JAIL WARDEN TO BE ELECTED BY PRISON BOARD

County Commissioners Have Nothing to Do With It; May Be W. A. McIlhenny

Contrary to widespread opinion, the newly-elected County Commissioners are not entitled under the law to select a jail warden to succeed William W. Caldwell, who was elected Sheriff last Tuesday. In fact, none of the men elected at that time will have any say or influence in making this appointment.

In the next few weeks the city commissioners will prepare the 1916 city budget. This must be passed before the present council goes out of office. The fact that every effort will be made to hold the tax rate to nine mills will preclude the making of very little change in the way of salary appropriations, according to Mr. Lynch. "That would indicate," he said, "that nothing could be provided for additional salaries."
