STATE LIBRARY IS OVERCROWDED

State Librarian Montgomery Points Out the Necessity For Enlargement

Urgent recommendations for the construction of a building which will care for the State's rapidly growing collections of books and historical and educational collections is made by State Librarian Thomas Lynch Montgomery in his annual report to the Governor on the State Library and Museum. The library now contains 162,976 volumes, 8,000 having been added in the last year, of which 885 related to the history of Pennsylvania, its people or its life. Over 18,000 volumes have been obtained through traveling libraries and 2,300 volumes of pamphlets completed.

On the subject of more room Mr. Montgomery says: "The problem of providing for the various collections of the State will soon become a serious one. We have practically reached our limit as to the storage of newspapers in the attic and the alcoves of the main building would be insufficient but for the fact that so many volumes are circulated through the State. New York has provided at a cost of $5,000,000 what is known as the educational building in which provision is made for all the educational interests of the State. Would it not be well to look forward to the time when such a building may be erected to the east of the Capitol in such a position as would add to the architectural effect of the east side of the Capitol building. Here quarters should be provided for 500,000 volumes and the rapidly increasing collections of the Museum and of the Division of Public Records. The cases and shelving which have been procured in recent years for the State Library are of the most modern and satisfactory pattern and all of these may be utilized in any new quarters that are provided."

Growth of Museums
Dr. Montgomery gives considerable attention to the State Museums which have finished eleven new groups of Pennsylvania animals and birds in representation of habits and enlarged the forestry and botany groups, while valuable collections from Berks county have been received in the historical division and other articles of early days installed for public view. Big increases were made to the natural history division which is under Boyd P. Rothrock. During the year 149 places were visited by the free library commission staff, eight new libraries organized in Ambridge, Cherry Tree, Cynwyd, Leesdale, Newport, Routledge, Shinglehouse and Taylor while Pine Grove teachers were aided to establish a library.

The gift of $7,000 to the Harrisburg Public Library in memory of the late Lyman D. Gilbert is noted among the donations to libraries throughout the State, as is a Mart in donation of $185,000 for York and those made by Mrs. Bell at Mt. Holly Springs; by Mrs. Coyle at Chambersburg and by Mrs. Bosler at Carlisle.

Tribute to Mr. Kelly
Dr. Montgomery says relative to the late Luther R. Kelker: "The only casualty during the year was the death of Luther Kelly Kelker, custodian of public records. Mr. Kelker was chosen for the custodianship, upon the organization of the division in 1903, on account of his interest in Pennsylvania history and his familiarity with the muster rolls and message records. He assisted in preparing the material for some twenty-eight volumes of archives including the fifth and sixth series and the indexes thereto. His work has made it possible for anyone to secure records concerning individuals engaged in the French and Indian wars, the War of the Revolution, the War of 1812-14 and the Mexican War in a few minutes' time, when formerly this was a laborious and most uncertain task. He also arranged in books the papers of the governors and repaired and mounted a tremendous collection of provincial papers. He was neat and accurate in the preparation of his material and the work done in the division will compare favorably with that of any similar departments in the United States."

YOUNG GETS THE FIRST POLICY

State Treasurer Receives Insurance For Company in Which He Is Interested

The first compensation insurance policy of the State workmen's insurance fund, the insurance activity of the Commonwealth created by the last Legislature to provide protection required by the workmen's compensation act, has been issued to State Treasurer Robert K. Young, chairman of the State Workmen's Insurance Board.

This policy is No. 1 and covers the compensation liability of the Wellsboro Electric Company, Wellsboro, Pa., of which Mr. Young is president. It was chosen as the initial policy from the several thousand applications for compensation insurance on file. The premium payment on the policy aggregated $124.50.

Formal presentation of the policy to Chairman Young was made by Albert L. Allen, assistant manager of the fund, in the office of Mr. Young at the Capitol to-day. The policy was issued in duplicate, each copy being signed by the other members of the insurance board, Commissioner John Price Jackson, of the Department of Labor and Industry, Commissioner Charles Johnson, of the Insurance Department, as well as by Chairman Young and Assistant Manager Allen.

Both copies were framed. One will hang in Mr. Young's office in the Capitol and the other will be sent to the office of the Wellsboro Electric Company.

British Reported to Have Captured German Involvement in Bethlehem Plant Fire

Special to The Telegraph
New York, Dec. 14.—One of the men believed to have taken part in a conspiracy to destroy the Bethlehem Steel plant by fire is reported to have been taken off the Lamport & Holt steamer Vauban within the last week in the Atlantic Ocean, south of Rio de Janeiro, and made a prisoner on a British cruiser.

The Vauban sailed from this port on November 13, three days after the $1,000,000 blaze in the machine shop of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. Since the ship left here detectives and agents of the Department of Justice traced a man from Bethlehem to Philadelphia, where he booked a passage on the Vauban at the office of Thomas Cook & Son. The trail led to this city and then to the liner.

A report of the evidence was laid before the State Department and communication was made with the British Embassy, with the result that a British cruiser was ordered to hurry after the Anna Fox and search the ship. A few days ago a report was received from South America saying that a cruiser had stopped the Vauban and taken off a man who was believed to be a German officer.

Bourne Declares Bryan Sees Defeat Next Year

Special to The Telegraph
Washington, Dec. 14.—William J. Bryan admits the defeat of the Democratic party in 1916, according to a statement of ex-Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr., chairman of the Republican Publicity Association, who says: "In the last issue of his Commoner Mr. Bryan shows that he is in no doubt whatever as to the meaning of the elections held last month. One or two leaders of the Progressive party may think there is a possibility of holding the former members of that party together, but Mr. Bryan labors under no such delusion. He says: "The elections of 1915 ought to serve as a warning to the Democratic party. They indicate that the Progressives have returned to the regular republican party, and that the Democrats can no longer hope to win by division in the ranks of the opposition. Neither can the Democrats afford to dally with vital issues."

Mr. Bryan had too much personal experience and too many years of observation to be misled in his interpretation of the causes and conditions which led to the recent victories in 1915. He knows the necessary effect of the unification of the Republican party.

The Telegraph Has Found a Man Who Can Tell You All About These Things in a Way That Will Interest You

THIS IS WHAT SOME WELL-KNOWN EDUCATORS THINK OF UNCLE HARRY'S TALKS

"I have read the stories which you have sent me and I think that your plan is a most excellent one of presenting interesting parts of history in a form which even the young children can understand and appreciate."
JOHN GRIER HIBBEN, President Princeton University, Princeton, New Jersey.

"I have read 'Uncle Harry's Talks' and am wonderfully impressed with them. I regret exceedingly that there is not more intelligent interest in current events, and it seems to me that the style in which they are written will attract children. I am sure that any paper publishing these articles would be read by both parents and children."
S. R. SHEAR, Superintendent Public Schools, Poughkeepsie, New York.

"I think you have struck a new note in juvenile reading matter and that 'Uncle Harry's Talks' are of real educational value. I think that children will read them if their attention is called to the articles."
F. W. ROBBINS, Superintendent Public Schools, McKeesport, Pennsylvania.

"I took home the 'Uncle Harry's Talks' and left them on our reading table without comment. Inside of twenty-four hours my nine-year-old daughter had discovered them and devoured them. It occurs to me that this is probably as good a test as I could have given the stories."
W. V. SPRAGUE, Superintendent Public Schools, Utica, New York.

"Your 'Uncle Harry's Talks' are very interesting and instructive. I shall certainly call the attention of our teachers to these articles. They might be able to use them as supplementary to the regular work in the schools."
J. N. ADEE, Superintendent Public Schools, Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

"I am of the opinion that in 'Uncle Harry's Talks' you have found a new and original way to present current events attractively to boys and girls in the grades."
CARY BOGCESS, Superintendent Public Schools, Springfield, Ohio.

These talks will be printed twice a week in the Telegraph, beginning to-day. The second one will appear on Thursday.

Read them, boys and girls, and keep reading them. You will find them not only wonderfully instructive but interesting.

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More
"It certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Most thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are, when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, much of the fat and flesh-producing elements stay in the intestines as they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature had denied them. This can probably best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a careful combination of six splendid assimilative agents, taken with meals they mix with the food to turn the sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect has been in many cases reported remarkable. Rates of gain of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by G. A. Gargas and other druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—Advertisement.
