IRREGULARITY IN EARLY DEALINGS

New York, Oct. 27. — Prices showed greater irregularity in to-day's early dealings, with more losses than gains. United States Steel was the center of interest, opening with an offering of 10,000 shares at 85⅛ to 85⅛, against yesterday's final price of 85¾. Maxwell Motor issues scored further declines, as did other specialties, and some of the rails were fractionally lower. As a partial offset, however, Pressed Steel Car rose three to 76 and Studebaker issues were higher, the preferred rising five to the new record of 118⅛. Secondary prices were mostly higher.

DR. BRUMBAUGH ON BROWN DECISION

Backs Attorney General and Says Faith Will Be Kept With Children

Governor Brumbaugh late this afternoon made the following comment upon the decision of Attorney General Brown that employment certificates now in the hands of minors shall be good until they reach the age of sixteen. The Governor backs up the attorney general with these words:

"The fear expressed in some quarters that children now legally employed in our Pennsylvania industries, but who do not possess all the standards of fitness fixed by the law that becomes operative January 1, 1916, will be required to return to school to complete the sixth grade, has happily been dispelled by the wise decision of the Attorney General.

"The State has a contract with these children which it never intended to nullify. We shall keep faith with these children and we believe the employers will also keep faith and retain them in the industries of the Commonwealth. We shall not compel them to return to school and the employers, if wise, will not return them to the streets. They will, of course, work only 51 hours per week after January 1, 1916, and attend the continuation school for eight hours per week. To this humane and important decision no one in interest can justly object.

"These children are the wards of the Commonwealth, and it will not willingly allow any harm or distress to come to them."
