

HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH
Established 1837
PUBLISHED BY THE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO.
E. J. STACKPOLE
President and Editor-in-Chief
F. R. OYSTER
Secretary
GUS M. STEINMETZ
Managing Editor
Published every evening (except Sunday) at the Telegraph Building, 216 Federal Square. Both phones.

the score that it would mean the building of a long approach on Walnut street and that the placing of a large open subway at State street and the correction of the subway at Market street along the lines suggested by the City Planning Commission will obviate the necessity for the viaduct now being urged by the Allison Hill Association.

the shoulders of each and every able-bodied individual who has anything in his mind except a selfish desire for his own personal advancement.

The incompatibility of democracy with militarism is a matter for the theorists to mull over, but it does not enter into Secretary Garrison's plan.

Mr. Manning has made a close study of the zone covered by the territory east of the Capitol and his conclusions doubtless will have much to do with the city's treatment of that section in harmony with the development of the State's program.

Mr. Robertson is clearly a neutral and a friend of peace. His travels are a fine argument in favor of the stopping of bloodshed and a return to the ways of civilization.

The indications are that the Republicans will sweep the State in county elections and elect most of their candidates in the cities and larger boroughs.

West Fairview is in step with the city and the surrounding towns. It believes in helping itself, and it believes in the attractive town across the river are touching elbows with the progressive spirits of Harrisburg.

How Paterson, N. J., must rejoice that German bomb plot was discovered elsewhere.

The prospects for the Republican county ticket in Northumberland county are as good as in Dauphin and other counties in this region.

Democratic Assurances
WE quote from the Patriot of Thursday of the present week:

It is noticeable that Bryan does not carry his peace ideas into politics.

—The prospects for the Republican county ticket in Northumberland county are as good as in Dauphin and other counties in this region.

The management of the poor board stands as an instance. Never before has such efficiency marked that body. With this record, the people may well be proud, but they may be genuinely hopeful that with the commission and other gang-controlled offices in the hands of the people, equally fine records can be made.

—The Kaiser must be awful jealous of the Turks; they have overtopped his record in Belgium about ten to one.

—The woman suffragists are keeping up their campaign to the last minute as it is possible for a modern nation, though probably a little behind in the matter of their speakers throughout the State to-night.

Democrat poor board came before the county commissioners and confessed to a deficit for the year. It asked for aid and received from the county commissioners $8,000.

—The little boy who used to be warned against going swimming on Sundays, and with almost as disastrous effects.

—Governor Brumbaugh and Senator Penrose spoke at big Republican rallies in Philadelphia last night and highly praised Thomas B. Smith, the candidate for mayor.

Democratic Assurances
The Patriot endorses. This is the kind of management it assures us will be carried into all the other offices if Democrats are elected on Tuesday.

Three ballots will be handed to each voter when he enters the booth next Tuesday. In the next revision of the election law the ballot will be directed for the appointment of private secretaries for all electors.

The kind of Mellen the New Haven directors are likely to cut now won't put money in anyone's pocket.

Vote for Democrats, says the Patriot in effect, and you vote for deficits in the county commissioners' office, you vote for deficits in the poor board for next year, you vote for deficits in the school board and you vote for deficits in city council.

A man in Illinois nearly ninety gives as a receipt for a bill never to whip one's children nor scold one's wife. But he had as hard a time denying himself pleasures.

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

Cabinet troubles among the belligerent countries do not indicate that harmony of action which is necessary to the best results either in war or peace. Whatever transpires in the settlement of the big frays beyond the seas it appears to be inevitable that a new alignment will follow in the government of the entangled nations.

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

A PEACE ARMY
THE crystallization of public sentiment with regard to preparedness, sentiment which has for months been steadily increasing, has finally resulted in a definite plan for building up the national defense in the proposition set forth by Secretary of War Garrison, approved by President Wilson, and undoubtedly in harmony with the expectations and ideas of those who believe that this country should be first in war as well as first in peace.

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

Men to whom the regular army service appeals.

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

Men who would be willing to give brief periods for intensive instruction, as during the summer months.

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

Men who are so engaged in industry or business that they cannot give any protracted periods to military service, but who could devote a night or so a week.

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

For the first class a six-year term is provided, two years of which are to be spent with the colors and four years on furlough, subject to a call to the colors in case of war.

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

Increased Federal support of the National Guard would be another feature of the plan, and a very proper one, because the National Guard for years has been doing its work, quietly and efficiently in the majority of cases, without a big flare of publicity.

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

For one she knew of mercy's knell When, in a shuddering sea, The Lusitania's fragile shell A scorpion stung in glee.

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

Proud head! Unbowed head! O eagle's crest and dove's eye, Beneath the sky Where now lies beneath the sky the wide world weeps and loves!

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

There is a hawk that hunts on high, On town-bred geese to dine, A thousand sly he from the sky, With n'er a warning sign.

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

—The Philadelphia Press says: "The plea for freedom of religious belief and the separation of creed from politics made last night by Governor Brumbaugh in his Northumberland campaign before the largest and most enthusiastic assemblage held in the city's history."

Paris is not the only capital where women have taken to the work of men on account of the war.

SHIFTING ARGENTINA'S TRADE

By Frederic J. Haskin
EVER since the beginning of the European war, much space and language have been devoted to the opportunities in export trade which that event opened to the United States, especially in Latin America.

The State From Day to Day

Military training in the schools is deprecated by the Reading Herald in a lengthy editorial, in which it mentions with some grateful for the support of its views by a professor in the University of Texas and also by Dr. Phillips, principal of the West Chester Normal School.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

Heart Songs and Heart Throbs. Joe Mitchell Chapple, the well-known magazine writer and publisher, has issued through the Chapple Publishing Company, three extremely interesting volumes devoted to treasured old songs and gems of poetry and prose which have appealed to the hearts of thousands of Americans.

Our Daily Laugh

ACCOUNTED FOR. Jones boasts he has fifty men under him. Evidently lives on the top floor.

IN HARRISBURG FIFTY YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Major General Kiddow will review the Sixteenth Regiment, Veteran Reserve Corps, and the Sixth Regiment of Hancock's Corps in this city to-morrow.

Evening Chat

People get an idea of the way old Harrisburg was built from the structure at Cranberry and River streets, now being demolished to make way for a garage.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

P. C. Knox will preside at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon in Harrisburg on Monday, Nov. 1, at 12 o'clock.

DO YOU KNOW

That Harrisburg pretzels are getting pretty well known? HISTORIC HARRISBURG Blast furnaces have been operated in this city since the twenties.

TO REVIEW REGIMENTS

Major General Kiddow will review the Sixteenth Regiment, Veteran Reserve Corps, and the Sixth Regiment of Hancock's Corps in this city to-morrow.

IT Pays to Dress Well

Attire may not make the man, but it sometimes does a lot towards making him successful.