Mr. S. Claus Has Emptied His Knapsack of Good Things Into BOWMAN'S; And Christmas Shopping Is Now On In Earnest

Three days ago the alert ear of an attentive salesgirl caught a part of a kindly gentleman's remark to his friend as he passed her counter: "—to be so pretty in here, and it's a wonder to me how—"

Enough to let us know that he — like hundreds more — was pleased with the appearance of the store.

Few complaints; fewer merchandise returns; less elevator congestion bespeaks greater efficiency. Deliveries have been "speeded up," and the whole organization is in apple-pie order for the busiest Christmas season ever.

A Smile given free to each visitor.

Only 17 Days More to read Christmas Gift announcements.

Complete your shopping by December 15th.

Toy Town Is Full to Overflowing With All That Old Santa's Ingenious Brain Could Conceive

And everything here is a picture itself of funny, jolly, fat Santa Claus. The funny clowns, the clever mechanical toys, the quaint wooden animals and ever so many others.

Bring the Children to Toy Town And to Santa Claus' Castle

Watch their eyes dance with delight at the many things to see—trains, fire engines, sand toys, model builders, drums, guns, and toys for the wee, tiny tots are here aplenty.

There are dolls, dolls and dolls everywhere. So many that a census had to be taken.

Santa has a little something to give each boy and girl who will visit him in his castle to-morrow.

And the very little children should inquire at the Santa Claus Post Office for a letter from Santa.

This Good Word to Men--- About Suits

We have just purchased some wonderfully fine suits from one of the country's best known makers, to sell at $14.75 and $16.75

—and depend upon it, men, they are genuine $18 to $25 suits

The garments are of tested woolen fabrics—fine cassimeres and velours; in grays, greens, browns and mixtures. Also soft worsteds in blues, browns, stripes, tartan plaids, and black and white mixtures.

Suits for the thin man; short man, stout man, and extra sizes, as well as for normal figures.

Bowman Style Coats for Women Are Built For Solid Comfort

Style first. But style without comfort, the wearer might just as well have no coat.

Here you may choose from a most thoroughly complete array of stylish coats that were designed to give comfort, as will be noticed in the warm inter-linings.

A splendid variety of:

Woolen Fabric Coats, $9.50 to $25
Corduroy Coats, $16.50 to $28.50
Plush Coats, $22.50 to $45.00

In the woolen fabrics will be found dashing plaids and subdued checks; mixtures, and a variety of those smart manish materials that seem to be so greatly favored by many women.

Good pluses are somewhat scarce, and rather "stock up" with grades that are not dependable, we are showing the better ones in moderate numbers.
