

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS PREPARE FOR HARD GAMES---TENER'S ULTIMATUM

CENTRAL GAMES MEAN HARD WORK

No Let Up in Practice; Play Lebanon, Wilkes-Barre and Steelton; Students Busy

Central high football players were given the glad hand yesterday when they arrived at school. At a meeting held in the afternoon strong school spirit was in evidence, and the team was urged to keep going and get in the best shape for the game with Tech on Thanksgiving.

Between now and the big game Central will have many hard games. Coach Smith gave it out yesterday that there will be no let-up in practice. New formations and plays will be introduced in preparation for the important games. Central goes to Lebanon on Saturday. This game promises to be the first hard battle. Lebanon has some team this year, and must be given more than ordinary consideration.

Play Good Game

Central has been playing an excellent brand of football and has met some strong opposing teams, but it is generally felt by the coaching staff at Central that the next three games will be the real test for the Blue and Gray. With Diefenbach out of the game for the next two weeks, a new man must be fitted into the back field before the game on Saturday. Following this game comes the game with the Wilkes-Barre eleven on the island. After this game Central goes to Reading and then plays Steelton at home. Mass meetings are being held every Friday in the chapel at Central and preparations are being made for the parade on Thanksgiving Day when Tech and Central meet in the annual football classic of the city.

Greeks Win Honors in Academy Football Series

Pope Afflicted by His Inability to End War

Rome, via Paris, Oct. 26.—Pope Benedict, in an interview published in the Avvenire D'Italia, expressed his deep affliction by the tragic events ravaging Europe and his suffering at being obliged to look powerless upon such a spectacle.

But in His Father's heart which cherishes alike all his children, the Pope said he thought only of the day when the rulers of warring peoples shall understand the necessity and duty of ending the carnage which is overthrowing all human and divine laws.

The Holy Father abstained, he said, from passing judgments which have no practical result but would on the contrary cause fresh animosities and sow fresh discords. He deplored the violence and the barbarities practiced in a war wherein the conquests of science were placed at the service of murder.

In conclusion the Pope declared that his appeal for peace having been unheard, he would continue his charitable work for the benefit of the wounded.

GREENSBURG HIGH SATURDAY BILL

Tough Proposition For Tech; Clean Record For Western Team in Three Years

Greensburg High school, champion scholastic eleven of Pennsylvania, will play Tech on the Island Saturday. The Westmoreland countians were the only team to defeat the Maroon and Gray last season, the score being 38 to 0.

Greensburg has many facts on which it bases its claim for high honors. In the first place, the Brown and White school has not been scored on in three years, and has not sustained a defeat since 1911.

So far this season, the Greensburg eleven has won five straight games in Western Pennsylvania, amassing a total of 247 points, while they held their opponents scoreless. Here is a list of the teams they have defeated: Charleroi High, 41 to 0; Waynesburg High, 52 to 0; Tarentum High, 48 to 0; Connelville High, 50 to 0. Saturday they slaughtered Latrobe High to a tune of 56 to 0.

Last evening every member of the team that trimmed Steelton Saturday reported to the field with the second string men and the substitutes. One of the longest scrimmages of the season was held, and the boys were given a long work out tackling the dummy.

Coach Whitney, members of the squad, and the student body will leave no stone unturned to send Greensburg back home with their first defeat in four seasons.

Officials Pleased With Prospects of National Defense Legislation

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—Administration officials were enthusiastic to-day over prospects for the enactment of national defense legislation at the coming session of Congress.

The optimism was based upon approval by Representative Hay and Senator Chamberlain, chairman, respectively, of the House and Senate military committees, of plans for strengthening the army. Representative Hay's approval was announced following a conference with President Wilson and Senator Chamberlain already had similarly expressed himself.

Fackler Admits That He Complained to His "Friend"

John Fackler has admitted that he asked Mayor Royal to be lenient with him at the Verbeke street market. Mr. Fackler said that he had been warned twice against alleged violations of the law by Officer Heagy, but had not been arrested as had been reported. "I left as much room with my wagon as others," Fackler said, "and more than some. I left from sixteen to twenty inches space for pedestrians to go through, and when the officer said that was not enough and warned me twice, I took the matter up with the Mayor."

This was followed by the now famous letter of Chief Hutchison to Officer Heagy, telling Heagy to let Fackler alone because he was a "great friend of the Mayor."
