by his aids, Ira E. Shaulf, Arthur B. Hoke and J. Harper Lantz. Following the chief marshal and his aids were the speakers at the dedicatory exercises which were held after the parade, fire company officers, members of the borough school board and Council, the building committee and contractors. Fire companies from all of the West Shore towns and the Washington Hose Company, of Harrisburg, with the Commonwealth band were next in line and then came the oldest residents of West Fairview in automobiles and the secret organizations, school children and floats. The parade was much larger than was anticipated and took quite a while to pass.

Dedicatory Exercises

When the big pageant was dismissed the new firehouse became the center of attraction and immediately the dedicatory program was opened. The Rev. J. E. B. Rice offered prayer and then the crowd sang "America." Albert J. Shaulf, chairman of the fire company's building committee presented the new structure to the officers of the company and while an American flag was being hoisted to the flagstaff, the crowd sang the "Star Spangled Banner." Former Congressman Arthur R. Rupley, spoke on "Historic West Fairview" and the Rev. A. G. Wolf talked on the history of the Good Will Fire Company. Col. H. C. Demming, president of the Harrisburg Firemen's Union was the orator of the day and the next speaker. With a few choice remarks by the Rev. S. B. Bidlack, the program was closed and the events of the afternoon were concluded.

Following the exercises, however, many people attended the bazaar in the new fire hall and enjoyed the games along the midway.

Bazaar Great Success

The bazaar was opened last evening and will continue until tomorrow night. The success of the first night was so marked that the committees in charge of the various booths had to restock their shelves for to-night and to-morrow night.

Another Walkaround To-night
Last night, too, numbers in West Fairview and surrounding towns, headed by the West Fairview band, paraded through the borough and with the aid of confetti, tin horns, cow bells and other noise contrivances, gave the big celebration an auspicious opening. The committee which arranged the parade has invited the numbers to participate in another walkaround to-night.

At 7 o'clock this evening the Enola P. R. Y. M. C. A. band will give a concert on the reviewing stand adjoining the new firehouse and between the numbers, Dr. Ruth A. Deeter, of Harrisburg, Mrs. Binz, of Philadelphia, and a number of other suffragists will speak.

Early this evening too, a committee of members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the fire company will serve supper on the lawn adjoining the fire house.

"Everybody's Parade"
To-morrow evening the big celebration will be brought to a close. The feature of the night will be "Everybody's" parade and every person in the town, including residents and visitors, are urged to participate in the walkaround. The line will be headed by the West Fairview band. There is no set route and no set plan of formation. Every person is simply asked to "fall in" and the parade will be the result.

WORMLEYSBURG'S
NEW TOWN HALL

Enough Money in Sight to Assure Building When Plot Deed Is Transferred

Wormleysburg, Pa., Oct. 22.—Question of ownership of the plot of ground used for the Wormleysburg town hall may hold up for a time final arrangements for the erection of a new building for municipal and fire purposes. Heirs of the Wormley family claim ownership of the plot, notwithstanding the fact that it has been in possession of the town and used for common purposes for nearly 100 years. They have engaged an attorney and will ask the Cumberland County Court for an injunction against the borough using the ground.

At a special meeting of the Borough Council, last night, the committee appointed to canvass the town for subscriptions to raise the additional money needed reported having secured $361.75. The Wormleysburg Fire Company and its Ladies' Auxiliary contributed $800 to the fund in addition to the money subscribed by citizens and property owners. This assures the erection of the building when the ground is assured.

tions was placed in the hands of a committee of Council, consisting of Linwood Wanbaugh, Samuel B. Weldman, John K. Neldheimer and H. R. Boose. They will complete all arrangements for the building, and will report at a meeting on Monday, November 1. Council's action will be contingent on the decision of the Court, which it is believed will be favorable to the borough.

STUDENTS PROTEST AGAINST
CLOSING OF NIGHT SCHOOLS

New York, Oct. 22.—Hundreds of students of the evening high schools gathered at the city hall to-day as a protest to the board of estimate against the threatened closing of the braid and buttons, will be seen chatting with officers of his general staff and members of his family before stepping into an automobile to be whirled to the front. General Von Hindenburg, who led the German forces on the terrific drive into Russia will be pictured with his staff. The Kaiserin, crown prince and crown princess will be portrayed intimately on Roberson's magic screen.

Plenty of Action
And action scenes will be there aplenty, but will not show the horrible side of warfare. German and Austrian troops in the trenches, infantry charging, field batteries in action, sharpshooters sniping at a far-away enemy, the rough sports and amusements of the soldiers at the front—all will be shown in Roberson's realistic pictures.

There will be pictures of war-time Berlin and other large German cities, of crowds about the war-maps and bulletin boards on the "Unter Den Linden," batteries moving through the streets, the reserves called to colors, French wounded being brought into the city for treatment and other films that tell the story of war.

Germany is one of Mr. Roberson's most powerful subjects. New York, where he is now finishing a successful engagement under auspices of the Globe, Germany has been presented time after time, and filled Carnegie Hall, the largest lyceum hall in the city, to capacity. On tour the travelogue never fails a quick response. It is with considerable satisfaction that the Telegraph announces that this timely and pertinent subject is to be the first of a remarkable series of travelogues by one of the best known traveloguers in the business.

Holds Envious Position
Mr. Roberson's record of travel gives him an enviable position in the amusement world, but when it is remembered that as a public speaker and an artist photographer his reputation is equally large, some idea of the caliber of the man whom the Telegraph is bringing to Harrisburg is gained.

And all that Mr. Roberson has in the way of amusement and instruction is to be shown at the feet of Harrisburg people at a ridiculously low admission price. Twenty-five cents will be the most it can cost anyone to attend a travelogue and ten cents will be the minimum. The plan of admission is as follows:

The Telegraph will carry on its first page commencing Wednesday and continuing each day of the travelogue engagement, a coupon which with 10 cents will be honored at the doors for general admission. Seats in the reserved section will be 25 cents, no coupons for these being required and admission included. To accommodate those who wish to secure their tickets in advance, a sale will be open at the Telegraph office commencing Monday.

No part of the speeches or the travelogue goes to the Telegraph. The newspaper has brought Mr. Roberson here purely as a matter of good will, offering its readers the chance to see and hear one of the greatest traveloguers in the world at an admission cost easily within reach of everyone.

The schedule for the travelogue has not been arranged and will be announced later along with other pertinent information.

Wickersham Defends Stroup
Frank B. Wickersham, who made one of the best speeches of the evening at Hershey, dwelt mainly upon the qualifications of Michael E. Stroup for district attorney, and defended him against the unfair and untruthful attacks that are being made against him by his opponents.

"Stroup is the man who volunteered when the law did not require him to do so, to put the loan sharks out of business in Harrisburg," he said. "At that time Democrats and Republicans were high in their praise of him. Now that he is a candidate for re-election political conditions have caused some of them to forget the good things he did. For thirty years and more the people of Dauphin county have re-elected their district attorneys when they have made good records in office. Why should Stroup be the exception?"

GEORGE E. STOCK BURIED

Special to The Telegraph

Gettysburg, Pa., Oct. 22.—Funeral services of George E. Stock, father of the Rev. Father Mark Stock, formerly of St. Patrick's church, Carlisle, were held here Wednesday morning.

Requiem high mass was sung with the Rev. Father Mark Stock as celebrant, and the Rev. Father Welsh, of Carlisle, as deacon. The mass of requiem was sung by Mrs. Jacob V. Miller of Mechanicsburg, Miss Elizabeth Herman, Hugh R. Miller and James Beeton, of Carlisle. Mrs. Miller sang "Pie Jesu" by Stradella and "He Wipes a Tear From Every Eye," Lee. The Gettysburg town council and borough officials attended in a body.

SUBMARINES ACTIVE

By Associated Press

Stockholm, Oct. 22, via London, 1.33 P. M.—The British submarine campaign against German shipping in the Baltic is being carried on actively. The sinking of four more German steamships is reported—the Hernoesand, 1,182 tons gross; the Plauen, 4,210 tons; the Rendsburg, 4,639 tons, and the Electra, 1,261 tons.

ORGANIZING TRADE BOARD

Special to The Telegraph

Dauphin, Pa., Oct. 22.—Temporary officers of the new board of trade were selected at a meeting last evening and the men of the town will be invited to be present on Thursday evening, November 11, to perfect a permanent organization. Dr. William P. Black was chosen temporary president and O. W. Deible secretary.

FINED FOR CARRYING
EXPLOSIVES ON TRAIN

In the case of the United States against B. C. Baker carrying dangerous explosives on a passenger train, against whom a true bill was found by the Federal grand jury of Martinsburg, W. Va., upon pleading guilty a fine was imposed by Federal Judge Dayton.

In October, 1914, a suitcase was found on a Cumberland Valley train arriving at Winchester, Va., which, upon examination, was found to be filled with large firecrackers and other fireworks.

CARRY STOMACH JOY
IN YOUR VEST POCKET

Here's a Dyspepsia Remedy That is Really Guaranteed by Your Own Druggist

One of the greatest successes in the sale of medicine has been achieved by M-I-o-na, the standard dyspepsia remedy, and its sale is increasing so rapidly that many druggists have had hard work to keep a stock on hand. It is very popular with bankers, ministers, lawyers and others whose business or profession keeps them closely confined, while those who have brought on indigestion through irregular eating, worry, or other causes, have found relief in this reliable remedy.

M-I-o-na comes in tablet form and is sold in a metal box especially designed for convenience in carrying the medicine in the pocket or purse. It is pleasant to take, gives quick relief and should help any case, no matter of how long a standing. This remedy has been so uniformly successful that all druggists are authorized to sell M-I-o-na under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it should not prove entirely satisfactory. We doubt if any other dyspepsia medicine ever had a large enough percentage of cures so that it could be sold in this manner. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

There is no time like the present to do a thing that ought to be done. If any in a mental or physical condition is the best time to begin curing it by going to H. C. Kennedy or any leading druggist in this vicinity and buying a box of M-I-o-na on this money back guarantee.—Advertisement.

Such easy
buckwheat cakes!

— and so inexpensive! Just a package of Aunt Jemima's Buckwheat Cake Flour, which has the milk in powdered form mixed in it.

The pure, sweet milk—already in the flour—is what gives the cakes that special deliciousness that cannot be found in any buckwheat cakes but Aunt Jemima's.

No measuring, no chance of forgetting something that must go in. Simply add cold water to Aunt Jemima's Buckwheat Cake Flour, then bake quickly on a hot griddle, and you have tender, golden brown buckwheat cakes on the table in a jiffy!

Beating the batter for a few seconds will make the cakes even fluffier.

Have them tomorrow morning, and see what your family says.
