Does Not Phase Market, Specialties Make Big Gains;

War Shares Lose

By Associated Press

New York, Dec. 9.— Irregular price changes with a majority of nominal advances, accompanied to-day's early dealings. Overnight developments, including the note to Austria, were without effect beyond imparting a degree of hestation. Bear selling of United Sites Steel depresse which it promptly rose to 87%. There were further substantial gains in certain specialties, especialty motor issues, but rails were dull and narrow. Anglo-French notes for future delivery made the new low quotations at 95%.

Early gains were effaced when renewed selling of steel caused that stock to fall back to its low price of the opening. War shares, some of which had scored decided gains, lost much of their improvement on advices from Washington pointing, strongly to a tax, on manufacturers of municions, heaviness, with most of the leaders under yesterday's closing prices. There was considerable activity in some of the very obscure and low-priced mining stocks, that movement, however, eliciting no public interest. Bonds were heavy with a further decline in Anglo-French notes to 95½.

Federal Officials Say Munitions Strikes Investigation Is Warming Up

New York, Dec. 9.—Important and unexpected developments have occurred in the government investigation into the alleged activities of Franz von Rintelen and associates to incite strikes in munition factories, it was learned to-day from federal officials in charge of the inquiry.

For the first time to-day it was officially admitted that certain German and Austrian consuls may be mentioned in the report of the grand jury. It was also stated that one of the subjects which has been given close at tention by the jurors was the strike at the General Electric Company's works at Schenectady last summer. The General Electric Company has large contracts with the allies for munitions.

A decided renewal of activity and interest in the Standard Oil subsidiary stocks was evident during the week's trading. Conspleuous in crude oil prices with enormously increasing earnings for these companies have stimulated the market in all Standard Oil issues. There is ample reason to believe this price appreciation will continue until much higher levels are attained. Our files contain complete, exclusive and up-to-date information on all Standard Oils.
