FRANCE TO CARRY WAR THROUGH TO THE BITTER END

Will Not Make Peace Until German Imperialism and Militarism Is Crushed

WANT BELGIUM RESTORED

First Responsible Statement Says Alsace and Lorraine Must Be Re-established

Paris, Dec. 6, 11.11 A. M.—France will not make peace until Alsace and Lorraine are won, Belgium and Serbia restored and German imperialism and Prussian militarism are put beyond the possibility of resurrection...

There will be no peace until our Alsace and Lorraine are definitely re-established as part of the French unity.

There will be no peace until our unfortunate brothers of Belgium and Serbia are assured of recovering their homes in complete security and independence.

There will be no peace until German imperialism and Prussian militarism are put beyond the possibility of resurrection.

There will be no peace until a system of right, founded upon the victorious union of the allies, and supported by the free adherence of neutrals, has abolished forever the violence of war.

Whatever may be the sacrifices, France, united, will go steadily forward to accomplish this end. To-day, before the terrible obstacle which confronts them, justice and liberty have only one road—that which our nation in arms opens to them with the machine gun and cannon.

That is the meaning of the determination of France to carry the war to the end? It means re-establishment of the European equilibrium and that no peace will be made until Alsace and Lorraine are returned and we are guaranteed security from the Germans.

Suggests Passing Ford Party Up as "Of No Particular Importance"

London, Dec. 6, 3:20 P. M.—A request made in the House of Commons this afternoon by Sir Edwin A. Cornwall, Liberal member for the Northeast division of Bethnal Green, that an intimation be sent to Henry Ford and William Jennings Bryan that their proposed peace mission to this country would be "irritating and unwelcome" at this time, drew the response from Lord Robert Cecil, parliamentary under secretary for foreign affairs...

Speaking for myself I think it would be the highest degree undignified for the government of this country to send any intimation to a lot of ladies and gentlemen who, whatever their merits may be, are of no particular importance.

DIDN'T YOU FORGET TO BUY YOUR RED CROSS SEALS TODAY?

HERE'S THE 1915 RED CROSS SEAL.

When you called at the post office to-day did you remember to stop for a moment or two at the prettily decorated little booth at the parcel post window to buy some Red Cross Christmas seals?

If you neglected that to-day don't overlook it hereafter, for there'll be plenty of chances to buy Christmas stamps throughout the remainder of the holiday season.

In the booths at the post office, Dives, Pomeroy and Stewart's, L. W. Cook, Bowman and Company, and D. L. Kaufman's department stores, the seals were put on sale and daintily garbed "Red Cross nurses" were the sales girls.

Dr. J. M. J. Rauscher, city health officer who has charge of this end of the distribution, said that at least 50,000 seals were placed in the booths for the first consignment.

In the schools of the city and the "cross-river" towns and in the factories, business houses and mercantile establishments at least 150,000 seals were placed for sale.

Dr. C. R. Phillips, chairman of the general committee to-day once more explained the uses to which the proceeds of the seal sale will be applied.

"Window tents" care for the children who attend the open-air schools, and clothing to cover the poorer sufferers who otherwise couldn't get together the necessary and proper clothing to make the journey to the State tuberculosis camp, are a few of the most important needs," said Dr. Phillips.

HUSBAND SHOTS HIS CHILD WIFE

Victim About to Take Train to Join Sister in Burlesque Company

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 6.—Enraged because his 15-year-old bride refused to reconsider her determination to leave him, Joseph Santore, 19 years old, drew a revolver and shot the girl in the right shoulder, yesterday, in the waiting room of the Broad Street Station.

The child-wife was taken to Hahnemann hospital, where physicians say her condition is serious, as she is about to become a mother.

Panic seized a hundred or more passengers in the station when the woman ran screaming to the east end of the waiting room, where she sank into a seat. Passengers scattered to the train shed and ran downstairs to the first floor.

The boy-husband followed his wife and stood dumbly beside her, looking as if he had no realization of what he had done. He was disarmed by Detective McIntosh of the Pennsylvania Railroad force.
