The State commission in charge of the building had a number of paintings illustrative of State history and some sculpture prepared by noted Pennsylvania artists and the works attracted much attention. As they are State property, they will be retained by the State, and the best of the works will be added to the collection at the Capitol, as was done after the Columbian, Louisiana Purchase and Jamestown Tercentenary Expositions.

A piano is worth, as a general rule, just what is paid for it.

Buying a piano at a figure less than its selling price is like paying one a certain sum of money to buy it. Good pianos never have to depend upon fluctuating prices to insure their sale.

You'll never pay any more or any less for a C. M. Sigler, a Mehlin or a Steinway than asked at this store. Each one of these pianos is the standard at the price.

How to Prevent Acid Stomachs and Food Fermentation

By a New York Physician. "My experience has forced me to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is excessive acid in the stomach, aggravated by food fermentation. Hyperacidity irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, causing a full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The wall is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all cases—and they comprise a great majority of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of saturated magnesia, which is the most effective antacid and food corrective I have ever found. The excess acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the present season's food. Be sure to ask your druggist for bisulphated magnesia rather than magnesia in any other form."—Advertisement.
