

GREENSBURG ELEVEN ARRIVES FRIDAY---MOORE WINS ACADEMY TENNIS TITLE

GREENSBURG WILL BRING BIG CROWD

Players and Rooters Arrive Here Friday; Tech Plans Reception For Visitors

Greensburg high will bring fifteen players to Harrisburg. Much importance is placed in this battle with Tech by the western school.

Harrisburg Tech has a fairly good team from the reports gained from that end of the State. This will be the first real hard contest for the team and will be on a ground of a foreign team.

PREPARING FOR TIGERS

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 27.—The Harvard football team got down to hard work again yesterday afternoon. It was thought inadvisable to send any of the players who went through the Cornell game into the line-up, but the regulars, with the exception of Gilman, all were on the field in playing clothes and had a long drill on signals and new plays.

STADIUM FOR COLUMBIA

New York, Oct. 27.—Now that Columbia is firmly established in the football world and the team has gone through the season thus far without a defeat, one game being played—the students have decided to build a huge stadium for the battles in the future.

STAR BREAKS LEG

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.—William Kelley, a former Central Manual and Swarthmore Prep football player, now a student at the University of Pennsylvania, was injured during a scrimmage yesterday afternoon on the Swarthmore gridiron.

MACK LANDS READING STAR

Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Catcher Murphy, of the Binghamton State League team, yesterday signed a contract with the Philadelphia Americans. Connie Mack came here to get Murphy's signature after other efforts failed.

PICKS SOFT SPOT FOR HIS DEFEAT

Jack White of Chicago, Hands Decision to George Cheney; Fight Is Fizzle

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 27.—The fight before the American Athletic Association last night between Jack White, of Chicago, and George Cheney, of Baltimore, proved a fizzle, to the disgust of the large crowd who had been led to believe they were about to see a rattling bout.

White did not know he was licked before he went into the ring, he was not long in finding out. Soon after the boys had begun mixing in the first round White went down and stayed there for a count of nine. He got up because the referee refused to count the last number, but soon afterward went down again and stayed there for the full count.

Picks Soft Spot

The fight was scheduled for a fifteen-round bout, but it lasted just two minutes and 45 seconds. It was evident soon after the boys began sparring that Cheney was the Chicagoan's master, but nobody expected so abrupt a termination of the fight. It was a swift wallop to the pit of the stomach that caused White to decide he had enough. There was a difference of opinion among those present whether the punch was hard enough to put White out.

However, instead of dropping, he seemed to pick out a soft spot on the canvas to fall down and let himself down easily, looking up appealingly into the face of the referee as he tolled off the nine. Ulman waited, and White slowly rose to his feet, and went down after another wallop. This time it was evident that he intended to stay, and Ulman gave him the full count.

Sports of All Sorts

Ban Johnson will punish all players who get into barnstorming trips without his sanction. The International League political pot is boiling. It is said Edward G. Barrow will have opposition for reelection as president.

The Harrisburg Juniors won out over the St. Matthew's team yesterday, score 28 to 12. Hunters are being notified that rabbits cannot be sold in Pennsylvania.

RITCHEE REFUSES WEIGHT

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 27.—Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion boxer, who recently signed an agreement to meet Charlie White, of Chicago, at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock on the day of the bout, now refuses to make the weight, according to notice given the State Athletic Commission by the promoters. Ritchie, it is said, prefers to box at catchweights, which is not satisfactory to White. The bout was to be held here some time in November.

WHEN WILL THESE TWO GIANTS MEET?

FRANK MORAN and JESS WILLARD

The logical white hope candidate for championship honors is Frank Moran of Pittsburgh. He is very anxious to get Jess Willard, a much larger man, into the ring; for any really popular heavyweight champion ought to be able to make $500,000 before he is knocked out.

are likely to figure prominently in any action in which these men may ever engage.

Will Be Mounted. Marching, maneuvering and drill ground work will be incidental to this target practice. Eventually the correspondents' squad will be mounted, for it is intended as a cavalry organization.

The government has never attempted, but one other experiment in the rapid conversion of civilians into military men that in any way compares with that here being worked out. Last summer, it issued permission to the commanders of the different military divisions of the nation to co-operate with civilians in encampments inaugurated for the purpose of giving, in a short time, a complete installment of military training.

These encampments were made up mostly of business and professional men. In the three camps there were practically 2,000 men who took the work. Each paid his own expenses and here the grueling work without a murmur. This course was four weeks long. One question that it is hoped to settle by the present experiment is whether a man will get more benefit by giving all his time for a short period or part of it for a long time.

Whoever makes himself a part of the soldiering game for Uncle Sam is sure to come in for a lot of hard work. The day of the "bookies" at the different encampments for the first time was about as follows: Twenty minutes for setting up exercises before breakfast; an hour after breakfast for policing quarters, and three hours of drill before dinner. An hour of rest followed dinner, and the lessons in advanced cavalry, infantry, artillery, signal work, map-making and sanitation were given. Retreat and review came at 4:30, and then supper. The daily lecture by regular army experts came after supper.

The lectures were an important feature of the camp. Of particular importance to any man were the talks on camp sanitation and personal hygiene—the rules of life for keeping the body in good condition. The majority of the subjects were, however, more strictly military.

At the outset, the drilling was with no greater load than rifle and belt. It was gradually increased, however, until these recruits were carrying the full regulation pack on their backs, including half a shelter tent with pins and pole, one blanket, a mess kit, extra clothing, toilet articles, bayonet and trenching tools. This pack weighs about thirty pounds but that weight was developed by degrees. It is likely that the recruit would live comfortably in the open, and under conditions such as he would need to face in war time. This nine days in the open, wading streams, floundering through swamps, enduring rains, sleeping in blankets, eating about a camp fire, simulating war conditions, digging trenches, executing various maneuvers, was intended to give a man the experience that would make him forever at home in the open.

The department believes that the men turned out from these camps would be vastly valuable to it should the great emergency come. It is likely that greater numbers of encampments will be held next summer. If the present experiment of the correspondents' platoon is successful it may be possible to arrange for considerable numbers of men in different parts of the country to take such training through the winter season. Thus, with the camps for the summer season, military training might be carried on enough men to make up a corps of considerable strength.

The widespread public interest in national defense is well attested by the fact that this training of citizen soldiers has been carried on at the expense of the recruits, for there is not a cent in the treasury that is available for such work.

Whenever an American spends both his time and money on a project, you may be sure he is in earnest. Undoubtedly, there are thousands upon thousands of other Americans equally as willing to study warfare, but who cannot afford to pay their way.

There is a chance that the next Congress may appropriate money for this work. If such provision is made it will be the beginning of the strongest kind of army for the United States—a volunteer army of citizens who with sensible patriotism have become trained in the routine of war, and who stand ready to answer the call of their country if it should ever need them. Their willingness to serve, and their fitness to do so if necessary, would undoubtedly be the best guarantee of their never being needed.

EAGLES WIN VICTORY

In the P. R. Y. M. C. A. series, the Eagles last night bowled a victory over the Cardinals, scores 2450 to 2304. Lightner had a high total of 539.

BAN JOHNSON IS SOUR ON GILMORE ACADEMY TITLE GOES TO MOORE

Does Not Care What Federal League President May Say; Refuses Interview

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 27.—President Ban Johnson, of the American League, said yesterday that nothing that President Gilmore of the Feds, could say about him would ever bother him in the slightest. Johnson was asked to comment on Gilmore's latest tirade against the American League president which followed an interview, in which Ban Johnson is quoted as saying that Federal League losses and worries caused the death of Robert B. Ward.

"There is no reason why I should notice the statements of Gilmore," said Ban, "but there are one or two things which need to be cleared up. Apparently Gilmore has a grudge against me for refusing to meet him. I have reasons for this, the most important being that I do not consider him trustworthy. We met once and that cured me."

"At the time the Federal League was being organized Gilmore's brother Charles, who is a friend of mine, came to me and asked if I would not meet him. I said that I had no interest in the affairs of the Federal League, and if his brother wanted to organize a league he was at liberty to do so, so far as I was concerned. He insisted, however, and finally I agreed to meet him at the Automobile Club, which I did. We talked for about an hour, and James Gilmore asked me to get President Tener and Garry Herrmann into a conference."

"It was understood at the time that our meeting and what we talked about should be confidential, at least that was Gilmore's wish. Some time after he made our meeting public property, apparently with the intention of putting me in a bad light. I decided then that I would not have anything more to do with him."
