BIG INTEREST IN UPTOWN BODY

Businessmen Will "Show People What They Can Get" in District

With the new year only a little more than three weeks away men in the uptown district are rapidly forming tentative plans for the organization of the Uptown Merchants' Association.

Co-operative advertising during the Christmas season has been adopted by the temporary organization of the businessmen now in existence, but a more extensive campaign is being planned for the other winter and spring months.

"Show the people what they can get uptown," will be the center of all the work of the association. Members are busy at present making plans to conduct a forceful campaign to bring results which will show the opportunities of the uptown residents.

The big industrial boom is expected to help in this and in making a record year for the mercantile men of the uptown section as well as those in the downtown districts.

Better street lighting and street car service both ways on Third street will be advocated. A co-operating, business organization can best meet these items and settle them properly is the belief of practically everyone.

Interest in the project is increasing and is being discussed on all sides. The uptown men, however, will not isolate their work to that district alone. Municipal affairs will be given just as serious consideration at the meetings of the merchants as the interests of the community. Advantages offered in city improvements, including plans in view because of the Capitol Park Extension, are to be included in the association's discussions.

One of the first things to be accomplished will be electric light standards from North to Reilly streets, on Third street. As progress is made efforts will be made to have the new system of lighting installed on other streets of the district.

This change in lighting on Third street when installed will be a big improvement over the hanging arc light system now in use. The change will also be a saving for the city because of the large cost of maintaining the standard lights.

Residents as well as property owners interested in the welfare of the district north of North street, are being urged to join the association in order to bring a united and organized force into play to obtain community improvements.

Burgess Asks Council to Provide Couch For Cops

Sunbury, Pa., Dec. 10.—In this peaceful, well-regulated and neighborly community of 13,000 souls there are few followers of Cain. As a result the borough police force has many, many opportunities for loafing—a few of which, apparently, are grasped.

Now Chief Burgess Keiser, himself a busy man, is opposed to having a force of loafers. He has recommended the dismissal of Patrolman Hockenbrach. But his recommendation was voted down by council by a vote of 4-3.

Well, if we must have such a force, soliloquized the chief Burgess, and if we intend to permit part of it to loaf, we had better provide them with things comfortable for our guardian of the law?

So, at the meeting of the Sunbury council, Burgess Keiser formally recommended that a couch be provided for the use of Patrolman Hockenbrach—a couch.

Receipts That Are 'Different'

[From Farm and Home.]

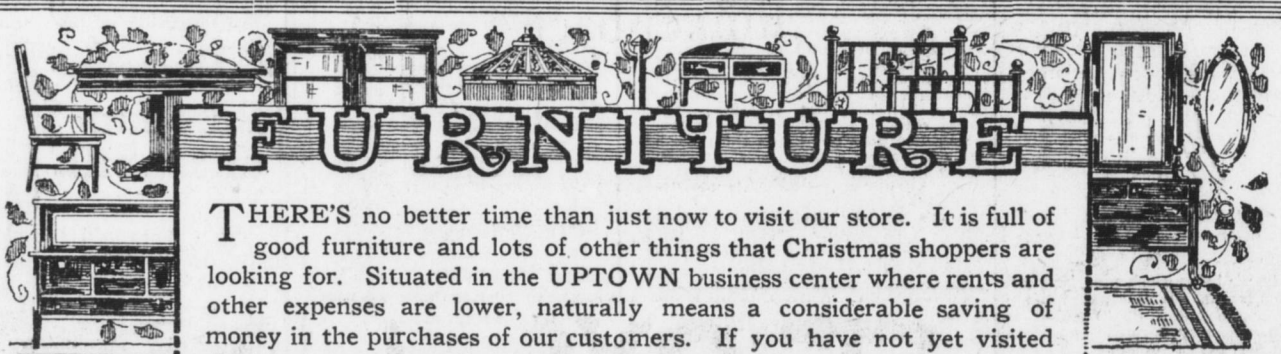

Candied Sweet Potatoes
To two cups sugar add one cup water and boil until it syrups, the same as for preserves, then remove from the fire and stir in one heaping tablespoon butter. Slice boiled sweet potatoes into a buttered baking pan of the proper size, pour the syrup over them to about one hour, or longer, basting occasionally by tilting the pan and dipping up some of the liquid. Be careful not to let the top get dry. Serve hot in the pan in which it baked.

Carrot and Nut Loaf
To one cup boiled, mashed carrots, add two well-beaten eggs, half cup chopped walnuts, one finely minced onion, a tablespoon butter, melted, half teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper, and bread crumbs to make a stiff mixture—about one cup. Form into a loaf, bake in a greased pan in a hot oven half an hour, and serve hot with tomato sauce.

Carrot Pudding
To one cup boiled, finely mashed carrots, add two well-beaten eggs, one-fourth cup sugar, half teaspoon each of cinnamon and grated nutmeg, one-fourth teaspoon salt and half cup each of milk and cream. Mix well, pour into a pudding dish and bake about half an hour in a hot oven. Insert a silver knife into the pudding. If nothing adheres to the knife the pudding is done. Serve cold with sweetened and flavored whipped cream.

Carrot Puffs
To each cup cooked, mashed carrots, add half cup cream, one well-beaten egg, one teaspoon butter, melted, half teaspoon sugar and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Mix well, pour into greased custard cups and bake about half an hour in a hot oven, until puffed up and light.
