Will Be Guests of Independent Basketball Association Tomorrow Night

The Central and Technical football teams will be guests of the Harris-burg Independent Basketball Association to-morrow night. A section of the seats will be reserved for the grid-iron warriors, who will come to the game in a body.

The Garnets will be the attraction and will bring the same line-up to Harrisburg they had last season. They have a giant center in Kerr, and he gets the jump on most of his opponents. For a time in the early part of this season, it was thought that Dienes, who plays a forward, would sign with the DeNeri Club, but he finally decided to stick with the Gar-nets.

nally decided to stick with the Garnets.

American League Team
In Philadelphia the Garnets play in the American League, and are known as the Girard Alumni, for every member of the team is an alumnus of Girard College. Last season the Garnets had very little trouble in winning the championship.

The Independents hope to have Rote in at least part of the game, for they feel that they need him to win. Last night they held a long signal practice, followed by a short scrimmage. McConnell's arm, which was injured Saturday night, is improving, and every member of the team will be in the best of condition.

The super-smart shape of the season.

Dickinson. — Yesterday afternoon Coach Dunn put the crippled Dickinson College 'Varsity through its last signal practice before the Lafayette game at Easton to-morrow. Never before has the Red and White sent such a delegation away on the final trip of the season. Russell and Hartzler were lost to the squad, owing to parental objections. Hamby, Dalton, Johnson and Bolger are all in bad shape, and it is doubtful if any will get in the contest, Dickinson had been unfortunate all season in not having good substitutes to put into the game in the last quarter, as in nearly every game opponents were only able to score by sending in fresh players in this quarter.

Bucknell. — Coaches Johnson and Cockill gave the Bucknell 'Varsity a long signal drill last evening. Spotts, Hendren, Mangan and Atkins were in the backfield, while Dent and Eanks were on the ends. These layers will likely start the game against Lebanon Valley here on Thanksgiving. The coaches announced that to-day the last practice of the year would consist of a short signal drill, just sufficiently long to keep the men limbered up for the game to-morrow. All of the men are in excelent form.

Albright. — Albright held its last scrimmage yesterday afternoon in preparation for the Red and White team's last and most important game of the season—that with Mulhenberg to-morrow, at Allentown. It was a long, hard workout the team was subjected to by Coach Kelchner, and at the close of the work he stamped it to have been the best of the season, every player, with the exception of Benfer, being in his place and physically fit. Hoffman drove the team hard in a fast and snappy practice, during the course of Gamber and Patschke and Roland and Church.

Lebanon Valley.—Coach Guyer gave his Lebanon Valley 'Varsity squad a long workout yesterday afternoon on Annville Field, the practice being called at 1.30 on account of the annual banquet given to the student body later in the day. The coach preceded his drill by giving the men a talk on forward passing and breaking up interference on end plays. A short preliminary workout was held and then the 'Varsity team, piloted by Quarterback Keating was sent down the field in a fast signal drill. Mackert was back at full-back, the only regular position vacant being Bechtel's tackle.

ORANGE PEEL HAS TROUBLE MAKING STRANGERS BELIEVE

MAKING STRANGERS BELIEVE

Orange Peel, says the Washington Star, is the name of the dairyman of the Utah Food and Dairy Commissioner's Department. Orange Frederick Peel is the name in full. "I have had more difficulty persuading people that I am not fooling, and all but taken an oath that my name is the same as the rind of the famous fruit, that you could ever imagine," said Mr. Peel. "At school a fellow called me lemon peel after he heard my last name was Peel. He thought he was joking. But I went him one better when I explained to him my full Christian name. Then he looked on me as a sort of hero, and ceased joking." Mr. Peel says his parents called him Orange because he was a sweet child.

Fighters to Decide

So far as the actual money is concerned, he says, the division is up to the men who compete in the bout. Both Coffey and Smith have at various times indicated that they would agree to a winner-take-all basis.

If Jess Willard, the world's heavy-weight champion, agrees, his first opponent since beating Jack Johnson will be Frederick Fulton, the Minnesota giant. Thomas S. Andrews, of Milwaukee, who was delegated to represent the New Orleans Club which aspires to promote the world's battle, wired last night that Fulton had been chosen as Willard's opponent.

Messrs, Tortorich and Burns, of New Orleans, have set March 3 as the date of the contest, and the bout will be for 30 rounds or less.

Lebanon Valley Winner

Special to The Telegraph

Lebanon, Pa., Nov. 24.—Jack Ozar, of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, won over young Dementral, of Cincinnati, Ohio, in a wrestling bout held here to decide the question of the amateur middleweight championship.

After a 14-minute struggle, Ozar got a crotch and a half Nelson hold on his opponent, who was forced to quit as the result of a badly wrenched arm, and the bout was awarded to Ozar. With a body scissors and head lock Brown threw Bisffamoyer twice in as many minutes. There were two boxing bouts on the dual bill for the evening, Smith losing to Shonders on a foul in the fourth round, when he floored the latter for the count with a blow which was too low. Johnny Kirkwood beat Joe Frazier, stopping him in the third round.

In answer to many inquirers, records show that Harvard and Yale have played 36 games. Yale won 22: Harvard 10; and five were tie battles. In 1883 Yale deefated Harvard, 48 to 2. In 1910 and 1911 neither team scored. Harvard won the next four games including that of last Saturday.

The Daily Princetonian, official organ of the students, rather querulently comments upon the fact that Princeton has to play Harvard and Yale on two successive Saturdays, and Yale plays Princeton and Harvard on two successive Saturdays, while Harvard has two weeks between times to rest up. The answer is easy. It is but another indication that Percy Haughton is the brainiest football coach in the business to-day.

The Academy may well be satisfied with their football season. The hall played hard rames with more spirit than has been shown for sevyears. Now let the same spirit permeate the basketball team.

Here's hoping that Franklin Field on Thanksgiving Day will not present the spectacle it did several years ago when the playing surface was so besmeared with rain and snow and mud and ice that the players resembled sledges, or beasts from some northern climes, rather than human beings and a tackle always added at least ten yard to the distance gained. This is for Central and Tech, too.
