Almost any day you are likely to hear some such conversation as this in the petticoat section on the second floor—

"Are you sure these are Heatherbloom taffeta petticoats? They look and feel very much like silk."

"Yes, madam, these are genuine Heatherbloom petticoats. It is true they do look like silk but that is only one of the wonders of the fabric. Heatherbloom does not cut or frazzle and while it has all the lustre and sing of silk it wears much longer than silk." $1.00 to $1.95.

Municipal Celebrations Favored by New Chamber of Commerce President

Plans for the ensuing year will be outlined at the next noonday luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce by J. William Bowman, who was recently elected president. Mr. Bowman is desirous of having a conference with the board of directors and executive committee before giving out his program. That he is in favor of annual demonstrations that will bring to Harrisburg many visitors was admitted by the Chamber of Commerce head. He said:

"I am for everything that is beneficial to businessmen. I will favor anything that saves them money, and helps the businessman to make money. As to what the Chamber of Commerce will do regarding permanent celebrations I cannot say. That is up to the directors and executive committee. We must keep Harrisburg to the front. I believe it would be a good thing to follow the policy set by my predecessor, Henderson Gilbert. He was a good president and if I can keep going along according to his plans, I shall be satisfied. I intend to pursue the policy of opposing solicitors in Harrisburg. It is a great saving to businessmen."

RATS ATTACK CHILDREN

Burlington, N. J., Oct. 25. — Three children of Captain and Mrs. Frederick Goddard, in charge of Salvation Army work in Burlington, were badly bitten by rats that gnawed through the floor of their bedroom at the local barracks and attacked them while they slept. Frederick, 11 years old, was bitten about the feet and a portion of one heel was gnawed away; Gladys, 8, was bitten on the neck and fingers, and Myrtle, aged 5, on the arms.

AN ANCIENT ROMANCE

The book of Ruth is the greatest pastoral idyl in literature. It is founded on loving-kindness, the loving-kindness of the Moabitess revealed to her family, and the loving-kindness of Boaz, the wealthy Israelite, to Ruth his kinswoman. It also contains the germ of that great-heartedness which is the center of the Gospel of Christian love.

It is a book that opens with tears and famine and ends with sound of wedding bells. The story turns upon the straightforwardness of Boaz, who showed kindness and manliness to Ruth, a member of a nation that was Israel's foe, and in that kindness founded a new house, the house of Jesse and David, the royal line that beget a Greater than David. It was first the mingling of the blood of the Jew and the Gentile, symbolic of the cosmopolitan width of the Christian religion. It was the sign that that religion was not to be founded upon wealth, or upon social caste, but upon the large, wholesome love of the human heart. Boaz is immortal among Bible heroes for his kindness, his plain, every-day generosity, his sense of protection and care for the lonely, unprotected Moabitish girl, his dead kinsman's wife, who in her poverty gleaned in his harvest-field after the reapers. Boaz gave orders to his reapers that they should allow her to glean among the sheaves of barley, and by his large-heartedness gained a wife, and, more than that, made a place for himself in that immortal company who are renowned for naught but for being kind.—The Christian Herald.

UNCLE SAM'S THIRTY GARDEN PATCHES

Some thirty garden patches, more or less on this order, Uncle Sam now has undertaken to water. It keeps his hired men on the jump. To take care of 140,000 acres of Colorado, the Uncompahgre Valley project, the had to bore a tunnel 30,645 feet long 10 1/2 by 11 1/2 feet cross section, cement lined, through a mountain range. This engineering feat gives capacity for a flow of 1,300 cubic feet per second. The tract is between five thousand and six thousand feet in altitude, which seems to be good for agricultural brains, as the farmers there are progressive, being organized for mutual benefit through co-operative methods, one of which is the buying of household and farm supplies by the carload lots, with a consequent saving to the individual family.—The Christian Herald.
