A November Sale of Coats

An Occasion of Rare Interest to Women Opens To-morrow in the Presentation of Values That Will Not Be Duplicated Later

The most important November sale of fine quality Winter Coats this store has ever inaugurated opens to-morrow morning with a group of values that no woman can afford to miss. Many of the fabrics that are shown in these beautiful styles are already exhausted so that the attractive prices at which you will find them marked are of double interest at this time.

A more exclusive collection of styles cannot be found in any cloak stock in Pennsylvania; nor would it be possible to find a more representative showing of materials.

Of unusual interest in this special occasion for November weather are the following:

- Coats of mixed cloth in brown and black check in semi-belted styles, finished with black velvet collar ..... $12.50
- General utility coats in sturdy English fabrics and tweed cloths, in full flaring models with or without belt ..... $14.50
- Black and white striped albine coats, in belted styles and convertible collar with a lining to the waist ..... $16.50

- Mixed fabrics of novelty cloths in styles that are lined to the waist with Skinner's satin. Some of the garments are full belted models with broad belts ..... $18.50 and $20.00
- African brown duvetine cloth coats with chin collars and opossum fur trimming on ..... $18.50

- Sealette plush coats in flaring circular or pleated styles with trimming of skunk, beaver and opossum fur ..... $20, $22.50, $25, $30 and $35
- Chiffon broadcloth coats in navy, brown, black, blackberry and green in flaring styles and in belted or shirred models with elaborate trimming of sheared muskrat or beaver ..... $25.00, $30.00 and $35.00

Peace Proposals Are Near, General Belief

Special to The Telegraph. Geneva, Nov. 3.—The Swiss press is commenting extensively on the visit of Prince von Buelow in Switzerland. Although it is stated that the Prince has come to Switzerland merely for a holiday, the Basel Nachrichten asserts he is accompanied by two high officials of the German Foreign office. It is known here that Prince von Buelow will shortly meet Monsignor Marchetti, Papal Delegate to Switzerland. Geneva newspapers state that the movement in favor of peace negotiations has been carried to such a point that the meeting place of the proposed conference is now under discussion.

They say this congress will be held in Switzerland and that the Central Powers favor Berne and the Quadruple Entente Geneva. Consequently, the press argues, the presence of Prince von Buelow in Switzerland has great significance.

HARRISBURG PHOTOGRAPHER ABROAD

Those who enjoyed the wonderful views of England at war and in peace at the Chestnut Street Auditorium last night were more than delighted with the views of English country life, the picturesque estates, the imposing abbeys and public buildings, and the beautiful scenery of river and countryside. It is interesting to know that a Harrisburg boy, P. Mark Parthemore, now connected with the J. Horace McFarland Company, spent three months in the British Isles with Mr. Robertson and made many of the remarkable pictures shown last night. They covered in that tour of 1912 a distance of over six thousand miles in a motor car. Mr. Parthemore also traveled with the famous travelogueur in Panama.

AN EARLY SOCIAL EXPERIMENT

The disciples said: "Send them away." Jesus said: "Give ye them to eat." What was the difference? Why did Jesus say one thing and the disciples another? Because Jesus was moved with compassion, while the disciples did not care. Christ was creating an organization that should last through the centuries, and whose spirit should be one of radiant and persistent and efficient helpfulness. So he gave this inner circle an object lesson. "Don't send these folks away. Feed them. Give them what you have. I am sorry for them. They are hungry."—The Christian Herald.

A BUFFER RACE

Armenia lies in the northeastern corner of Asia Minor between the Black Sea and the Caspian, the Caucasus Mountains at the north. In that small spot probably a million Armenians struggle to maintain a national existence. Outside of Armenia proper there may be another million. Scattered among them in Armenia are Kurds, Turks, Jews and others. That the Armenians are a wholly inoffensive and lovable race is not alleged, for there are turbulent spirits and untamed natures among them. But as a people they are indoctrinated with the Christian religion, and for the most part live peaceable and industrious lives. The Armenian Church is ancient. Its theology differs from the other Eastern churches and from our American bodies. But because they are a branch of the Christian Church, the Armenians have received the impact of Mohammedan hatred which again and again has broken out in unprovoked persecution.—The Christian Herald.

AMENITIES OF CONSUL'S LIFE

All the palace buildings and the two royal palaces are now mere monuments dotted with shrapnel and disfigured with shell holes. An old Serbian soldier stands in front of these buildings just as was the practice when governmental work was being carried on there. At the American consulate, which is less than six hundred yards from the Austrian positions, only one bullet has shown itself from the Austrian fire. This happened three months ago while the consul, a Virginian, was away. An Austrian bullet came through the window of the room occupied by Vice-Consul Thompson, missed his head and went through the head of a little dog owned by Thompson, and the dog still lives. Thompson put an American flag on the mast of the British legation, took over its affairs, and although no business is carried on in it, has succeeded in saving the building from the Austrian sunfire.—Correspondence of The Christian Herald.
