OF ALL NATIONS

More Than 100 Guests Dance

at Colonial Club Hallowe'en

Bal Masque

Nearly everybody at the Colonial ountry Club last evening was an Indian prince, a Yama-Yama man, a clown, a Yama-Yama girl, Uncle Sam, a Belgian maid, an officer of Washington or Cornwallis, or Lafavette, or

Napoleon or Kaiser Wilhelm, a veiled lady from the inner courts of distant eastern palaces, a nurse, a cap-and gowned student, a policeman, or a black-faced minstrel or something else behind a mask. True, a few were there in evening black and white. More than a hundred guests crowded the clubhouse. The occasion was the annual Hallowe'en dance of the club. Pumpkin lanterns and staring owls, gruesome witches and goblins figured with autumn flowers and leaves and shocks of corn in the decorative scheme and the dance floor never looked so pretty. Hidden behind a lot of cornstalks was a barrel of cider. The supper was a real Halowe'en supper, too, pumpkin ple and crullers and things like that figured largely in the dessert courses.

Updegrove's orchestra furnished the music and a program of dances that kept the guests toe-tapping until after midnight finished the biggest Hallowe'en party of the kind that has ever been held at the Colonial.

ELKS TO START SERIES

Plans have been completed by the entertainment committee of the Elks lodge for the opening dance of the winter series, to be held this evening at the Elks home. Many guests from out of town are expected to attend.

SHEARER-THOMPSON

Miss Mary E. Thompson, of Chambersburg, Pa., and David M. Shearer, of Cloverly Heights, were married on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Derry Street United Brethren parsonage by the Rev. J. A. Lyter. They will reside at Cloverly Heights.

Perfect—Every Time

No fussing over ingredients, no fear that the cakes may turn out a trifle sour or heavy.

Aunt Jemima's Buckwheat Cakes are just right every time, because all the things that made the old-fashioned cakes so good are carefully chosen and mixed ready for you to cook.

The milk, in powdered form ready mixed with the flour, is what gives that rich, full flavor, and makes the cakes brown so nicely.

Before breakfast, just add cold water, beat up the batter to make the cakes light and fluffy, bake, and they're ready.

The tenderness of Aunt Jemima's Buckwheat Cakes, their delicious taste, will amaze you-and they are so quick and easy to make! Surprise your family with Aunt Jemima's Buckwheat Cakes for breakfast tomorrow.

Annual Hallowe'en Frolic Is Held by Children

Students in the Webster building held their annual Hallowe'en frolic this afternoon. The rooms were decorated with autumn leaves, cornstalks, and jack-o'-lanterns. Old-time songs were sung and there were special programs appropriate to the occasion.

The big feature of the observance was the pageant. The pupils, attired in quaint costumes, formed in line, and, keeping step with a brilliant march played by Miss Lillian Bernheisel, marched through the halls and every room in the building. Pupils of the principal, Miss Ryan, had an interesting discussion on "Votes for Women." Many parents were present.

Mrs. Carl Ely and daughters, Jane, Elizabeth and Gertrude Ely, 307 North Front street, have returned from New Haven, Conn.

Miss Shoeman Entertains

Through the courtesy and generosity of Frank Bass, the local representative of the Stieff pilano firm, there was in a ugurated last night in the "grand room" of the Stieff building a series of fortnightly arists, recting the strainty of the public which promises to be a most stimulating factor in the city's musical life.

The opportunity it gives of thus presenting representative local musicians to the general public cannot use taken through dark cellars, where witches and hologollins greeted them. Numerous Hallowe'en games given by Newell Abright, under whose direction the recitals are to be conducted, and who conspicuously heads the list of artists of the Stieff Concert Bureau. His program consisted of request numbers, opening with the Baser two seasons ago in New York; two exquisite old French claveling pieces; two Debussy and three Cyrill Scott numbers, played by Mr. Albright in his last recital; then the splendidly piked Moskowski "Gondollera" and Schubert-Liszt 'Hark' Hark the Lark' and the "Campanella."

Mr. Albright's playing is too well known to demand extended comment. There were revelations of an extended highly developed color sense, a finese of highly developed color sense,
