TOO DARK THERE SAYS MCCLARY

Former Penn-State Star Returns From Spitzbergen; Wants Daylight

Charleroi, Pa., Nov. 18.—About the finest grade of coal obtainable anywhere is to be had in Spitzbergen.

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration, to keep the pores clean. All cosmetics clog the pores. In cool weather this interferes greatly with elimination of waste material, injuring instead of aiding the complexion.

VINDICATE DOCTOR WHO LET BABY DIE

1,000 miles north of Norway, but Edward "Bull" McCleary, the famous State College athlete of a few years back, is mighty glad to get back to where there is law, order, civilization, real living, and daylight when you want it.

McCleary left the States in May, 1914, and so isolated was he from the time of his arrival in "No-Man's Land" somewhere near the North Pole until this year that he didn't even know the results of the 1914 world's series until July 25, 1915.

McCleary was employed in Spitzbergen by the Arctic Coal Company of Boston, Mass., as assistant superintendent in extensive mining operations.

McCleary does not intend to go back to Spitzbergen. On his way home he stopped at State College, where he closely followed the work of the State College football squad.

Not Cruel, Says Mother

"No one need think of me as a cruel or unnatural mother," she said. "My heart is full of mother love for all my children. But this poor little one, if allowed to live, would be for years only a burden to himself. His life would be dark, barren, useless. There could be no happiness to himself or pleasure or service to others."

It was noted that even although all those who looked at the dying child were stirred to deep pity, the face and the form were so wretchedly queer that none put out a hand in gentleness as he lay, sometimes faintly crying—none save Dr. Haiselden, who thought the child should die. He petted the helpless infant every little while.

Coroner to Take Action When the word came finally to Mrs. Bollinger that the child was dead, she wept, but said she had not changed her mind that death had been for the best.

The health and legal authorities now must decide what action will be taken in the case that has become so widely known and discussed. Health Commissioner Robertson said to-night that his course is plain. It will be to withhold a burial permit and request the Coroner to hold an inquest.

But the officials themselves feel sympathy with Dr. Haiselden's views. Dr. McCarter, who examined the infant on behalf of the Health Department, said:

"Personally, I agree with Dr. Haisel-

Deaths of Two Defectives

"We have just sent up for life two defectives guilty of horrible crimes. Russell Pecheck killed Ella Copper-smith and her child with no motive apparent. Another killed a four-year-old girl. New York has experienced the same thing in child 'ripper' murders."

After the little one had passed away, Dr. Haiselden said to newspaper men: "I have no doubt I shall be called a murderer, but the infant's death is a question between me and my conscience."

Dr. George U. Lipschur, a Chicago member of the Legislature, said he would seek a revocation of Dr. Haiselden's license. He said he intends to appear before the State Board of Health for that purpose. This statement was read to Dr. Haiselden. He laughed.

"Dr. Lipschur wouldn't say those things to my face," he said. "He'd tell them to you, then back down in my presence. I invite him to come over and repeat the statement to me."

"If he is so interested in the baby, why didn't he come to the hospital and do a little operating himself?"
