DISTRICTS WILL BE GIVEN LATER

Chairman Mackey Will Assign Men to Have Charge of Compensation Work

KELLOGG IS HONORED

One of Patton's Division Chiefs Appointed to Investigation Board

Assignment of districts to the workmen's compensation referees will probably not be made for several days, as the list will be gone over with the Governor by Chairman H. A. Mackey, and it is possible that some changes may be made in the headquarters cities in the interior districts.

The board's requirement that employers applying for exemption must declare when they will discontinue between married and unmarried men, Americans and aliens and old men and young, will be immediately communicated to the applicants for exemption from necessity of carrying insurance. Over seventy-five such applications have been made, among them big railroad, steel and other companies. The insurance board has not acted upon any as yet. The official rates will be issued in the course of a few days.

To Push Surveys.—Surveys will be carried on during the winter on the Pymatuning swamp reservoir project, the State Water Supply Commission, which has been in charge of the project, having determined last night to push the survey work. It is expected that the bureau can be completed by May and if the appropriation holds out it is hoped to make a start on the detailed plans for the dam and other works. Some preliminary work has been taken on the lands which will be first required. The borings and other preliminary work have been finished at the site of the dam.

Changes Under Way.—Changes in the form of corporation reports for State taxation will be announced within a few days by the Auditor General's department in accordance with the acts of 1915. The new forms are to be effective with the new year, as the taxation year will correspond to the calendar year.

Home From Coast.—Among "Hill" visitors yesterday was W. Theo. Wittman, of Altoona, the poultry expert of the Department of Agriculture, who has just returned from the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, where he was one of the judges at the National Poultry Show connected with the exposition.

Kellogg Honored.—Chief Chemist James W. Kellogg, of the Department of Agriculture, has been appointed a member of a committee of the National Association of Feed Chemists to study the feeding quality of refuse middlings of tin plate mills. The refuse middlings are made up of wheat and palm oil and are sold as feed after being used in the tin mills. State Veterinarian C. J. Marshall, of the Department of Agriculture, will assist with the experiments to determine whether the minute particles of tin which are gathered with the middlings affect it as a foodstuff. H. E. Gensler, of the laboratory, who is in charge of portions of seed analysis work, will attend the seed analysts' convention at Columbus on December 27-28.

Mr. Patterson's Brother Dead.—James C. Patterson, deputy superintendent of public grounds building, yesterday received the intelligence of the death of his brother, Frank G. Patterson, which occurred Thursday morning at Altoona. Mr. Patterson was an attorney by profession and was connected with many enterprises in the Mountain City. He constructed the Wopsonock railroad, a line about ten miles in length, from Altoona to the famous look-out at the mountain top, one of the city's principal resorts. He spent a year and a half in the Klondike during the early excitement over the gold discoveries in that region. He is survived by a widow and several brothers and sisters. The funeral will take place at Altoona, but the date had not been set at the time his brother received the news of his death.

To Spend $25,000.—The State Armory Board is to spend $25,000 in making the Thirtieth Regiment armory at Scranton safe, according to Scranton papers. The armory was damaged by a cave-in of coal lands.

Mr. Kephart Here.—H. M. Kephart, chief clerk of the Senate, was here yesterday looking after office matters.

Named as Notary.—C. L. Myers, of York Springs, has been appointed a notary public.

Attended Dinner.—Chairman Ainey, of the Public Service Commission, was in Washington attending a dinner at the Japanese embassy.

Demand for Small's Smull's Legislative Handbook.—Small's Legislative Handbook, which made its appearance yesterday, is in such demand at the office of the division of distribution of documents that the whole contingent from the State Printery was shipped out before night, and until more are received no orders can be filled. Dr. J. M. Esler, chief of the division of documents, plans to send them out by the wagonload as fast as they are received.

Busy Week Ahead.—The Public Service Commission, which adjourned for the week to-day, will have meetings next week in Harrisburg, Altoona, Scranton, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia as cases are not concluded. The full crew cases will be heard here on December 21 and the Hogarth case against the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company on the following day.

Will Do Some Observing.—Members of the State Commission of Agriculture will make some observations on the manner in which the State's farming and educational work is being conducted between now and the time of the next meeting of the commission in January. It is probable that some sweeping changes will be inaugurated in the next year in the activities of the department.

Officers Retire.—Colonel Fred A. Tencate, of Phoenixville, who was colonel of the old Eleventh Infantry of the National Guard, has been placed on the retired list as a brigadier-general; Captain Charles P. Wagner, Company F, Third Infantry, has been retired as a major, and Captain Harry G. Andrews, Company B, First Infantry, has resigned.

Force All Filled.—The State police force has no vacancies now. All of the places were filled last November. There are over 250 applicants.

Governor Away.—Governor Brumbaugh and most of the department chiefs were away to-day. Everyone seemed to be in Philadelphia.

JOLLY FIVE WINNER
The Jolly Five of the Casino League last night won from the Crescents, score 2,779 to 2,774. Basch of the Jolly Five had hot high scores, 258 and 649. The next match will be played Monday night between the Crescents and Skippers.

The Newest In Clothes Is Shown Here First

The minute a new style is decreed in men's wear, the men of Harrisburg and vicinity are given the tip through this store.

And it's this "up-to-the-minuteness" that has played a big part in winning for Worthy Clothes such speedy popularity on the part of men, young and old.

Just by way of example, we call attention to a midseason creation in overcoats—being a radical departure from the early season loose boxback coat. It's a form-fitting, double-breasted model, in meltons and kersey, grays and blues, the latter predominating.

"Banjo Stripes"
Blue, black and brown flannel suits with white chalk and banjo stripes, plain and pinch back models, popular with young men.

Prices start at $15.00
Others at $20 and $25.

WELLY'S CORNER

Scholastic football battles will be fought over next Tuesday night at the annual banquet to Central High players. A new captain will also be announced at this feast and plans discussed for next season. There is no denying the fact that Central made a clean-up this year and is entitled to one big celebration.

George ("Stoney") McLinn, sporting writer on the Philadelphia Public Ledger, was last night given a testimonial dinner by the Sporting Writers' Association of Philadelphia and friends. "Stoney" retires on January 1 to become editor of the American Shooter magazine, of Baltimore. McLinn is a Bloomsburg boy and well known in Harrisburg. He was a staunch supporter of the Tri-State and a big booster for youngsters.

According to a dispatch from Buffalo, N. Y., the Bisons quit the season without a loss financially. This will be news to the baseball world. According to statements made in Harrisburg, the attendance was below the average, due to the opposition from the Federal League. Attendance did pick up when Buffalo looked like a pennant winner, but Harrisburg never received more than a guarantee in that city.

Collegiate schedules now being arranged indicate a longer football season next year. While some of the games added may be of minor importance in summing up the season's work, the general opinion prevails among coaches that the extra contests will prove beneficial in bringing the players against a fighting team early in the season.

Buffalo Hears Report From Its Treasurer; Did Not Lose Money

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 10.—The meeting last night of the stockholders and directors of the Buffalo International League baseball club, or rather the Buffalo Baseball & Amusement company, overflowed the offices of the company. It was the annual meeting of the directors, and the stockholders were invited to be on hand to listen to the financial report, which Secretary-Treasurer T. J. Martin has for some time been preparing.

Secretary-treasurer Martin's report of the financial condition of the club was the center of interest, and when it was said that despite the adverse conditions of last season the club came through without loss, that was pleasing news for all hands.

The Buffalo Ints will go along in 1916 under the same officials as the present board of directors and officers were continued.

Gerry Simon will again preside and Tom Martin will handle the finances. Pat Donovan will endeavor to bring through another pennant winning team.

The annual meeting of the International league is set for next Monday at the Hotel McAlpin, New York. Manager Donovan, President Simon and other club officials will be on hand.

WANT HARLOW FOR TWO YEARS

State College, Pa., Dec. 10.—Dick Harlow's first season as head coach at Penn State has been so satisfactory to the athletic committee that they have offered him a two-year contract as the guardian of State's football fortunes. After Harlow declares his intentions the backfield coach will be announced for the 1916 season.

State will lose this year through graduation, Capt. Wood, left tackle; McDowell, right guard; Berryman, left halfback; Yarger, substitute halfback, and Dippe, substitute fullback. There is said to be abundance of new material for next year's team.

Sports of All Sorts
