Why I Ask Your Support

I Submit the Court's Decision As to the Validity of My Election I Stand Upon My Record in Office As Justification For Re-election

Ballot Boxes Proved Plurality

To refute the statements of my opponent that a sufficient number of double-crossed ballots were cast to elect him four years ago, but not counted, it is only necessary to state that after the ballot boxes had been brought into court before the examiners, and ballots found to correspond with voting list and stubs, Judge McCarrell in dismissing the petition at the cost of petitioners, said in part:

"The petitioners were given the widest possible latitude in the taking of testimony and investigating the matters alleged in their petition. The result is that an insufficient number of votes of the character of which they complained has been discovered to change the result of the election as computed and certified by the proper officers. The statute regulating contests of this character expressly declares that when the petitioners fail to show that the person, whose election is alleged, has been duly elected, the petitioners shall be jointly and severally liable for all the costs. In the light of this statutory provision, we have no discretion, and the testimony failing to establish that Paul A. Kunkel has been duly elected to the office of District Attorney, we are constrained to dismiss the petition at the costs of the petitioners."

Four Years Proves Efficiency

Having proved my right to the office of District Attorney beyond question, I have since given the office my personal attention and administered the law without fear or favor. I have fought the Loan Sharks. I have closed the Brothels conducted under the guise of a Liquor License. I have been fair and honest in all prosecutions, and pledge myself, if re-elected to put forth every conscientious effort to bring all violators of the law before the bar of justice, and to promote a respect for the sanctity of the ballot by prosecuting any or all who attempt to tamper with the will or legal intent of the voter; regardless of whether such votes are for or against me; in favor of one party or another.

For over thirty years you have re-elected your District Attorney to the second term. The record of my first term, I believe, is such as to merit your confidence and a justification for soliciting your vote for re-election, irrespective of your party affiliation.

Will Kunkel Answer?

1. He stated (see Patriot, Oct. 30, 1915), that the ballot boxes had been tampered with. WHAT EVIDENCE DOES HE HAVE AND BY WHOM WAS IT DONE?

2. He stated to a representative of the Star Independent (see Star Independent, January 13, 1912), that he was satisfied with the result of the election contest, and to a representative of the Patriot (see Patriot, February 29, 1912), that he would file no exceptions to the opinion and order of court. WHY IS HE DISSATISFIED NOW?

3. He stated that the court "soaked" him and he is now appealing from the court to the people. DOES HE QUESTION THE HONESTY AND INTEGRITY OF THE DAUPHIN COUNTY COURT? IF NOT, WHY DOES HE MAKE THIS APPEAL?

EMPLOYMENT IS NOW SIMPLIFIED

Effect of Brown's Decision Will Be Straightened Out; Many Questions Today

Attorney General Brown who this week decided that employment certificates issued to children before January 1, 1916, will be valid until the holders become sixteen years of age hold that after January 1, these children must attend continuation classes for eight hours a week, and cannot be employed more than nine hours a day, fifty-one hours a week.

This decision was given in response to a request from Commissioner John Price Jackson of the Department of Labor and Industry. The opinion of the Attorney General is embodied in the following letter:

Honorable John Price Jackson, Commissioner of Labor & Industry, Harrisburg, Pa.:
Dear Sir:—I have your favor inquiring whether working children's certificates obtained before January 1, 1916, would continue to be valid after that date.

I beg to advise you that the certificates issued to working children under sixteen years of age, pursuant to the Acts of 1909 and 1911 should continue in force until the holders thereof attain the age of sixteen, but after January 1, 1916, these children are required to attend the continuation schools, and not work more than fifty-one hours per week, as required by the act of 1915.

I will forward you a formal opinion within a day or two.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) FRANCIS S. BROWN,
Attorney General.

This decision clears away all the doubt which has existed in the minds of both the school authorities and employers as to the validity of certificates and great numbers of inquiries had been received by Commissioner Jackson on this question.

For the last few months the Department of Labor and Industry and the Department of Public Instruction, have been co-operating in urging the school authorities to take steps to establish continuation classes, on January 1, next, as required by the Child Labor Law, which goes into effect that day. This work will now go forward with renewed energy as the school authorities realize that the law makes it mandatory upon them to establish continuation classes. Active preparations for meeting the requirements of the new law are under way in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Pottstown, Altoona, Harrisburg, Allentown, Easton, Mauch Chunk, and Pottsville.

The State Board of Education has issued a pamphlet of instruction concerning the Child Labor Act and continuation schools. This pamphlet is being sent to every employer in Pennsylvania and the authorities in every school district. It sets forth fully, the requirements of the new law. It also gives the standards of physical fitness for the guidance of physicians in examining minors who apply for employment certificates after January 1, next.

STATE HOLDINGS GIVE HIGH RANK

Pennsylvania Only Second to New York State as Result of Its Appraisal

The State of Pennsylvania stands second in the value of State-owned property according to figures issued by John L. Rockey, chief of the State Bureau of Industrial Statistics. The chief takes the report made last year by the State Property Commission, which made the first compilation of the kind in over a century, showing the State to be worth at a conservative valuation $62,743,876.35 of which $49,253,392.84 is given as real estate, the forest reserves alone worth $6,244,000.

The comparison with other States shows the following total figures: New York $105,939,252; Pennsylvania $62,743,876; Massachusetts $51,358,057; Ohio $48,606,886; Illinois $44,215,230.

The value of State houses and departmental libraries shows New York $24,575,477; Pennsylvania $15,415,555; Massachusetts $7,906,507; Ohio $2,860,000; Illinois $6,570,000. The value of hospitals owned by the states is: New York $32,961,556; Pennsylvania $12,897,217; Massachusetts $12,689,881; Ohio $12,208,025 with Illinois classification not the same.

The value of the State penitentiaries and correctional institutions is given as New York $14,826,618; Pennsylvania $8,265,507; Massachusetts $5,473,949; Ohio $5,331,466; Illinois, $5,328,252.

In State educational institutions the comparison shows New York $7,099,665; Pennsylvania $4,684,622; Massachusetts $3,950,978; Ohio $3,752,845; Illinois $5,787,377.

ALBRIGHT FRESHMEN KEEP SOPHOMES FROM BANQUET

Special to The Telegraph
Lebanon, Pa., Oct. 30. — Albright College sophomores and freshmen clashed in this city when the former endeavored to reach Lancaster for their annual banquet, scheduled for last night.

Thirty members of the sophomore class left Mverstown in a large automobile truck bound for this city, where they planned to board the train for Lancaster. On learning of the sophomores' departure, six freshmen, all members of the football team, jumped into a touring car and gave chase. They overhauled the truck two miles out of this city and there was a fight, which was continued here. The police were finally called to protect the sophomores, who missed their train and were required to spend three hours in the depot, while the freshmen kept guard. President Shreppler, of the sophomore class, whom the freshmen sought to capture, succeeded in escaping.

OF LYKENS
Aspires For Election to the Office of County Commissioner

- ☐ I have entered this campaign for the sole purpose of placing the County Commissioners' office into the hands of the people.
 - ☐ I stand pledged for a just and equitable assessed valuation.
 - ☐ As the assessed valuation of the County increases the tax rate MUST decrease.
 - ☐ The County Commissioners' office is the business office of the County, whose annual revenues approximate one-half million dollars, collected from the people primarily through taxation and expended directly or indirectly by the County Commissioners. These men should be EXPERIENCED, CAPABLE AND EFFICIENT and whose selection is up to the voters.
 - ☐ If you agree with my views and feel that I should continue to represent you on the Board of County Commissioners, I respectfully solicit your influence and support.
