MANY BUY SEALS 'CROSS THE RIVER

L. D. Crunkleton, New Cumberland, in Charge of Xmas Crusade

While the sale of Red Cross Christhas seals is going ahead with a whoop broughout the schools, department stores, business places and so on in Harrisburg, the distribution of the Yuletide "stickers" in the 'cross-river towns is being handled on a scale that has never been attempted before in the history of the white plague cru-sades.

sades.
The chairman of the subcommittee
on 'cross-river work is Shirley B.
Watts, local manager of the Bell Telephone Company, but the direct supervision of the sales is in charge of Pro-fessor L. D. Crunkleton, supervisor of the New Cumberland schools. Pro-fessor Crunkleton has perfected a re-markable organization with the assist-ance of the following teachers in other towns who are serving as distributing agents:

Formal opening of the Red Cross Christmas crusade in Harrisburg is brightly and attractively evident in the evenings now in the business section: the big flaring red and white lighted cross that has been donated by the Harrisburg Light and Power Company to boost the cause has been swung across Market street in front of the Courthous.

Deer Hunter Killed by Accidental Discharge of Gun

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 8.—Charles G. Shank, whose home is at Guernsey, in the northern part of Adams, was shot and killed by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of Charles Stover, of Bendersville. The accident occurred at the home of John Cole, in the Buchanan valley. The men in company with several others, had been hunting deer during the morning and were starting from the house for the afternoon tour when the accident occurred. The load entered Shank's thigh and death resulted before a physician reached the place. Shank was about 30 years old and is survived by his wife and six children.

Slayer Pleads Not to Be Taken to Electric Chair

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 8. — Edgar C. Murphy, slayer of Herman Fisher, in Burlington county, was electrocuted last night in the State prison. "It isn't for my sake, for God's sake don't," he protested as he was half led, half carried to the chair.

The current was turned on three times, and in six minutes he was declared dead.

When the guards appeared at his cell door, he said: "You have no right to take me, and I have no right to go." buring the march to the chair he kept saying, "Please don't."
