STATE INCOME TO BE SPEEDED UP

Will Make an Effort in Final Month of Fiscal Year

Steps to speed up State revenue will be taken by fiscal officials this week.

be taken by fiscal officials this week, as the State's financial year will close with November and the receipts have been running far be hind the payments. The last Legislature was rather prodigal with appropriations and many heavy demands have been running for the school districts have not yet received money due. The statements of the Treasury have also shown steady declines in the available cash. November has always been the banner month for collections of State taxes by the Auditor General's department and one month they went over the $5,000,000 mark. The Auditor General's department worked up many settlements on taxes during the summer and they have been out some time, so that payments may be expected in November. It is also understood that a number of appeals to court are in the department which have not yet been sent to the court officials for entry. The taxation work is just now occupying the department's experts.

Within a few days the coal tax decision problems will be taken up with the Attorney General and it will then be determined whether the filing of escheats for money paid by coal consumers to operators because of the tax and which may be in dispute will amount to anything or not. The general belief here is that it is up to each person paying the tax to take steps to got it back. The Auditor General's department acted to head off anyone else, but no one about the Capitol expects to get very much cash for the commonwealth as a result of the escheats.

*STEELTON * HOLD OF L. AND P. STEELTON VOTE IS OUT FULL FORCE

Entire Republican Ticket Will Pole Big Majority in Borough

With clear, crisp weather and several close local contests to bring out the voters in force, the election in Steelton to-day eclipsed all other things in interest.

While there was very little activity about any of the polling places, the voters were out early, and a big vote was polled in several precincts before noon. In the Fourth ward, particularly, the vote was heavy. A three-cornered councilmanic fight is being decided there and one of the largest votes in years is predicted there. The two precincts of the Fifth ward, where there is another three-cornered councilmanic contest, also polled big votes before noon. In the Second precinct of the Second ward the morning vote was light and quiet. In the First and Third wards a good vote was polled before noon and a heavy vote shortly after. The evening vote in these wards is expected to be heavy.

From all indications sentiment has crystallized strongly in favor of J. V. W. Reynders in the Third; H. H. Hartman in the Fourth; Michael Obercash in the Fifth; E. C. Henderson (unopposed) in the Second, and Charles Keim (unopposed) in the Fecond, and Charles Keim (unopposed) in the pace is interesting, but betting favors Frank Stees, Republican. The entire Republican ticket, particularly Mumma, for commissioner, will poll an exceedingly heavy vote.

Charles Irvin Coppedge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coppedge, Tenth and Market streets, Harrisburg, died at the Harrisburg Hospital last evening from appendicitis. He was 3 years old. Mrs. Coppedge is a daughter of E. G. Irvin, North Front street. Funeral services are incomplete.

"Carmen" one must understand that it is not the story as heard in opera; it is not the story as heard in opera; it is not the story that is read in the book; it is purely a Fox version in which he has worked from the play, leaving it so changed that there it but little in common with the original. The story he has given is marvelously staged, he has gone it great lengths to secure veracity in local color, scenic effects and realism. It is purely a story built up step by a step to provide Theda Bara with a new which and withal one which calls forth more effort to conscientiously portray than any of her screen successes.

"Carmen" is not a role to be learned in a year. There is infinitely more to it than the acting, or nearly acting of a Spanish gypsy girl. "Carmen" sums up in the one word all of the same type of work as the star has put into her "Vampire" and "Sin." It is motably to her credit that she refrained absolutely from this type of work especially in the light that the opportunity was amply afforded. The das Bara's "Carmen" is a picturization of the story of which William character. Her associate players have acquitted themselves in an equally innefectively."
