Mrs. Bumbaugh to Sing at the Thompson Recital

Mrs. William K. Bumbaugh who will sing at the John Thompson recital to-morrow evening at the Technical High school is well known as a church and concert singer. Her repertoire includes practically all the standard arias, operatic and oratorio, and her active work in the Wednesday club has added efficiency and value to that organization. As a church singer Mrs. Bumbaugh is among the best; she is at present soloist of Messiah Lutheran church. Sascha Simkips, the violinist who will also play at the Thompson concert is a young man with a promising future. The critics speak very highly of his wonderful bowing as well as his fine touch and technique. Mr. Decevee will give a short lecture on "The Value of Music to a Community." Tickets may be obtained at Sigler's, 32 North Second street, John Bros., 8 North Market Square, Oyer's, 14 South Fourth street and at the Conservatory of Music.

Arrange Fine Program For a Mothers Meeting

The third mothers' meeting of St. Andrew's kindergarten will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the parish house, when all mothers and women interested in children and their welfare are invited to be present. These meetings are both instructive and interesting, as the following program to be presented to-morrow will show:

Call to order, by Mrs. Frederick W. Watts, superintendent of the kindergarten association; songs and prayer; secretary's report, Mrs. Louis Irwin; "Questions for Mothers," Miss Hilary; "Study of Child Nature," Mrs. James Fry Bullitt; address by Dr. Norman B. Shepler; organ recital by Mrs. Carl E. Rapp; "Stories of Earlier Harrisburg," by Miss Marjorie House (this paper won 1st prize awarded by Harrisburg Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in the recent Central high school contest for senior girls).

As the women of St. Andrew's are holding a bazaar and supper in the assembly room Thursday afternoon and evening, the mothers are asked to meet upstairs in the rear of the church.
