ORGANIZATION OF BUSINESS WOMEN

Over 150 Attend Preliminary Meeting Following Supper at the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Constance Beldeman presided at the special meeting of business women called for last evening at the Y. W. C. A. and attended by over 150.

First there was a supper in the cafeteria, the guests adjourning to the John Y. Boyd Hall for the session.

Miss Anna Owers, Industrial Secretary for the field of Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania made a stirring address, explaining the object of the club which may be formed here. Miss Owers told of the nation-wide movement among business women in clubs organized "for the purpose of uniting all thinking women, through open discussion of social, moral and economic problems, and bring them to a deeper realization of the big opportunities open to them for usefulness in their community."

The Rev. Henry W. A. Hanson, pastor of the Messiah Lutheran church was introduced to the audience and spoke on the evolution of the industrial conditions of the country. He advised business women to learn what their duty was and to lie for good. Using that good to call to the heart of every woman in the community seeking that good, fanning it into a flame that will burn brightly to show others the way.

A discussion followed, it being decided to hold an organization meeting of the new club on Monday evening, December 6.

The nomination committee appointed includes Miss Bess Trump, Miss Cora Lee Snyder, Miss Grimes, Miss Margaret Rooney, Miss Clara Miller and Miss Jennie Mumma. On the constitution committee are Miss Fanny McCamant, Miss Irene Rohrer, Miss Mary Turner, Miss Louise Hoxie

ALLIES WILL WIN SAYS CHURCHILL

Defends His Course in Dardanelles and Expresses Confidence

GERMANY IS WEAKENING

Former First Lord of Admiralty Wins Sympathy of House in Speech

By Associated Press

London, Nov. 16.—Defending the military expediency and the diplomatic value of the expedition against the Dardanelles, Winston Spencer Churchill, former first lord of the admiralty, who resigned a minor post in the coalition cabinet last week, made a speech in the house of commons yesterday remarkable for its plain speaking and expression of confidence in the ultimate triumph of the allies.

Especially significant was the following declaration, delivered with the force the speaker could command: "If there has been any operation in the history of the world that, having been taken, it was worth while to carry through with the utmost vigor, fiery and sustained flow of reinforcements and utter disregard of life, it is that operation so daringly begun under Jan Hamilton by the immortal landing in the Dardanelles."

Germany's Power Diminishing

Great Britain's command of the seas and the rapid and enormous destruction of German manhood were factors upon which the country might confidently rely. Germany's power was diminishing; Great Britain's was continually becoming stronger.

"We are the reserve of the allied cause," he said, "and the time has come when that reserve must be thrown fully into the scale."

Wins Sympathy of Whole House

For months Mr. Churchill has lived under reproaches. His entrance to the house yesterday was passed almost unnoticed. As he rose, his supporters gave him encouraging cheers. Approval increased in volume as he answered one charge after another, and he concluded amidst a hurricane of applause, while members of all political parties crossed the house to congratulate him.

Once in a while,
A boy loses his smile
And cannot tell where to find it;
Go to Kellberg's
And his face will merge,
Wearing its smile behind it.
