STATE INSURANCE PLAN ANNOUNCED

Every Employer in the State Has Been Listed to Get the State Prospectus

Application blanks for accident liability insurance in the State Workmen's Insurance Fund have been prepared by the State Insurance Board and will be sent to every employer in Pennsylvania affected by the workmen's compensation act. Pennsylvania employers may take the first step in preparing to meet the requirements of the workmen's compensation act by answering the questions on the application form for insurance in the State fund and by forwarding it to the State Workmen's Insurance Board at Harrisburg. An employer making application for insurance in the State fund does not bind himself to accept State insurance policy. By answering fully and completely the questions on the blank form an employer will receive full information from the insurance board regarding the cost of insurance for the particular classification of business in which each employer is engaged. With this information at hand employers may compare the insurance rates quoted them with the cost of other insurance. Payment of the insurance premium must be made before any insurance policy in the State Insurance Fund becomes effective.

The napha, combined with other harmless cleansers in is what does the hard part of your washing. White clothes soaked for 30 minutes with Fels-Napha come out perfectly clean and white without hard rubbing. Colored clothes do not fade, nor will the colors run; and the wash can be done in half the usual time. Not only for washing clothes—just as wonderful for all household cleaning.

Gannett's Plans Accepted For Erie Flood Prevention

Erie is preparing to avoid another calamity such as visited the city by the lake a few months ago in the flooding of the central business section. The Erie Dispatch says of the acceptance of a Harrisburg's recommendations: "Plans suggested by Farley Gannett, engineer, will be used to make Mill creek safe. This announcement was made last night by William J. Stern, mayor, after three conferences yesterday between city officials and Mr. Gannett in the Lawrence Hotel. "Mr. Gannett, at a public meeting tonight in the Courthouse, will explain in detail both plans submitted by him. To-morrow he will confer with Herbert Snow, engineer of the Public Service Commission, in Harrisburg. Mr. Snow will make a report to city council by the latter part of the week, it is believed. "Mr. Gannett's first plan is based on a concrete channel, part closed and part open, and a dry reservoir upstream to catch and hold temporarily extraordinary floods. This plan resembles that used at Watervliet, N. Y., Dayton, Ohio, and at numerous points abroad. His second plan involves the construction of a channel partly closed and partly open, as in plan No. 1, large enough to carry the greatest flood.

PIG COMPANIONS TO OVERCOME LAW

Swine in Crates; Students as Hostlers; Dartmouth's Livestock Special

Special to The Telegraph. Hanover, N. H., October 27.—Dartmouth students will not accept the ban on traveling in stock cars to a football game, announced by the Interstate Commissioners. They have found a way to beat the law, and transport students to Amherst on Saturday as "livestock" at 50 cents per head. They will have pigs as companions. In each car will be one pig carefully crated. The students will be billed as "hostlers." This arrangement, it is said, will prevent any interference from the commissioners, and permit many Dartmouth rosters to see the game at a small cost. As far as can be learned, the number of caretakers for each animal is not limited, and it is now believed that more than 600 will go from here to Northampton for the game, although the proposed excursion to Smith College at Northampton will doubtless have to be called off after the boys have traveled nearly 100 miles with pigs as companions. The special will leave Friday night.

ACCUSED OF INSULT TO FLAG

Special to The Telegraph. Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 27.—Characterizing the act as un-American and liable to inspire others to riot and bloodshed, Alderman M. J. PROTESTS NOT SUFFICIENT

By Associated Press. Paris, Oct. 27.—Protests against the execution of Miss Edith Cavell by the British nurse in Belgium, recorded by the city council and other Parisian bodies are not, in the opinion of the local newspapers a sufficient tribute. A movement has been set on foot to perpetuate her memory in a more durable way by giving her name to one of the streets of Paris, which now bear names of German towns.

Bliss Says Weather Bureau Is Uncle Sam's Best Investment

An interesting lecture was given last evening by George C. Bliss, of the United States Weather Bureau. He showed how this branch of the government is saving for the shipping interests many times the cost of the service in furnishing in advance reports of the location and movement of storm areas. Benjamin Franklin was the first man to suspect the circular movement of temperate storms, but until the government weather bureau of observing and reporting weather conditions in various parts of the country, no accurate information could be secured.

Flares by day and light signals by night now warn vessels leaving and arriving at ports along our sea and lake coast, thereby saving millions of dollars in property and many lives. The station at Philadelphia alone saves the shippers receiving special reports from there from four to six million dollars in one year. This is more than the entire bureau costs the government in several years.

Excellent lantern slides were shown, giving the path of storm areas and their accompanying weather effects. Severed telegraph wires were shown which have been responsible for the destruction of life and property along the gulf coast. Such storms assume increased intensity in their passage northward and stay here for many days. The tornado which caused the destruction at Hanover in August was a minor movement associated with an escaped tropical cyclone.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment, and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.—Adv.
