Pennsylvania Industrial and Public Welfare and Engineering Conference

This is the last day that you will be able to see the most interesting Safety, Welfare and Efficiency Exhibition that has ever been given in Pennsylvania. If you have not been one of the many thousands of persons that have attended, don't fail to be on hand to-day and if you have already attended the Exhibition you will probably need to come once again to see some of the exhibits more carefully than you were able to the first time. Music afternoon and evening.

ACADEMY READY FOR GETTYSBURG

Final Battle For Local Eleven; Hard Game Likely; Anxious For Another Victory

Harrisburg Academy will end a successful football season to-morrow. Early next week trophies in the way of letters and other honors will be distributed to this season's stars and heroes. The final battle will be with Gettysburg Academy.

In preparation for this contest Coach Tatem has had his squad working hard all week. Gettysburg's line-up will include players who were substitutes along the side lines last Saturday when Bucknell defeated the Gettysburg varsity eleven. These players were sent here to study the game.

This season has brought but one defeat to Harrisburg Academy. Wrentham Military Academy eleven gave the local eleven its only defeat, and did it with a much heavier team. Coach Tatem wants a victory to-morrow and in preparation for the game introduced new formations. The Academy practices with the local high school elevens brought good results. To-day's work was mostly in signal practice.

Students Will Be There An exceptionally large turn-out of the student body is promised for to-morrow's game to be played at 2:30. This afternoon another mass meeting was held at the academy at which plans were completed for a parade from the Academy to the field, and for the introduction of new cheers and songs.

Welly's Corner

Thanksgiving Day will mark the official close of the football season, and thenceforth the oval will give place to the larger and more spherical ball.

The Independents will open the basketball season Saturday evening with the Shamokin five as the attraction.

Fans can look for some fast games this season. The Independents have on their team a number of boys who have been playing together for a considerable number of years now, and there is nothing that makes for team work like time and experience and association.

"Ike" McCord will have charge of the high school contingent this winter. McCord is a good man and plays one of the headiest and snappiest games of any player in this section.

Harrisburg Academy will take the floor for practice next Monday. Their football season closes its most successful season with a game against Gettysburg Prep. to-morrow.

George Brickley seems to be stirring up as much tongue-wagging as his famous brother, Charlie, of Harvard fame did last year and the year preceding. Only with Charlie it was not so much like a couple of chickens pulling at a worm.

After Cornell and Syracuse, Franklin and Marshall is among the first three teams that come next in order of highest total scores for the football season just past.

Princetonians do not think any less of "Speedy" Rush because the team they were counting on to be world-beaters did not set the world on fire. The Tigers had a remarkably well-balanced team, but the goddess of fate decreed in favor of New England.

Cambridge will be the mecca for many eager travelers on Saturday.

Prognostications on the possible score are few and far between since the outcome of the Princeton-Yale game became known.

Next week Harvard, Princeton and Yale will hold a joint four-day session to revise eligibility rules. Rumor hath it that the five Yale ball players will be reinstated by two votes to one, Yale voting the opposition. Truly a situation extraordinary.

"If Yale can come back, so can we" is the feeling that is inspiring the team of the University of Pennsylvania. Confidence reigns.

Evidently Frank "Homerun" Baker is of a thrifty and far-seeing disposition, according to his determination to stick to farming and the Upland team of the Delaware County League seems to indicate. His salary there is and will be paid by a millionaire philanthropist. Fifty-fifty in any case, because the gate receipts were doubled last year as a result of Baker's presence with the Upland team.

Grover Cleveland Alexander will join the benedicts in a few weeks, it was announced yesterday. The Phillies' star pitcher has finally decided to sign up for a life contract and any orders hereafter will be given by an attractive little manager whose home is said to be in Philadelphia.

DICKINSON MAY DROP FOOTBALL

Material Is Lacking According to Director of Physical Training One Solution

Special to The Telegraph Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 19.—Dickinson College is up against serious consideration of the question of whether or not it will drop football. It is likely that at the next meeting of the College Athletic Association representatives of the student body will either call for some method by means of which more good material can be had or the abolition of the great college sport.

The official undergraduate organ has taken the matter up editorially and alumni have contributed suggestions as to various remedies.

Prof. Forest E. Craver, director of physical training, has just written: "We entered this year with more than ninety male Freshmen in the college. Of these men only one weighed more than 185 pounds, and he not a football player, and he never played football or engaged in athletics though willing to try; only one more scaled above 150. With few exceptions, all Freshmen who are above 150 pounds are trying for the Varsity or are playing on the Freshmen team."

The writer has seen during the present season twelve college teams other than our own on the gridiron. Not one of these teams but would outweigh us ten pounds to the man, while the majority would overtop us by twenty pounds to a man.

"Is it right to allow such material as we make our teams of to meet the kind of opponents that they are compelled to face?"

"Is it expedient to subject ourselves to ridicule by sending out a team unworthy of the high position of the college in all other respects?"

Prof. Craver believes that the only solution of the problem is that "Dickinson can drop football."

Hard on the Horses

There's a humane side to ordering coal now. Winter will soon be here, with its snow and ice, making the streets slippery and greatly increasing the chance of accidents to horses.

Don't wait till a blizzard comes before thinking of the coal you need.

GREAT YALE AND HARVARD KICKERS READY FOR BATTLE

GUERNSEY, OF YALE, WHO BEAT PRINCETON MAHAN, THE HARVARD STAR

Guernsey, the great punter of Yale, and Mahan, captain and great runner and punter of Harvard, will come together in the Harvard Stadium at Cambridge, November 20. Then will again be decided which is the better of these two great colleges of the East. Guernsey himself won the game from Princeton the other day, and Mahan has done wonderful work for Harvard in the games of the Crimson this season.

ican emblem with the Maroon and White of Lafayette on one side and the Brown and White of Lehigh on the other.

The crowd will include hundreds of alumni of both institutions from New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other Eastern cities, together with a large representation of followers of both teams in the Bethlehem, Easton, and the Lehigh Valley.

Upon the basis of comparative scores Lehigh appears to have the advantage. There have been three teams that have played this season by both Lafayette and Lehigh. Lafayette defeated Muhlenberg 14-7 while Lehigh won 20-0. Lehigh beat Albright 27-0 while on this team Lafayette rolled up a total of 46 points. The most recent opponent of both was Penn State. State triumphed over Lehigh in a hard cleanly fought battle by a single touchdown, in the game with Penn State at Easton last Saturday Lafayette lost 33-3 but at this time the full Maroon and White strength was not exhibited. Inasmuch as comparative scores have always been particularly dangerous in estimating the merits of Lehigh and Lafayette teams, there is no disposition in the Lehigh camp to place too much importance upon "paper" superiority.

Warriors Rest For Battle; Yale Camps Near Harvard

By Associated Press Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 19.—The Yale football team, entrenched almost within sight of the stadium, and the Harvard forces bivouacked, not many miles away gave themselves up to physical work to-day and tried to obtain a calm mental pose in preparation for the football classic to-morrow.

Experts agreed that each team showed unusual qualities both on offense and the defense and but for the matter of mental equation, the contest was one of Yale's brute strength and bulldog tenacity against a lighter crimson eleven well trained in a deceptive and diversified attack. The kicking department of the two teams were regarded as about equal although some football followers seemed to feel that Mahan was a trifle the better punter and that Guernsey was somewhat surer in field goals shot.

MANY PLAYS FOR ALLENTOWN GAME

Final Battle For Tech Away From Home; Probable Line-up For Locals

The Technical high school football team, consisting of a squad of twenty players, will leave to-morrow morning on the "Queen of the Valley" for Allentown where the Maroon and Gray will play its last game of the season away from home.

Coach Whitney will use all the team plays in this game, so that the team may be in good shape for the Thanksgiving contest with Central. The "Dutch" aggregation will prove a hard proposition to defeat, as they have made a good record this season. They played a 6-0 score last Saturday with Easton; the latter team earlier in the season won from Tech by a 13 to 0 score. The probable line-up will be:

Stupendous Motion Pictures of the German Side of the War

THE actual fighting, soldiers shot, wounded and dead. The powerful German War Machine in fighting action. The ruins of Przemysl. The destruction of the $1,000,000 bridge over the River San. The construction of pontoon bridges. The Austrian armored trains with giant revolving guns. The creation of portable Red Cross hospitals. The peasants with their families and belongings driven from their homes. The 30 centimeter gas belching their crimson hell. The shrapnel and bombs exploding. Soldiers blinded by gases. The pathetic scenes of soldiers crippled and maimed for life. Train loads of wounded soldiers, etc.—and all just as it is now happening and will continue to happen until the war is over. Every man, woman and child ought to see these wonderful pictures.

Fifty per cent. of the proceeds go to the blind and crippled soldiers' fund.

These pictures were shown for five weeks at the 44th street theater and Manhattan opera house—at 25c to $2. There will be no increase in the usual popular Victoria prices for these pictures. ADULTS, 10c; CHILDREN, 5c.
