Father, Crazed by Jamaica Ginger, Threatens to Kill Her With Ax

Special to The Telegraph Lewistown, Pa., Dec. 10. - Miss Sarah Burns, a young woman about 17 years old, is in the Lewistown Hospital in a serious condition, due to a leap from the second-story window at her home at Mount Rock, a suburb. her home at Mount Rock, a suburb.
Early yesterday morning she dragged herself into town and her cries of pain were heard by Samuel Creighton and family, in Logan street, where she was taken in and Dr. C. M. McCoy summoned. Later she was taken to the hospital here. The young woman saidhat she had been to a moving picture show and returned home to find her father and a man by the name of Corson, both of whom had been drinking, in the house. She told the man Corson that he should be at home with his family, when her father became angered and threatened violence. The girl says that when she fied to an upstairs room her father followed her with a double-bitted ax. The door could not be locked, so she took the only means of escape by jumping from a window. The young woman is suffering with a sprained ankle and it is thought she is injured internally. She says her father when sober is a kind parent, but that he was crazed. District Attorney Aikens will investigate the matter. Early yesterday morning she dragged
