NO THANKSGIVING HERE TOMORROW? PAXTANG HOOKIES GO TO LEBANON

Wheels of Industry Will Hum and Men Will Toil as Usual in Busy Steelton

Although throughout the land to-morrow men will lay aside their work and on holiday attire in observance of Thanksgiving day, the busy wheels of industry at Steelton will not even pause; and the army of 6,000 or more employees at the plant of the Pennsylvania Steel Company here, will continue to work like beavers that turn fires and whirling wheels many times in the intricate task of turning out their products of steel, now so incessantly demanded by the expanding industries of this and warring lands across the sea.

With the exception of a union Thanksgiving service in the First Reformed Church at 10 o'clock in the morning, and the general closing of stores and banks, to-morrow will be just like any other day in the busy borough at least to the families who depend upon the steel works for their livelihood.

Of course to the borough's youth it will be Thanksgiving day; and there will be the game on the Island at Harrisburg as at other times. It is a safe bet that the borough will see a great deal of hundreds to the premier football contest of the year there to-morrow.

Then, again, while it may not be the holiday it usually is, most families this year will have a nice fat, juicy, brown turkey—and last year when the mills were idle they didn't have that.

The union Thanksgiving service will be held in the First Reformed Church and the Rev. W. C. Sanderson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will deliver the sermon. Other ministers of the borough will also participate.

In the evening there are scheduled many little family reunions, parties, receptions and other events of a social nature, and a number of dances will be held in the hall of the borough. Members of the German Quartet Club will go to Harrisburg where they will be guests of the Harrisburg Mannerchor at a big feast in the Mannerchor hall in North street.

To Hold Union Thanks Services at Highspire

Union Thanksgiving services will be held by the three churches of Highspire in the United Brethren Church to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. On account of the death of his father, the Rev. B. L. C. Bear, pastor of the Church of God, who was to conduct the service, will not be present. Instead, the Rev. H. Rhoad, pastor of the United Brethren Church, will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon. The Rev. Philip Edward Moyer, pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, will also participate. The Rev. Mr. Baer is now at Shippensburg and will be unable to return for the service.

The weekly meeting of district prayer meeting No. 7, usually held at the home of some member each Wednesday, will be held in the United Brethren Church as a part of to-morrow's service. This union service will be a feature of the Thanksgiving celebration in Highspire which will include a number of other events and will be spent by most of the borough's citizens in a religious way.

FUNERAL OF MR. O'DONNELL. Funeral services for Patrick O'Donnell, who died Friday, were held from St. James' Catholic church this morning. The Rev. J. C. Thompson, rector, officiated and burial was made in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

"Lost Lamb" Taylor Loses Poor Board Place

Jury Commissioner Samuel M. Taylor, Democratic candidate at the primaries for county commissioner, and the lost lamb in the shuffle that led to the choice of Sheriff H. C. Wells, to-day lost out as a candidate for the honorary place on the Dauphin County Poor Board.

Mr. Taylor's name was placed in nomination by Poor Director C. L. Boyer to succeed President Harry A. Walters, whose death occurred last week. Thomas S. Manning, the Republican member of the board, didn't think much of the nomination, apparently. At any rate, Mr. Boyer voted "aye" and the board promptly voted "no." So the vacancy on the Poor Board will remain until the next board reorganizes in January.

The Poor Board to-day decided to provide child welfare nurse for the county during the remaining month of the year. The plan was adopted at the suggestion of the Visiting Nurse Association. A committee consisting of Mrs. Lyman D. Gilbert, Mrs. E. Z. Gross and Miss Mary Miller, the head nurse, called upon the directors this morning to urge their request. The choice of the welfare nurse will be left to the association's board.

BELIEVE YOUTH INSANE

Bin Omaph, about 19 years old, a Russian, who was taken from the Dauphin county jail to the Harrisburg Hospital last night in a semiconscious condition, is puzzling the physicians at that institution. The doctors are watching him carefully for further symptoms so that they can determine what is the cause of his illness. Omaph was arrested at the Union Station by Pennsylvania Railroad officers, who said that he began disturbing on the station platform while waiting for his train. He had a ticket in his pocket which showed that he was on his way to Hazleton from a small town in Iowa.

AS WE GROW OLDER

our minds are quite as active as in former years but our strength does not respond when we need it most; perhaps the kidneys are weak, the liver torpid, rheumatic pains or stiffened joints beset us, and we cannot easily throw off the colds that winter brings. What we need is the rich cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion to renew the blood and carry strength to every organ of the body, while its glycerine soothes the respiratory tract, and its hypophosphites strengthen the excitable nerves. Scott's Emulsion is a scientific oil-food, of unusual benefit to those past fifty years—particularly during the colder seasons, it imparts warmth and creates strength. One bottle will prove its worth. No alcohol or harmful drugs.

FIELD FORCES TO HAVE CONFERENCES

Secretary Patton Announces Plans For Keeping in Touch With His Men

AFTER MORE SCHOOLS Board of Education Moves to Get Millersville; Shippensburg Comes Later

Conferences of the field forces of the State Department of Agriculture to discuss various activities of the department are being planned by Secretary of Agriculture Charles E. Patton for the next month.

The details of the State paint inspection service, which becomes effective December 1, are being worked out and a statement to the trade will be made in a few days.

The conferences will include the men in charge of inspections of various materials for farming, such as fertilizers, the orchard demonstration, dairy and food, farm meat hygiene, and other forces. The work of the department will be outlined and plans made for extension of activities.

After Millersville.—Negotiations have been opened by the State Board of Education for purchase by the Commonwealth of a controlling interest in the Millersville State Normal School. This is one of half a dozen which the board has been authorized to acquire so that the State should have full title. The papers in the proceedings for purchase of the Clarion and Slippery Rock schools are now in the hands of the Attorney General.

Stamp Samples Here.—Samples of the first stamps for the State's new stock transfer tax have been received at the Capitol and they have been submitted to Governor Pennell and Auditor General Powell. The stamps will be placed on sale early next month and applications for many thousands have already been received.

Big Plan Filed.—Papers have been filed with the Public Service Commission for hearing on December 8 for the most extensive grade crossing abolition project outside of Philadelphia to come before the commission. It involves getting rid of thirteen crossings in Erie and an expenditure of $2,088,238.

Ball Was Success.—The first annual ball of the Men's Hebrew Association held last evening in the new hall, North Front street, was a success. Weiger's orchestra furnished music.

Permit.—Clada Lytolin has obtained a permit to build a small bakery in Buser alley. The structure will be 54 by 15 feet.

Society to Meet.—The Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will hold a sale of useful articles at the home of Winslow Miller, 180 North Second street.

At First Methodist.—The Rev. W. C. Sanderson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will preach a series of special sermons on "Modern Heroes of Faith," commencing next Sunday, Class 22, taught by Mrs. M. M. Stees, at a meeting in the church last evening.

To Hold Snappers.—Steelton Lodge, Loughman, to-day was a W. M. class of candidates this evening under the direction of Organizer B. C. Miller of Los Angeles, Cal. A smoker will follow.

Red Men Meet.—Paxtang Tribe of Red Men will go to Harrisburg to-day to take part in the initiation of a class of members into Warrior Eagle lodge.

Dance.—A dance for the benefit of St. Mary's Croatian Church will be held in Croation Hall, to-morrow evening. Weiger's Orchestra will play.

HENRY K. SHILEY. Henry K. Shiley, 81 years old, died at the home of his son, Jacob Shiley, 250 West Main street, Monday evening, from the effects of age. He is survived by four sons, Jacob, Ad, Edietown; Harry, of Harrisburg; Samuel, of Loraine, Ohio, and Frank of Indianapolis, Ind.; two daughters, Mrs. Solomon Conrad, of Middletown, and Mrs. G. M. Bunker, of York. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, from the Shiley home. Burial will be in the Ebenezer Cemetery, near Highspire.

Lad Kills Little Brother and Sister During Absence of Parents With Shot Gun

Huntingdon, Pa., Nov. 24.—At Calvin, a remote hamlet in this county, Howard, the eight-year-old son of John Prough, a farmer last night shot and killed his brother, four years old, and his sister, five years, during the absence of his parents. The father was hauling logs and the mother had gone to a near neighbor's on a domestic errand.

One Killed, Three Hurt When Tire Blows Out

Reading, Pa., Nov. 24.—Due to the blowing out of the tire of an automobile in which four men were riding in the suburbs this afternoon the machine turned turtle and Stephen Schnader of Mohnton, aged 20, was killed. Frank Conrad was seriously injured. Two other men were slightly hurt.

John W. Early Wants Stewardship of County Almshouse Once More

While the complete personnel of the Dauphin county poor board is still a matter of considerable conjecture in county circles owing to the vacancy caused by the death of Harry A. Walters, gossip as to the possible successor to the stewardship of the almshouse is agitating some quarters. The report was current to-day that John W. Early, former steward and an ex-member of the board, may succeed S. F. Barber, the present incumbent. All Mr. Early would say to-day in discussing the subject is that he is an applicant for the place.

Thanksgiving Greeting

WE are thankful that we are at peace within and without; our country is loaded with the fruits of just endeavors and busy with the work of harvest, with the building and beautifying. What a land to be thankful for, what opportunities are ours—safety, peace, plenty. We are thankful for the many men, whom we have placed at the head of our affairs. We are proud that we possess others as fit and as fine who will go in leadership, when they have done. We are thankful for the opportunities afforded us to furnish so many homes with fine, artistic, high quality furniture and newly designed soft colored rugs. We are grateful for the confidence our many customers have placed in this store's ability to serve to their highest degree of satisfaction. We are thankful that we have been so located to help keep down your expenses when you did make your purchases.

We rejoice in this day—let every Thanksgiving Day of future years still find you enjoying health, prosperity, and above all a prayerful heart to Him who doeth all things well.

STATUE JURY TO EAT TURKEY IN THE COURTHOUSE?

Case May Keep Twelve Good Men and True Tied Up Over Thanksgiving

"When Milton S. Hershey went upon the witness stand did he tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, as he was sworn to do, or did he tell just so much of the truth as suited his interests in this case?"

That was the question upon which Attorney Ralph B. Evans, of counsel for Giuseppe Donato, the Philadelphia sculptor, argued to the Dauphin county jury to-day in summing up the sculptor's claim of $25,000 against Hershey, the "chocolate king," for carving a fountain for Hershey Park.

The testimony closed yesterday and Attorney John E. Snyder, counsel for the chocolate manufacturer, finished his address to the jury at 11 o'clock this morning. Mr. Evans followed and the court placed the case in the jury's hands late this afternoon.

How About That Turkey? That's why the jurors' most all day took their minds off art and things artistic and let their thoughts take a trifle apprehensively, perhaps, on turkey. Should no decision be reached until to-morrow, the chances are that at least twelve of Dauphin's good men and true will eat their turkey and cranberries and things in a jury room.

Mr. Evans summing up attracted scores of spectators and No. 2 room was crowded. He touched upon each point in Donato's own case and then followed this with a hot argument against the points upon which Hershey tried to defend himself. And the attorney's address was in the same quiet, even tones that made his questioning of the witnesses so agreeable to listen to.

The Soul of Donato. "Mr. Hershey would have you believe," said he, "in order to discredit Donato as an artist, that Donato scribbled on his rough sketches. He would have you believe that Donato was guilty of this sacrilege—that Donato's 'soul was represented in his sketches and scribbled notes.' Why, gentlemen, this is absurd. Donato's finished work is this statue—his soul is the 'Fountain of Eternal Spring'."

"Now, as to when Mr. Hershey first knew of these changes? The defendant makes a great to do about the fact that Donato did not carve this fountain according to a contract. We contend that the verbal contract whereby Mr. Hershey agreed to these changes superseded the written contract."

Didn't Dare Demand Contract? "Is it natural to think that Donato would insist upon a written contract?"

Newsies to Decide Big Questions at Meeting

What shall it be? Turkey? Will the annual banquet be held to-morrow night or at Christmas? These three big questions will be decided by members of the Harrisburg Newsboys' Association at a special meeting to-night.

GIRL HELD FOR LARCENY

Bertha Marburger, a domestic at the Misses De Carter home, 1824 North Second street, yesterday afternoon was held for court to answer a charge of larceny. Mayor John E. Royal, who heard the case, fixed the bail at $300. The girl was charged with stealing cloth valued at $25, a silver mesh bag and an umbrella.

Applying this Paste Actually Removes Hairs

(Beauty Notes) Merely applying an inexpensive paste to a hairy surface, say beauty specialists, will dissolve the hairs. This paste is made by mixing a little water with some powdered delatone; after about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple method not only removes every trace of hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. To insure success with this treatment, be careful to get real delatone.—Advertisement.

Said my straggly gobbler to his wife, Mrs. Hen, My dear, you may nevermore see me again, So tomorrow's Thanksgiving you know what that means: First the hatchet—then feathers picked—then the cook cleans Me—and then for the slapping—so good and delectable! Please don't weep my dear, 'tis really respectable To die on Thanksgiving—such is our fate! Said Frau Hen, Yes dear, but is it too late To go down to Kellberg's and pose first for me—I want you to hang in my coop house, you see! So I can remember just how grand you look! That Morning Kellberg quite a 'Bird' picture took. Altho 'tis considered just not quite the thing To point out the moral, This turkey should bring A lesson right home to each queer, shabby man. Thousands have this disease—and don't know it

You may be afflicted with that dread disease of the teeth, pyorrhea, and not be aware of it. It is the most general disease in the world! The germ which causes it inhabits every human mouth—your mouth, and is constantly trying to start its work of destruction there.

Don't wait until the advanced stages of the disease appear in the form of bleeding gums, tenderness in chewing and loose teeth. You can begin now to ward off these terrible results. Accept the advice dentists everywhere are giving, and take special precautions by using a local treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet this need for local treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste.
