Heavy Vote Expected in Pittsburgh District

By Associated Press

Pittsburgh, Nov. 2.—Indications are that a heavy vote will be polled in this city and county to-day. Many local contests and the woman's suffrage amendment have stirred the interest of the voters. There are nine county offices to be filled and three judges of the Superior Count to elect, besides a judge of the common pleas court, city controller and five city councilmen. There are contests for all the offices except judge of the common pleas court and city controller. Including woman suffrage, the voters will ballot on four amendments to the State Constitution. Dr. Julia C. Loos of Pittsburgh will spend Wednesday and Thursday in this city and go to Philadelphia to be a week-end guest of her mother.
