

CENTRAL TO MEET HARD FOE IN WILKES-BARRE--STEELTON AFTER TECH

CENTRAL BODY TO PARADE SATURDAY

Music by Commonwealth Band; Cheers For Team in Game With Wilkes-Barre

The students of Central high school are making preparations for a large turnout at the game on Saturday. They hope to cheer the Blue and Gray to victory over the Wilkes-Barre team, which arrives in this city at 12.15 on that day. Wilkes-Barre considers this contest one of the hardest this season. They will be accompanied by a big crowd of rooters and will be met at the station by Professor B. W. Saul. The visitors' headquarters will be at the Hershey House.

The Central aggregation will parade at 1 o'clock. They will march down Forster street to Third, to Market, to Market Square. The parade will be headed by the Commonwealth band and will be marched across the field before the game. The game starts at 2.30 and not at 3 o'clock, as has been advertised.

New Plays for Central
The Central eleven will be at its best, using several new plays which have just been perfected. On the other hand, Wilkes-Barre will be a strong contender, as the famous "Dutch" Herman, who was a star quarterback at State, has taken the athletics of the up-Staters into his hands and has been getting excellent results. Someone may have to be fitted in Warden's place. He has an injured nose. Marcus was injured in an auto wreck, and Spotts was put off the squad for a week on account of low class standing. The probable line-up follows:

- Wilkes-Barre: Central.
- Speelman, L. E. c. Hilton
- Klat, I. T. l. Sellheimer
- Williams, I. G. r. Frank
- Rindsorf, C. c. Nisley
- Bart, R. G. r. G. Warden

BUCKNELL TEAM IS ON SHORT END

Pick Gettysburg As This Season's Winner in Annual Island Battle on November 13

Special to The Telegraph
Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 5.—Bucknell's varsity will go to Harrisburg Saturday, November 13, for the annual battle with Gettysburg eleven. For the first time in four years Bucknell is not a strong favorite as the probable winner. The battled field boys have been showing some form.

For the last three years it has only been a question of how badly Bucknell would defeat the battled field collegians. This year Gettysburg is the favorite. It should be a battle royal between the two Orange and Blue teams. Gettysburg is much stronger than one year ago.
Bucknell's record has not been as good as usual. In only one game, with Cornell, has Bucknell been decisively defeated. The only team that has crossed the Bucknell goal line with the exception of Cornell is Syracuse, and this big team was played to a 0 to 0 score until within two minutes of the close of the game.
Bucknell has had a very hard schedule and has had many men on the disabled list during the season, but expects to have her full strength in the game here November 13.

New Coach This Year
Bucknell has a new coach this year. George Johnston, a former Pennsylvania man, is head coach, and has as his assistant George Cockill. These two men have done wonders with a green team. When the college opened in September there were only two B men on the squad, as seven of last year's team graduated and several others were declared ineligible by the executive board of athletics.
Starting with two regulars, it was necessary to make constant shifts in the positions of the different players to find the best combination. This has resulted in a well-balanced team that only needs experience to make it one of Bucknell's best elevens.
The Bucknell team is very light for a college eleven, but it is composed of fast, rangy fellows. Every man on the first line of scrimmage is over six feet in height, the back field is small, with the exception of Fullback Spotts, who weighs 185 pounds and is the heaviest man on the squad.

NEW COACH AT DICKINSON
Special to The Telegraph
Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 5.—The Dickinson coaching squad was augmented here yesterday by the arrival of Pat Murray, of Bucknell, who is to have personal charge of the linemen, and last night he gave the first instructions to his charges on the manner of holding a line on the offensive and defensive and also in blocking interference and tackling. The linemen who showed up particularly in this practice were Bolger and Greenis, both second-string men. The line has been particularly weak all season, and under individual coaching it will be bolstered up considerably for the remaining games. The varsity also lined up for a short signal practice.

LOCAL STAR GIVEN REST
Special to The Telegraph
Anville, Pa., Nov. 5.—A long scrimmage signaled Coach Guyer's efforts to perfect new formations and develop latent power in the backfield at Lebanon Valley yesterday. Only darkness preventing the two teams seeing the play, the coach called off the pigs for the day. The usual rudimentary work was meted out to the line and backfield men and then Guyer checked his two elevens. Von Berenberg, Atticks, Capt. Stone and Keating ran through signal practice, but were on the side lines during the scrimmage, as Guyer does not wish to take any chances with these men before the Muhlenberg game.

PRESIDENT WEEGHMAN SILENT
Special to The Telegraph
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 5.—President Weeghman, of the Chicago Federals, on his return from Cincinnati yesterday declined to give further information concerning his meeting with August Herrmann, chairman of the National Commission.
He admitted that he, Harry Sinclair of the Newark Club and William H. Walker, of Chicago, had discussed baseball with Mr. Herrmann, but said nothing would be announced regarding the reported negotiations involving the purchase of National League clubs by Federal Leaguers until something definite was arranged.

BARROW AGAINST FEDS
Special to The Telegraph
New York, Nov. 5.—Edward G. Barrow, president of the International League yesterday left for San Francisco to attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Baseball Clubs. Before leaving Mr. Barrow said:
"The Federal League cannot use the International League for a foil in its fight for peace. There will be no merger of interest between my league and the entire American baseball American Association feels the same way."

UMPIRE KEEPS BUSY
Special to The Telegraph
St. Mary's, Kan., Nov. 5.—E. C. Quigley, National League umpire and former athletic coach at St. Mary's College, is a very busy man these days officiating in football games. Between now and November 27 Quigley will work in 13 college contests. When the football season is over then the former coach will be one of the guessers in basketball combats.

The Overcoat of the Hour

You will remember that we showed you the fabric hits of the hour---before they were generally shown. Now we show you "the overcoat of the hour" a little ahead.

It is the Maryland---box back, split sleeves with cuffs, patch pockets, quarter lined with satin yoke and satin sleeve lining.

We also have the Emerson, which is the same coat except double-breasted. And the Howard, the same coat with plain sleeves.

These three coats represent the popular ideas of the hour---loose back coats WITH STYLE.

They are to be had here in

The Newark Shoe Maker Talks About A Flexible Dancing Shoe

WE call it the "Castleton." It's a thoroughbred dancing shoe with a flexible sole that bends like a slipper. In point of style, it's a DOUBLE of the $3.50, $4 and $5 sort that you see elsewhere.

The thing that puzzles every man who examines the NEWARK "Castleton" dancing shoe is how such an expensive-looking, glove-like fitting, comfortable shoe can possibly be sold for $2.50.

The answer is: Mammoth production direct to you from our 157 Stores in the United States.

Mummert May Be Regular; Former High School Star

Special to The Telegraph
Easton, Pa., Nov. 5.—Along with a plunging line attack, Coach Crowell is developing a lot of variations on the forward pass which has proved such an asset to the maroon and white scoring machine this season. With four men in the backfield with remarkable ability in throwing the passes, it is easy to work out variations for the play. The Lafayette Varsity has not come into their accustomed spirit in any of the practices this week. The play is sluggish. Every effort is being made to whip them in shape for the Swarthmore game on Saturday. Mummert, the Harrisburg High school star has played well in the place made vacant by the injury to Pete Maxfield. He will probably remain there for the remaining games on the schedule.

PENN PLAYERS LEAVE FOR GOOD

Special to The Telegraph
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 5.—Howard Berry did not accompany the Penn team to Boston, where they will meet Dartmouth to-morrow. Grant Stack and Welch, the three Dean Academy players who were declared ineligible for the team, did leave with the team yesterday, and it is rumored, that they, now that they are near to their own homes, will not return to the university.

SNOW AT BUCKNELL

Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 5.—Bucknell had her first practice in a snow storm this season yesterday. Coaches Johnston and Cockill only gave the men a light workout, as most of the varsity players are in poor condition.

LOS ANGELES GETS CALLAHAN

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 5.—James J. Callahan, former manager of the Chicago Americans, has been appointed manager of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League, according to a story credited here, which credits John T. Powers, owner of the Angels, with having made the announcement.

PALMYRA WANTS GAMES
Palmyra, Pa., Nov. 5.—Palmyra A. A. football team has November 6 open. Average weight, 150 pounds. Would like to hear from teams having dates open. Address C. S. Manwiler, Palmyra, Pa., or call Bell phone 78.

'Shorty' Miller Helps Penn State Coaches

Special to The Telegraph
State College, Pa., Nov. 5.—"Shorty" Miller and other former stars came back yesterday to help the football teams.
The first snow of the season followed by a heavy rain put Beaver Field in such a condition that Coach Harlow deemed it unwise to give the Penn State Varsity squad any practice to-day in preparation for to-morrow's game with Lehigh.
Czarnecki the big tackle is in bad shape. A pulled tendon in his thigh may keep him out of the game altogether, although he is anxious to start at least. His loss would mean a big hole in the line, though Parrish is playing a good game at tackle for the second team.
Another man on the injured list is Ewing. The sterling quarterback is also troubled with his leg, though his complaint lies in a bad ankle. It is likely that he will start the game. However, and if possible, will finish it.
The rest of the line-up will be as usual: Higgins and Thomas, ends; Wood and Czarnecki, or Parlah, tackles; Miller and McDowell, guards; Painter, center; Ewing, quarterback; Clark, fullback, and Yeager and Berryman, halfbacks.
The training quarters looked like old times to-day when several of the old stars returned to watch the game to-morrow, and to try to help Harlow for the last two games. "Pete" Mauthe, "Dex" Verry, "Bull" McCleary and "Shorty" Miller were all on the field this afternoon and more are expected to-morrow.

NEW RECORDS AT CASINO

Records went soaring in the Casino League last night. The Skippers won over the Orpheums, score 2775 to 2619. Black made eight straight strikes for a total of 267. The former record was 253. The Skippers had a total of 1008 in one game, breaking the former record by 24.

Shevlin Drives Yale; Orders Practice Today

Special to The Telegraph
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 5.—Tom Shevlin has reversed Yale's football policy in one important respect. His board of strategy has ordered plenty of work. Last night he shocked the players by informing them that there would be scrimmaging to-day, although Yale must face Brown University on Saturday.
Shevlin has made no secret of his theory that Yale needs drill in playing straight football. He has ordered nothing else since his arrival, and he said the team would be driven through a brisk playing period to-day, instead of being allowed to rest for the Brown bout.
