Farmer Finds Wife Hanging From Rafter

Returning for dinner at noon today Joseph B. Zimmerman, tenant of the Stoner farm, one mile southeast of Highspire found his wife dead in the granary of the barn, hanging from a rafter.

No reason is known why the woman ended her life. Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman were married about a year ago, moving to the Stoner farm in April. Mrs. Zimmerman was Miss Myrtle Shope, a daughter of Henry Shope, who lives on a farm a short distance away.

When the men returned from the fields at noon, they discovered that no dinner had been prepared, but did not find Mrs. Zimmerman until they took the horses to the stable. It is believed that she had only been dead a short time. Coroner Eckinger was notified and investigated the case this afternoon.

PROGRESSIVENESS, KEYNOTE SOUNDED IN WEST FAIRVIEW

Civic Improvement Organizations Will Be Outgrowth of Celebration

PLANS ARE UNDER WAY

Banquet Given by Women in Honor of Fire Company Officers, An Enjoyable Affair

West Fairview, Pa., Oct. 29.—West Fairview women who helped make the recent centennial celebration such a grand success last evening celebrated by entertaining the officers of the Good Will Fire Company, No. 1, and a few invited guests at a banquet in the hall of the new firehouse.

The gathering sounded the keynote for continued progressiveness in the borough and those in attendance formed a nucleus for the civic organizations which will be established for the town's betterment and for the civic improvement of the entire west shore of the Susquehanna river. The first direct result of the dinner last evening will be the organizing of a ladies' auxiliary to the fire company next Tuesday evening. The purpose of this organization will be not only to assist the members of the fire company in their undertakings, but the women will discuss things of general interest to the borough itself and will assist in the carrying out of plans for the town's improvement. Wounded Soldiers in Church Where Services Are Held For Miss Cavell

London, Oct. 29, 11:30 A. M.—A service at St. Paul's Cathedral to-day in memory of Miss Edith Cavell, the British nurse who was executed in Brussels was attended by a throng which recalled the funeral of Lord Roberts at the cathedral almost a year ago.

Before 8 o'clock a great crowd stood shivering in the first cool fog of the season awaiting the opening of the doors. Shortly after ten o'clock signs bearing the words "church full" were hung at all the doors except the one reserved for ticket holders.

Conspicuous among the crowd which waited patiently in the gloomy fog until the doors were opened was a large number of wounded soldiers attended by Red Cross nurses. The somber clothing of the congregation which packed the great edifice was relieved here and there by spots of color of the uniforms of soldiers and sailors when military and naval dignitaries took their places. The only other seats reserved were for the lord mayor, the diplomatic corps of the entente allies and 600 of Miss Cavell's fellow workers.

The service was begun with the "Dead March" played on the organ. Then came "Abide With Me" by the First Life Guards Band. Except for the Lord's Prayer and the reading of one lesson, the service was entirely musical, no sermon being delivered.

Villa May Be Forced to Cross American Border

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 29.—Preparations were completed to-day for the third battle at Agua Prieta, Sonora, between various factions, since Madero opened the war in Mexico five years ago.

Five thousand American troops with sixteen 3-inch guns, are here to see that Villa's army does not cross the main line of the boundary. Carranza troops lie behind an elaborate system of earthworks awaiting the approach of the Villa army.

Fighting may begin to-day, or may be delayed until some time next week. That is dependent upon the plans, disposition and condition of Villa's troops, but the outcome probably will determine whether Sonora shall come under sway of Villa or whether he will be driven as a fugitive across the American border.

Whether Villa is in Sonora, leading in person the army of invasion, was not definitely known here, but his fate was generally believed to hinge on the imminent battle.

Ministers Want Change in Government Delayed

Penking, Oct. 29.—The Russian minister, M. Krupenski, the British minister, Sir John Newell Jordan and Charge Ogata, of the Japanese legation, consulted Foreign Minister Lu Cheng-sung yesterday at the foreign office concerning the possible results of China's change to a monarchical form of government. Charge Obata inquired whether President Yuan Shi Kai was confident that he could re-establish the monarchy without unaltered results affecting the general peace in the Far East. He made a friendly suggestion on delayed disturbances in Shanghai and along the Yang-tze valley in South China indicated opposition to the movement. He disclaimed any desire on the part of Japan to interfere with Chinese internal affairs, but urged that with Europe's welfare as well as that of the entire world was dependent upon the prevention of further international disturbances.

GETTING READY FOR HALLOWE'EN

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES DROP MASKS

Royal, Gross, Copelin and Gross Openly Line Up With the Machine Bosses

The flimsy mask of Nonpartisanism behind which Mayor Royal, W. L. Grogas and Owen M. Copelin, nominees for council, have been hiding was pulled rudely aside this morning and they were shown up for what they are—candidates of the local Democratic machine—when they thoughtlessly permitted themselves to be included in the "official advertising" of the Democratic campaign committee. In almost a full page of newspaper advertising these candidates, who have been posing as identified with no party, are lined up side by side with the other Democratic candidates and

REPUBLICANS ARE WELL SATISFIED, WICKERSHAM SAYS

Party Methods to Which Many Objected No Longer Exist, Recorder Declares

THREE ROUSING RALLIES

Progress, Steelton and Oberlin Voters Out; Congressman Kreider Speaks

High Points in Big Steelton Rally

Oscar G. Wickersham says all who were dissatisfied with Republican methods of a few years back are now in hearty accord with party management. Congressman Kreider urges big Republican majority this year in preparation for presidential campaign.

Mark Mumma pays tribute to John E. Shupp, his opponent at primaries, and says he will support him for office if he comes out again.

Frank B. Wickersham also complimented John E. Shupp on game fight he has made. Steelton workers turn out at large meeting to pledge support to whole ticket; big majority in sight there for Republicans.

Before a crowded hall at Steelton last evening Oscar G. Wickersham, county recorder, who was elected on a fusion ticket four years ago, said that while Republicans in large numbers had been dissatisfied with the party management and party methods of a few years back, there is now perfect harmony in the Republican party in Dauphin county. All of the evils have been corrected, he said, and the party is lined up as a whole behind a clean ticket as was ever put in the field and in preparation for the presidential fight next year.

This is in exact accord with what the candidates have found in their canvass of the whole county. Progressives, Keystones and all other independent factions are lined up with the Republicans. Frank B. Wickersham presided last evening and in addition to calling on the county candidates also introduced the Republicans who are running on the borough ticket. A pleasing feature of the evening was the kindly manner in which Mark Mumma, candidate for county treasurer, and Mr. Wickersham both referred to John E. Shupp, who was Mr. Mumma's opponent at the primaries. Both said he had made a clean fight and if he came out for office at a future date could count on them for support.

Congressman Kreider made one of the telling speeches of the evening. He denounced in scathing terms the spineless conduct of the Democratic administration at Washington, going at length into the "watchful waiting" policy in Mexico that cost some 200 American lives and said that if the Mexican situation had not been bungled from the very outset the German government never would have presumed to commit the Lusitania and other outrages of recent months. He showed how the Democrats had expended more than $200,000,000 above the largest sum ever expended by a Republican Congress and that if they had not thrown money away in this extravagant manner the country would not need to be paying a stamp tax to make up the deficiency. Mr. Kreider asked the Republicans present to elect the county ticket this year as paying the way for a sweeping Republican victory next year and the return to power of experienced, constructive statesmen not to be swayed by the theory and capable of conducting the affairs of the nation in a manner to win the respect of all the world.

All of the candidates except William Houser, candidate for register, spoke. Mr. Houser was detained at the bedside of an invalid wife.

The Republican candidates also spoke at Progress and Oberlin. Congressman Kreider made the principal address at Oberlin, where the rally was held in the engine house. Prospective party workers reported, were bright for sweeping Republican victories in those districts.

DISCUSS STATE ST. SUBWAY PLAN ON NOVEMBER 16

Board of Public Grounds and Buildings May Consider Park Scheme

MANNING IS COMING

Walnut Street Bridge Viaduct Situation Explained by Herman

Proposed plans for the treatment of the Capitol Park Extension which include the widening of Walnut and North streets to 100 feet and the construction of a 100-foot subway at State street may be considered, it is understood, at the meeting of the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings, November 16.

Warren H. Manning, city park expert, will be in Harrisburg for a few days during the middle of the month on business with the Planning Commission and it is said that he will be invited to confer with the State authorities on the suggestions for developing the park east of Fourth street.

The relation of the city to the State in the proposed treatment scheme is considered a mighty vital one and it is for this reason that Park Expert Manning may be invited for the conference.

The State authorities, it is said, do not feel favorably toward the Walnut street bridge project because of the fact that the structure would stretch into the city at a point in the park zone which would work a detriment to the practical and probable development of the park scheme. The presence of the wall-like viaduct at this point is not thought of very favorably by the State officials, it is said.
