

You Should Hear "The Rosary" Played On the Angelus

THIS famous composition by Nevin reveals new beauties when played on the Angelus. The Melodant, an exclusive Angelus device, brings out the appealing melody that runs through "The Rosary," while the Phrasing Lever, also found only in the Angelus, gives to the tempo all the phrasing and natural pauses characteristic to hand playing.

The Angelus is at its best in playing compositions where delicate effects are necessary; it is equally satisfying in playing lighter selections—and you can play it perfectly. We invite you to

AMUSEMENTS MAY ROBSON SEEN IN TWO PLAYS

A Revival of "Aunt Mary" and a Comedy Playlet, "John Henry" Well Presented

The revival of any show is always interesting to anyone who is a lover of the drama or comedy. For a revival means that the show being again produced is one that has found favor with the theatergoing public in the past. And almost invariably one can look without disappointment for a cast that will do every justice to the play that is revived. Just so with the "Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," the starring vehicle of May Robson several years ago, again produced by her for this season as a revival.

The comedy playlet that preceded "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary" is a twenty-minute sketch based on one of the character sketches of Mary Jordan. "John Henry" is a charming little playlet, clever in its conception and most humorous in its presentation.

The most popular of all American plays and the oldest in years "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is the play announced for the Orpheum this afternoon and tonight. Many of the greatest actors and actresses of the last fifty years have appeared at some time or other in this play, among whom were Willson Leach, J. H. Stoddard, "Lotta," Emily Rigi, W. J. Le Moyne, George W. J. Fox, and J. K. Hackett, father of James K. Hackett, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was produced in England for the first time at the Manchester Theater on February 1, 1852. On January 18, 1853, it was produced in New York at the Astor Place Theater.

In the course of events of importance during the season at the Orpheum, it is well to note that on Wednesday night and night one of America's most hits, perhaps the greatest and most entertaining of its class—"The Newlyweds and Their Baby" will be seen here in direct competition with the same superior cast and conditions, the same superior cast and conditions, as presented the piece during the season at the Orpheum in New York. The cast, an admirable one in its entirety, includes Little Harold Hunt, American beauty, size comedian, Countess Olga M. Hatzfeldt, original Mrs. Newlwyed, and a big singing and dancing chorus.—Adv.

"Laughter," says May Irwin, who will be seen here in "The Newlyweds and Their Baby" at the Orpheum next Friday evening, is best caused by the object of your attack, and taking him completely by surprise. The biggest laugh, the most sure and the most plentiful, is in any of my plays when I announce in any of my plays that I am going to be married. My brother, ran away from home when he was two years old. It is a typical American absurdity which would hardly be printed in London Punch, which gets one of our audiences with a rush.—Adv.

"THE LAW OF THE LAND." With a notable cast of theatrical favorites headed by Lelaide French, "The Law of the Land" comes to the Orpheum Saturday matinee and night, November 6 and 7. The play, which enjoys the enviable distinction of having been the drama which had the longest run in New York, during the theatrical year of 1914-15, was written by George Broadhurst.—Adv.

AT THE MAJESTIC The biggest party of this Halloween season is the one Harrisburg is enjoying at the Majestic Theater. The play, out in its Halloween dress, the Majestic never looked prettier. Then the vaudeville offering is also in keeping with the occasion. Ben Rolfe's delightful musical playlet called "Ye Olde Time Halloween" is a most interesting and finest headliner that Keith vaudeville has sent to the Walnut street playhouse this season. The charming character of "He's Gone Out," featuring Dave Hall and company. Tony Hunting and Corine Frances, the bright couple in comedy and songs. Stevens and Paik, comedy song artists, and Maide DeLong, the clever singer, comedienne round out the entertaining bill. For Saturday afternoon the Majestic management is arranging a Halloween party for Young Harrisburg to be held on the theater stage immediately after the matinee. All the children in the audience will be invited to appear on the stage to meet the winners of the bill and at the same time receive an ice cream treat.—Adv.

"THE TURN OF THE ROAD" AT THE COLONIAL The recently released dramatic gem entitled "The Turn of the Road" is the big feature of the picture entertainment that the Colonial offers its patrons to-day and to-morrow. The picture, which, by the way, is a Blue Ribbon Vitaphone attraction, features Virginia Parson and Joseph Kilgore in the leading roles, with a splendid supporting cast of Vitaphone stars. Exquisite scenery, splendid playing and a beautiful story combine to make "The Turn of the Road" an artistic triumph that every moving picture admirer should see.—Adv.

GERALDINE FARRAR IN "CARMEN" This Evening, To-morrow, Monday and Tuesday at the Regent. The biggest event of the season in the motion picture line will take place at the Regent Theater this evening, to-morrow, Monday and Tuesday, when Geraldine Farrar, the famous prima donna will appear in the much-heralded "Carmen." The management has gone to considerable expense in securing this film at this time when it has just been released for exhibition in this State, and those who will witness it can rest assured that the production as a whole is probably the best that has ever been offered in this city. Miss Farrar, in speaking of the production of the piece said: "After attending scores of motion picture entertainments in New York and other American cities I saw and understood what the hard work and medium of dramatic expression was pointed. The Paramount pictures interested me because of the truly high principles that prompted the exhibitors and producers. So, where thousands have seen and heard me in grand opera and concert, where hundreds of thousands have heard only my voice through the talking machines, I will now be my audience in motion pictures."

No woman in America is better known than Miss Farrar. From a modest beginning her artistic ascent has been sure, substantial and rapid. She has maintained for years the topmost mark in her profession which demands the best at all times. "Carmen" presents photo-dramatic possibilities such as held by few operas. Thrilling action, magnificent landscapes, beautiful portraits, and well constructed drama mark this extraordinary production of the Lasky Company in the case supporting Miss Farrar are Wallace Reid and Anita King, the Paramount girl. Appropriate music for "Carmen" will be played by Prof. Wallace, the blind organist and Miss Merchant.—Adv.

Pretty, Wavy, Curling Hair Without Hot Iron

Let me tell you of a simple method which is a favorite of the belles of a certain exclusive social set. I'm sure you would like to know of it, because it will give your hair such a pretty curliness and lustre and permit you to do away with the rutilous waving iron forever.

Just get from any druggist a few ounces of ordinary liquid silverine, and at night apply a little with a clean toothbrush, drawing this down the full length of the hair. In the morning you will have a real surprise, the fascinating, fluffy wavy effect will appear so natural, and there will be no greasy, gummy streaky or other unpleasant trace of this harmless liquid. You will also find this a splendid dressing for the hair.—Mona Morrow in the Clubwoman.—Advertisement.

FARMER GETTING GOOD PRICES NOW

Not Much Grain Is Left in the State, but Acreage Planted Appears to Be Big

Pennsylvania farmers are going to have little trouble disposing of their wheat this Fall and winter, according to reports which are reaching the State Department of Agriculture, and if all that is heard is to be believed some of them sold soon after threshing. A farmer with a good wheat crop was assured of money in the bank very speedily.

To begin with, the prices last Spring and summer were so attractive that many farmers sold all that they could spare and at the end of summer less than 3 per cent. of the crop remained in the hands of the producers, and a good many were buying at higher prices than they had paid for years for seeding. The demand for wheat kept up all year and this Fall indications were for extensive planting.

The crop for this year will run nearly a million bushels more than for 1914 and the coveted figure of 25,000,000 bushels, which grain statisticians have been watching for Pennsylvania to attain, may be reached.

NEW EQUIPMENT ORDER FROM P.R.R.

Includes Rails and Freight Locomotives; Baldwin Company Gets Big Slice

Philadelphia, October 29.—One of the largest orders for steel rails ever given by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company was announced yesterday, when five of the big steel companies of the United States were called upon to deliver for the 1916 requirements of the company 175,000 tons of the rails. Figuring the market price at around $31 a ton, the total outlay for the rails will be about $5,500,000. The immense order has been divided between the United States Steel Corporation and the Cambria, Pennsylvania, Bethlehem and Lackawanna Steel Companies. For the present year 167,500 tons of rails were purchased. It was also announced yesterday that the railroad company had placed an order for 75 freight locomotives with the Baldwin Company, the cost of these to be about $2,000,000. The rails are for the entire Pennsylvania system, while the locomotives are for use on the lines east of Pittsburgh. An indication of the tremendous increase in the freight business of the Pennsylvania Railroad is seen in the order for the 75 locomotives given to the Baldwin Company. These are also for the 1916 equipment. The locomotives are to be of the L. I. S. type and are to be delivered as quickly as possible. They will cost between $25,000 and $30,000 each. This is a big order, in view of the fact that for the present year the company has been building for its lines east and west 124 locomotives, also 14,000 freight cars. It has been turning out the locomotives at its own shops, the last order, for 94, to be used on the lines east of Pittsburgh, having been placed on August 6. Besides the locomotives and freight cars, the company has this year placed orders for 189 all-steel passenger cars.
