

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. Dr. drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft, lustrous and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.—Adv.

Have Color in Your Cheeks

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in the mouth—lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

If you want a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of ease in the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. All distillers.

Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio.—Advertisement.

Itching Torture Stops

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar skin troubles. Little Zemo ointment at any drug store for 25c, or $1.00 for extra large bottle, and instantly applied will usually give instant relief from itching torture. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful disappearing ointment that smart the most delicate skin. It is not greasy, is easily applied and costs little. Get it to-day and save all future distress.

Zemo, Cleveland.

WOMEN AND THEIR INTERESTS

U. S. Women Independent But Modest

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Oh, not for the great departed, Who formed our country's laws, And not for the bravest-hearted Who died in freedom's cause, And not for some living hero To whom all bend the knee, My most would raise her song of praise— For but for the man to be.

For out of the strife which woman is passing through to-day A man that is more than human Shall yet be born, I say.

A man in whose pure spirit No stain of selfishness lurks; A man who is strong to cope with wrong, A man who is proud to work.

A man with hope undaunted, A man with godlike power, Shall come when he most is wanted, Shall come at the needed hour, He shall silence the din and clamor Of clan disputing with clan, And toll's long fight with purse-proud might Shall triumph through this man.

I know he is coming, coming, To help to guide, to save, Though I hear no martial drumming And I see no flags that wave, But the great soul travail of woman, And the bold free thought unfurled, Are heralds that say he is on the way— The coming man of the world.

Mourn not for vanished ages, With their great heroic men, Who dwell in history's pages, And live in the poet's pen. For the grandest times are before us, And the world is yet to see The noblest worth of this old earth In the men that are to be.

The fact that young women in high social positions have brought themselves into unpleasant notoriety has caused a critical man to declare that woman's virtue is no longer highly prized. He says: "She casts aside the rules and laws of past centuries to enjoy herself as she sees fit, assuming the same liberties of men, confident the world will soon accept the new conditions as they have accepted all advantages and progress in the past. He proceeds to say that woman is deteriorating and that her moral position is much lower as well as her ideals and standards than those of past centuries. But he is mistaken. Let him look back to the days of Catherine de Medici and her "Flying Squadron." It was composed of nearly half a hundred young women, all of "noble" birth, all beautiful, all educated and bright. Their work was to captivate and attract the men who were political powers in the land, to become their confidantes, and to report their plans and projects to Catherine de Medici.

These young women were the social leaders of their world, and it was a large world.

Women Now Place Higher Value on Name Than They Did in Past

Such an assemblage of women, whose intrigues with men of renown were matters of public comment, would not be tolerated in any society or in our day. Woman places a far higher value upon her name than she did in past centuries.

In America we are not as austere as were our Puritan ancestors, but austerity is no synonym for morality, nor liberality for vice.

Abroad, the unchaperoned young girl is declassé, but in America no man suspects other than her own sweet, brave, true self merely because she goes about her business alone.

The American girl's independence is teaching the Old World a long and lesson. Until her advent the prevailing idea of woman's virtue seemed to be that it was like a mouse—liable to run away unless caged.

The moment woman was allowed any freedom she was expected to fling her morals broadcast.

The American girl carries her morals with her through all sorts of experiences, and they are in excellent condition when she has finished a tour of the world or completed her education for the profession she chooses, any one or all of the unusual things which she alone can do.

While it is true that we have striking and shocking examples now and then of women of good birth, social position and opportunities of culture, who fling morality to the winds and seek to exhibit a new code of morals, this does not amount to a general woman of the day. She is not bringing herself down to man's level of immorality. She is, instead, slowly but surely bringing him up to her own standard.

Gay Lothario No Longer the Vogue Among the Good Women

The gay Lothario, the avowedly immoral man has no longer the vogue among good women which he had once upon a time. He is shunned by the sensible mothers of the land, and he is unpopular even in clubs of worthwhile men.

Where men used to boast of their vices they now attempt to conceal them, and that is a sign of moral growth on the part of the man and of a higher social code.

Mother's clubs are scattered all over our land, and they are doing a vast amount of good. Perhaps in the immediate present this good may not be so discernible, but it will surely make itself felt in the next generation.

The ignorance of womanhood in the matters pertaining to home, health and comfort has kept the world and the race handicapped for centuries. The formation of women's clubs has been a great factor in the progress and the rise of humanity toward a higher goal.

A SIMPLE SKIRT AVAILABLE FOR MANY NEEDS

The Pattern for this Design Besides Allowing for All Seams, Gives the True Basting Line and shows Diagrams for Cutting and Making.

Each Piece of the Pattern Also is Lettered for Identification.

By MAY MANTON

7875 (With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance) Straight Skirt, Small 26 or 28, Medium 30 or 32, Large 34 or 36 waist.

The straight gathered skirt is always one of the easiest to make. This one is exceptionally pretty because it can be finished with shirring and frill at the upper edge and it also may be either gathered or plaited. It is adapted to every material that is thin and soft; lace flouncings and bordered materials are charming treated in this way, all the crepes, voiles, chiffon taffetas and the like also are well adapted to the design and plain materials can be trimmed or not as the special need may require.

Bands of velvet ribbon in graduated widths are being largely used and they are very pretty when taffeta, silk voile, chiffon cloth or marquisette or any material of the sort is used and have the double advantage of weighting the skirt and accentuating the flare. By stitching the upper edge of the skirt to form a casing and inserting tape, in place of arranging the fulness over a belt, the skirt may be made available for maternity wear.

For the medium size will be needed 3 1/2 yds. of flouncing 44 in. wide, or 6 1/2 yds. of material 27 in. wide, 3 1/4 yds. 36 or 44; the width at the lower edge is 3 yds.

The pattern No. 8785 is cut in sizes from 26 to 34 in. waist measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY FEMALE R. F. D. CARRIERS

The post office department itself is not aware of the actual number of women carriers in the rural delivery service, but estimates that there are about one hundred and fifty. This is a very trifling percentage of the total number of carriers, 43,652 in 1914; but it seems safe to say that a high percentage of the romance which the rural delivery service is supposed to contain will be found along these one hundred and fifty routes.

Possibly, just possibly, these faithful messengers of the government are not much concerned about the romantic side of their calling. To them it is doubtless a very businesslike proceeding, and they are willing to leave the flowery notions about the work to us who think of the R. F. D. service as symbolized by a placid white horse, a comfortable-looking, enclosed and easy-going conveyance, and a daily jaunt through leafy lanes and over winding brooks, with occasional stops at cheery white farmhouses where the creamy milk and ripe gossip are exchanged for the weekly paper, postal card or a mysterious package. We who are strong in imagination, however, do not trouble to visualize those leafy lanes when the trees are bare, the fences hidden by snow, the brook winding streak of ice, and the farmhouses making suggestions of warmth and cheer that rural mail-carriers cannot stop to share.—The Christian Herald.

SEER, SCIENTIST AND SUNSET

What is a sunset? A few bunches of mist happen to sag down toward the ground anywhere from eight to thirty miles away from where we stand; certain rays from the sun, such as intervening hills or fields hide from our eyes, strike these piles of vapor in such a manner that certain prismatic effects are produced. That is all that science has to say about it. What says the poet the artist, the seer, the saint, the child? They say that a new world is being revealed, they say that the windows of heaven are being opened, they say they behold alluring beauties, they declare that by looking at the sunset they find true answers to hard problems; that they get strength for life's work, patience for its trials; that they find joy to offset life's pain; they say that they find love to conquer life's quarrels; they say they find hope and peace and joy—and God.

What can the sneering scientist say to these seers? Noting the blessings they get from the sunset cannot be measured and located by his tapes and chains, his theodolites, his angles, his prisms, his barometers, nor even his telescopes.

We do not need to be actually artists or poets to be real seers. And life's big and strenuous things are after all, done by its seers.—The Christian Herald.

9 PERSONS DIE AS SHIP GROUNDS

Santa Clara Carried 48 Passengers and a Crew of 42 Members

By Associated Press

Marshfield, Ore., Nov. 3.—Nine persons are known to be dead and several still were missing to-day as a result of the grounding of the steamship Santa Clara, in Coos bay, 170 miles south of the Columbia river yesterday. The Santa Clara left Portland for San Francisco, on Monday and carried 48 passengers and a crew of 42.

Captain Lofstedt, who was at first reported dead, succeeding in reaching the Santa Clara again after his life boat had been capsized and was rescued by the Coos bay life-saving crew. The Santa Clara at daybreak was holding an even keel and it is believed she will not be a complete wreck.

The beaches for several miles are being patrolled for bodies from the wreck or for survivors.

E. Edwards, one of the crew, carried 27 to safety in the lifeboat of which he was in charge.

Several of the lifeboats were capsized or swamped after being lowered. Roy Dunn, of Butte, Mont., was with his mother and sister when the ship struck. They all left the ship safely but their boat was swamped and Dunn made a frantic effort to save them. The mother disappeared almost immediately but Dunn reached his sister and rescued her.

Best Treatment For Catarrh S. S. S. Removes the Cause

Specialists in Catarrh troubles have agreed that it is an infection of the blood. The laboratories of the S. S. S. Co., at Atlanta, have proven it. Once you get your blood free from impurities—cleansed of the Catarrhal poisons, which it is now a prey to because of its unhealthy state—then you will be relieved of Catarrh—the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, raw sores in the nostrils, and the disagreeable bad breath. It was caused, in the first place, because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold or contact with someone who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with Catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy S. S. S., discovered over fifty years ago, tested, true and tried, is always obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S. S. S. at once and begin treatment. If yours is a long standing case, be sure to write the S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga., for free expert medical advice. They will tell you how this purely vegetable blood tonic cleanses the impurities from the blood by literally washing it clean. They will prove to you that thousands of sufferers from Catarrh, after a consistent treatment with S. S. S., have been freed from the trouble and all its disagreeable features and restored to perfect health and vigor. Don't delay the treatment. Take S. S. S. at once.—Advertisement.

FOR SALE—Large stove; good as new. Double heater; burns coal or wood. Reason for selling, owner has no further use for it. Call 1657 Hill street.

Did you ever stop to consider how much money you've got laying loose around the house? No, I don't mean so much in actual currency, but in inactive furniture carpets, stoves, dishes, and the like. Too good to throw away, and for which you have no further use except to ship from one corner to another each housecleaning time. Sell it! That's the answer.

Take that old stove, for instance. That's good for $5 to $15 if you knew, who needed a stove like it. I'll tell you—just insert an ad like this in the TELEGRAPH:

$15.00 .50 $14.50 profit

An ad like that will cost you 25c for one time, or three times for 50c, and there's mighty little doubt about your selling it. Among the twenty-one thousand readers of the TELEGRAPH there are plenty of folks who are looking for just those articles for which you have no further use.

Better try it out and give us a chance to prove our assertion that there's a buyer for anything under the sun among the TELEGRAPH'S readers. Just call Bell 4100 and a courteous clerk will help you work your ad.
