Simple Remedy Promotes Health By Overcoming Tendency to Constipation.

Advancing years impair the action of the vital organs. Old age should be the period of greatest happiness, but good health is necessary. Constipation should not be tolerated—it is often the direct cause of ill health.

DENIES SINKING OF VESSEL

Amsterdam, via London, Dec. 10.—A German official statement received here from Berlin declares unfounded, reports appearing in newspapers in the entente countries of the sinking of the armored cruiser Derfflinger, the small cruiser Frauenlob, a 3,000-ton cruiser of Windau, and two submarines in the straits of Gibraltar. The statement also denies reports of the destruction of the submarine by a British aeroplane and the capture by the British of a new submarine, recently commissioned at Stettin.

RUTH ST. DENIS A PANTOMIME ARTIST

Oriental dances, particularly the dances of India, have found a very skilled translator in a dancer of American origin—Miss Ruth St. Denis. Although this world-famous artist has never visited India, she has made a life study of the dances of the Far East and has for many years mingled freely with the native Hindus, studying their art, their religion and character; she has penetrated into the spirit of the people as far as it is possible for a Westerner to do so, and has, in fact, caught the gesture of the East. Ruth St. Denis and her company of dancers comes to the Orpheum Theater, Wednesday night, December 15.—Advertisement.

"A PAIR OF SILK STOCKINGS"

"A Pair of Silk Stockings," which Winthrop Ames presents at the Orpheum for an engagement of one night, Friday, December 17, is one of those charmingly done and refreshingly light comedies which Mr. Ames knows so well how to do. "A Pair of Silk Stockings" is the work of Cyril Harcourt, the English playwright, novelist and actor, and it will be performed here by a notable company, including Sam Southern, the distinguished comedian, and brother of E. H. Sothern. The action of the play revolves in the home of English gentilefolk—that of Sir John Gower, and furnishes much material for amusing smart scenes and witty dialogue.—Advertisement.

Publish My Cure Any Time or Place You Wish

Joyfully Said This Grateful Lady at Keller's Drug Store Yesterday

Mrs. Lena Unkraut Relates Her Sufferings and Then Tells Results From Quaker

She Surely Had a Horrible Case of Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles and Nervousness

One of the most remarkable incidents of her career was yesterday cited to the health teacher at Keller's drug store, No. 405 Market street. It is so remarkable, startling and wonderful that it will not only surprise her friends and acquaintances but also every person who learns of it.

Mrs. Lena Unkraut is 47 years of age. Her husband was accidentally killed in an accident at Shamokin in June 1908. From the time of this terrible advent she herself became almost a physical nervous wreck. The slightest noise would startle her at night she could not rest and during the day she was always despondent and melancholy. To make matters worse, about five years ago she also became afflicted with stomach troubles. Her bowels became constipated; after eating her stomach would bloat terribly; gas would form and would cause agony because it seems nothing would remove it; her color was ghastly, her tongue heavily coated and her breath most offensive. She could not retain her urine and when she did succeed in warding it off, burning, scalding sensations always accompanied. In addition to all these miseries she also had rheumatism in her back and lower limbs. No wonder she was discouraged and tired of life. It took much persuasion to get her to call on the health teacher about 7 weeks ago. When she finally did call and was asked what ailed her, she said curtly, "Everything!" And this was indeed about right. Her daughter insisted that she try a treatment of Quaker. She did so, reluctantly, but said at the time: "I know it will not help me, it cannot help me and it is only more money thrown away. Even the health teacher told the daughter that her mother suffered from so many complications that he really had doubts of Quaker helping her and promised, however, that it should not be money thrown away, because in case of failure the money would be cheerfully refunded. The treatment was obtained during the last week in October.

After a week the daughter inquired of her mother how she was then feeling and was told "a little better." A few days later Mrs. Unkraut said her stomach was much improved, she did not have so much gas and she was sleeping better at night. Then each succeeding day began to show improved conditions. This caused her to become more bright, cheerful and hopeful. Every trace of rheumatism had disappeared, her kidneys and bowels became regular and her dreadful nervous condition vanished. About 10 days ago she reported that she felt fine, but she was afraid her cure was too quick to be complete, but yesterday she again called and said: "Publish my cure any time or place you wish, I am now completely well again. I cannot find words to express my thanks, I only took a few bottles of Quaker Herb Extract and an occasional dose of Quaker Kidney Pills and Laxative Tablets."

Now all you sufferers of rheumatism, catarrh and stomach troubles what have you to say? Does this single result alone not convince you that you are making a mistake if you do not try these wonderful Quaker remedies? Remember the health teacher can be seen at Croll Keller's drug store, No. 405 Market street from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night. Come and have a talk with him and he will gladly tell you all about the remedies. To specially accommodate the crowds on Saturday he will remain at the store all day from 8 a. m. to 11 p. m., but please call as soon as you can. If you cannot call, order by mail. Quaker Extract, 3 bottles for $2.50, received direct from the laboratory made from select fresh herbs and full strength. Kidney Pills 50c, Laxative 25c. Sold now only at Croll Keller's drug store, No. 405 Market street.

Remember these remedies expel tapeworms in a few hours and they are the safest but surest and purest to give children for worms, nervousness or bed wetting. Call at once and ask for the health teacher.

MR. AND MRS. VERNON CASTLE IN "THE WHIRL OF LIFE" AT THE VICTORIA THEATRE TODAY

To-day and to-morrow's presentation at the Victoria Theatre of the highest class photodrama, is one that will be of great interest because of the beautiful scenery and the fact that it is featured by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle. Since they became famous they have gone to such lengths as to bring into motion pictures and the Cort Film Corporation have paid them $100,000 for the rights to their private life and have given to you, through the movies, what the newspapers and magazine publishers have been begging them to tell for years without success. "The Whirl of Life" is a story in surprises, villainy, pathos, humor, excitement, such as would rouse the envy of Jules Verne, and the most outstanding memory of "The Whirl of Life" is in those wonderful dancing scenes in the ballroom, the scenes and in richly lighted cabarets, it is just as powerful a drama as one would care to see.—Advertisement.

"HER SHATTERED IDOL" AT THE REGENT TODAY ONLY

Wonderful Mae Marsh starred with Robert Harron in the supreme picture, "Her Shattered Idol," at the Regent today. Mae Carter, the wealthy widow of Colonel Aitken, has engaged herself to her guardian's nephew, Robert, and after a lot of pretty fencing, she allows the young man to slip an engagement ring on her finger. Then, unluckily for Robert, they go out riding and the course of their gallop one of the shoes on Mae's horse becomes loosened. To save the animal pain, Mae suggests that Robert remove the shoe. Robert tries. After several attempts he gives it up, and they lead the limping mount back to a blacksmith.

This wide-shouldered, thick-chested young man, bareheaded, ripe of vigor, in that mood of apparent effort while Mae stands watching him in wide-open wonder. That night she dreams and the visualization of this drama affords some of the most interesting and picturesque comedy recently brought to light on the screen, for in her dream Mae sees herself back in the cavernous cave as the wife of caveman Robert, who, in his tiger skin wrap seems sufficiently puny to disillusionize any girl. Cap this with the fact that an energetic and Herculean caveman comes along and proceeds to steal Mae from Robert and you have a scene calculated to make any girl wake up with a start.—Advertisement.
