

Pains Often Mean Uric Acid Poison

Pay Attention to Pains — Most People Have Rheumatism and Don't Know It.

Ouch! Does it hurt to move your arms, legs, bend your back or stretch your muscles? Be careful and take heed in time. Rheumatism is stealing on you and may cripple you if you don't stop uric acid from settling in your veins and muscles.

Rheuma, a great specialist's prescription, chases this poison out of the system and gives relief from all forms of Rheumatism. It acts through the seat of the trouble, the kidneys, stops the formation of uric acid, then drives out through the bowels that which is in the blood.

Genuine Rheuma (see that you get the trade-marked package) is sold by H. C. Kennedy and all druggists for 50 cents. Money back if not satisfied.—Advertisement.

3RD SERVICE OF ANNIVERSARY

Organ Recital by Professor
Frank A. McCarrell to Feature Meeting

With an organ recital by Professor Frank A. McCarrell, organist at Pine Street Presbyterian church, Harrisburg, as the leading feature, the third of a series of eight services celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of the First Presbyterian church, will be held this evening.

At last evening's services the Rev. Dr. John McDowell of Baltimore, and the Rev. W. B. Cooke, of Harrisburg, both former pastors, were present and delivered addresses. The Rev. Dr. John McKeehan, of Carlisle, a former pastor, who had been expected to be present, was unable to attend. He sent a letter of regret, however, which was read by the Rev. C. B. Segelken.

Following the services a reception was given in the lecture room of the church in honor of the charter members of the congregation. Professor L. E. McGinness, superintendent of the Steelton schools, himself a charter member, presided. The charter members present included: Mrs. L. E. McGinness, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Davis, Mrs. Emma Kinney, Mrs. Chas. S. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Winslow A. Miller. The reception was followed with refreshments.

Professor William R. Stonestifer, organist, at Grace Methodist church, Harrisburg, gave a short organ recital before the reception, and the Rev. Harvey Klaier, pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian church and the Rev. C. Benjamin Segelken, the local minister also participated in the services.

The program for Professor McCarrell's recital this evening includes: Concert Overture in E flat, by Faulkes; Evensong, by Edward F. Johnson; In Springtime, by Kinder; Pilgrims Chorus, Wagner-Eddy; (b) Prelude and Fugue in C minor, (b) Fugue in G major a la gigue, by J. S. Bach; Intermission; (a) The Shepherds in the Fields, (b) The Wise Men of the East, (c) Bethlehem, by Otto Walling; Funeral March and Hymn of the Seraphs, Gullmair; Communion in G, Batiste; (a) Rustic Dance, (b) Thanksgiving, A Pastoral Suite, by Demarest.

DISCUSS MARKET FACILITIES

Further plans for obtaining adequate market facilities for farmers who want to come to Steelton were discussed at a meeting of the Steelton Merchants' Association in the G. A. R. hall, North Front street, last evening. The committee which has been endeavoring to induce someone to establish a larger markethouse reported that the township of Swatara has also appointed a committee to work along the same lines. A suggestion that Steelton hold a big municipal celebration next July was also made before the merchants. On account of the approaching holiday season, however, the suggestion was laid aside to be taken up later.

BEATS AGED MOTHER

Not only does Harry Bartel, 26 years old, a painter of Swatara township decline to help support his aged and widowed mother, according to charges preferred against him before Squire Gardner, but he has also beaten her. It is declared, Bartel's mother is 70 years old and is unable to earn her own living unassisted. Bartel was arrested Saturday by Constable John H. Gibb and given a preliminary hearing before Squire Gardner last evening. In default of bail he was committed to jail to await a trial on the charges.

QUOIT TOURNAMENT

Results in Friday evening's matches of the Odd Fellow's indoor quait tournament were as follows: Klugh and Wright defeated Miller and Cresswell 2 to 1; Fries and Demmy defeated Good and Mumma 3 to 0; Cargill and Brown defeated G. Good and J. Smith, 2 to 1; Fries and Demmy defeated Miller and Cresswell 2 to 1; Cargill and Brown defeated Klugh and Wright 2 to 1; G. Good and J. Smith defeated L. Good and Mumma 3 to 0.

TO HAVE HOUSE WARMING

INSURANCE PLAN ATTRACTS NOTICE

Inquiries About Insurance in State Fund Keeping Offices of Board Busy

The first application for insurance in the State's new insurance fund for employers' liability have been received by the new State Board and will probably be considered by the board when it meets on Thursday.

The first copies of the insurance forms brought in many inquiries for rates and the entire staff of the board is now at work on the details.

A number of inquiries have also been made for information about the State requirements for mutual liability companies, although thus far only one charter has been taken out.

The Compensation Board is scheduled to meet here during the week and throughout part of next week. Organization of the referee districts is ready to be perfected.

Many New Silos. — State Agricultural officials, who have been making inquiries into the methods followed by Pennsylvania farmers, report a big increase in the use of ensilage for cattle. Reports made to the bureau of statistics show that 19,000 barns are now equipped with silos. Many of these have been built in the last ten years.

Prison Labor Work. — Members of the new State Prison Labor Board are engaged in making a study of methods in use in other States to keep prisoners occupied in manufacturing useful articles and it is expected that in a short time they will have a meeting with Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh to discuss installation of machinery. The wardens of the two penitentiaries have been asked to give their ideas.

Noted Expert Coming. — Charles E. Meeks, president of the American Fire Prevention Association of Boston and one of the biggest fire experts in the country, who is to speak in the hall of the House to-night, was at the Fire Marshal's office to-day. He made a special trip from Dayton to deliver the address.

Middle Paxton Paid. — A few more checks for school districts were put out at the State Treasury to-day, funds having accumulated enough to allow about $75,000 to be paid out. Middle Paxton received $1,407.48.

Paint Men Here. — Paint manufacturers had a conference with Secretary of Agriculture Charles E. Patton regarding the launching of the State paint inspection yesterday afternoon and the questions arising over denials will now be worked out.

Cohen On the Job. — Charles E. Cohen, Deputy State Fire Marshal, is in charge of the inquiry into the recent fire at the Bethlehem Steel Works. He is a former fire chief of Allentown.

Boyle Named. — James L. Boyle, former deputy sheriff of Carbon county, has been appointed a game warden in place of the late Warden McHugh.

Bank Call Out. — Banking Commissioner Smith last night issued a call for statements of condition of State banks, trust companies, licensed private bankers and savings institutions as of November 11.

August Bulletin Out. — The August bulletin of the State Department of Labor and Industry made its appearance to-day. It contains a number of safety articles, including the value of asbestos curtains, safety for children, safety for sidewalk elevators and detailed accounts of proceedings of the Welfare and Efficiency Conference held last November in the Capitol.

Who Got Bread That Contained 2 Minced Fingers of Z. Blagoff?

Throughout the trial this morning of Gdrave Blagoff's trespass suit against Streza Dimitroff, a curious courtroom full of spectators, witnesses, court attaches and lawyers wondered what HAD become of Gdrave's two fingers.

Blagoff had been employed in the bakery of Dimitroff, a fellow Macedonian in Steelton, and while mixing some dough one "bake" morning, his hands caught in the cogs and wheels and paddles of the "mixer." When the machinery was stopped two of Gdrave's fingers were missing; only the bleeding stubs remained. That the batch of bread was baked didn't seem to be questioned during the trial this morning before Additional Law Judge McCarrell in November Common Pleas. Neither was the fact developed as to what patron got that particular loaf of bread. Blagoff, however, wants damages for the pair of missing fingers, the exact whereabouts of which for various obvious reasons will never, never be known.

Other Common Pleas cases decided to-day included: Genevieve E. Funk vs. Effie V. Beck, to determine the latter's rights as an insurance beneficiary, verdict in Effie V. Beck's favor; Miles F. Bixler against C. L. Brinser and Son, suit to determine liability of Brinser and Son for a bill for hardware supplies, verdict in defendant's favor.
