

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATERS

Take Your Morning Bath in Comfort

Not only during the warmer months, but all through the hard, raw, shivery winter time.

In spite of the coldest, snowiest weather, you can get full pleasure from your morning bath if you'll only get a

PERFECTION Smokeless Oil Heater

Keep it ready by your bedside, spreading its genial warmth all through your sleeping room; then, just as soon as you roll out of bed, put your Perfection in the bathroom. In less than no time this, too, will be warm—not too warm, but just right.

A Perfection Heater makes the usual winter ice-cold tiled floor but a memory. Because of recollections of past discomforts, once used this heater becomes indispensable to your comfort.

It is a perfect heating device, burns without a trace of smoke or smell. Its fuel economy is pronounced, the more so if you use Atlantic Rayolight Oil. A large one-gallon tank makes constant refilling unnecessary.

Almost any dealer will gladly demonstrate a Perfection Oil Heater. The modest price ($2.75 to $5.00) will especially please and astonish you.

LOOK FOR THIS SIGN—
The store that displays it is usually a mighty good place to trade, for the dealer who is careful about the kerosene he sells is equally particular about all the other necessities you buy from him.

BUTTER and KEROSENE

There is good butter and bad butter. So is there good and bad kerosene. You can tell the difference between butters, but what do you know about kerosene?

To be sure to get the purest, best, highest grade kerosene—the kind that lasts longest, burns hottest and brightest, without smoke, soot or odor, and doesn't cost any more than the common kind, just ask your grocer for

WAR HORSES ARE WELL CARED FOR

Canadian Veterinaries Have Developed Science of Treating Animals to High Degree

Correspondence of Associated Press, Ottawa, Can., Dec. 9.—An interesting official account of how horses fare in war is contained in a report received here from the chief remount officer with the Canadian Army Corps in France, and the report points out that even in modern warfare each infantry division of 21,000 men requires 6,200 horses.

Continuing, the report reads: "The horses of a division are taken care of by twelve veterinary officers and a veterinary section, of twenty-seven men, which attends to the horses in the firing line."
"There is one Canadian field hospital in France composed of three hundred and eighty-seven men and six officers. It has a capacity of one thousand cases, and the work which is done there is really remarkable. Horses, which in previous wars and in civilian life, would be destroyed at once, are treated so successfully that in due course they become fit for military duty in the firing line. It is interesting to note that of six hundred and seventy horses sent in on one occasion, only twelve died. Five hundred and ninety-five eventually became fit for service, or to be sold as castles for easy duty."
"The men work under the most trying conditions, often exposed to the fire of rifle and big gun. They are up around the lines all the time gathering in wounded horses; their horsemanship is remarkable. Wounded horses are immediately given first aid. Any horse that can walk is rushed back to the mobile section, or field hospital, his wounds are carefully treated and every care given him."
"During the second battle of Ypres, when the Canadians were pressed to their utmost, at no time was the supply of horses diminished at the firing line. As casualties occurred among battery and transport horses, reinforcements were rushed through the storm of bursting shells to take their places. Although our horses were within three hundred yards of the enemy, there never was a wagon or a gun lost, in what is known as one of the fiercest engagements that has taken place in this war."
"Wounds Heal Fast
"Horse's wounds heal more rapidly than a man's. Cases of horses with ten bullets in them have been known to report complete recovery within a very few weeks. In fact, some wounded horses have been back in the firing line within a week. If a horse cannot walk, however, he is usually considered a hopeless case, and must be destroyed. These horses add those which are killed outright, are thrown to one side, during an engagement and buried after."
"In the hospitals, cases are divided into contagious diseases and wounded. The hospitals are absolutely modern in every respect. Great care is taken to avoid putting the horses to undue pain. Animals are seldom operated on without chloroform. To date only 10 per cent. of the Canadian horses at the front have succumbed and very few of these died from disease. Most of them are killed in battle."
"Doctoring a horse is no simple matter. There are over four hundred diseases to which a horse is subject. As he cannot tell you how he is feeling it is very difficult to diagnose his case. The Canadian veterinarians show great skill in this respect. They use active principal drugs and they have also developed to a high degree the use of serums."
"It is interesting to note the war horses' diet; they are fed three times a day and get an allowance of eighteen pounds of hay, twelve pounds of oats, eight pounds of straw, or in lieu

WEAK WOMEN!

A Pennsylvania Woman Testifies
Corry, Pa.—"When I got into that condition where a woman feels dragged out all the time, I began taking 'Favorite Prescription.' I was living in Pittsfield, Pa., at the time. ANDREW MACK IN "THE IRISH DRAGOON"
Miss Gilda Leary, who enacts the role of dainty Lucy Dragoon, and is won by the romantic audacity, that daredevil Captain O'Malley, as sung and played by Andrew Mack, the popular singing comedian in his new production, "The Irish Dragoon," holds the record for the longest time in the theatre characters within the past five years than any other American actress. With this period she has appeared in such companies from Vancouver, B. C. to New York City during an average period of three weeks in exactly 159 parts in modern plays.—Advertisement.

RUTH ST. DENIS ON THE AMERICAN GIRL
"The women of America seem to be a never-ending subject for comment on the part of foreigners who linger for a while in our communities," commented Ruth St. Denis, who will appear with her company at the Orpheum Theater, Wednesday night, December 15, on being shown the latest estimate of American women, by one who has been much in the public eye in the past few weeks. "I wonder," she continued, "the French, the English, the German, or the Russian women are the most interesting to analyze on the part of their visitors; and, considering the matter, I have come to the conclusion that it is because our home folks are different—they stand out by sheer force of their individuality, and hence—our kind friends would make them over as they should be—somewhere else."—Advertisement.

COLONIAL'S NEW TRIANGLE PROGRAM CALLS IN FRANK KEENAN AND EDDIE FOY
Comedy and drama will likely vie for honors in the stirring new Triangle program that will be exhibited at the Colonial to-day to remain there for the care of by such an artist as Eddie Foy, and he will have the support of a big array of Triangle talents in presenting "The Favorite Fool." The dramatic attainments of Frank Keenan are admirably exploited in a masterpiece, a Civil War drama entitled, "The Coward." Once in a decade comes a model of great characters, straightforward unity of plot, terrific emotional power, true to life and art. Such many who have seen it in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago is Thomas H. Ince's new Civil War drama, "The Coward." The scenes of "The Coward" are laid in the Valley of Virginia in 1867. The story is that of a young man, a type like Coriolanus or Spartacus, and a weak, timid son of the Hamlet-like type.—Advertisement.

POPULAR ACTRESS IN "THE WHITE PEARL" AT THE REGENT TODAY
To-day is the last to see one of the Daniel Frohman productions in moving pictures where Marie Doro is presented as one of the most charming young stars of the contemporary stage in "The White Pearl," which was especially created for her by Edith Barrard Delano, author of the recent Pickford Triumph, "Rage."
To-day only—with the offering of "Her Shattered Idol," wonderful Mae Marsh once more comes to the front as the star and in this production she has ample opportunity to firmly establish herself as the "most interesting actress appearing on the screen to-day," a description justly applied to her by D. W. Griffith himself.
Mae Carter, the wealthy ward of Colonel Aitken, has engaged herself to her guardian's nephew, Robert, and after a lot of pretty teasing, she allows the young man to slip an engagement ring on her finger.—Advertisement.

THEDA BARA IN "THE GALLEY SLAVE" AT THE VICTORIA THEATRE TODAY
To-day for the last time we present that amazing woman, Theda Bara, at the front as the star and in this production she has ample opportunity to firmly establish herself as the "most interesting actress appearing on the screen to-day," a description justly applied to her by D. W. Griffith himself.
