Guy M. Boyd, Directory Publisher, Is Dead
Special to The Telegraph
Reading, Pa., Dec. 15.—Guy M. Boyd, one of the city's best known citizens and manager of Boyd's Directory Company, which publishes city directories for Philadelphia, Reading, Harrisburg and many of the leading cities of the country, died suddenly at his home yesterday of internal injuries sustained in an automobile accident last Friday evening.
With a party of friends he was returning to the city when their machine hit a fence. Aside from a broken wrist Mr. Boyd did not seem to be very seriously injured, and was discharged from a local hospital after spending the night there. On Monday night his condition took a sudden and serious turn and he continued to sink until his death. The deceased was 50 years of age, and was a member of the Elks and a number of other fraternal organizations.

JUDGES ARE SENT NEW COMMISSIONS

Hand Engrossed Document to Show Their Right to Sit on the Bench Are Mailed

COLLINS GIVES OPINION

Public Service Begins Hearings in Four Cities at One Time; Governor Returns

Commissions for all of the judges elected at the November election were mailed from the department of the Secretary of the Commonwealth today, having been signed on Monday night by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh. The commissions are hand engrossed on parchment with India ink, the work having been done by Wilmer Johnson, of the commission clerk's bureau.
The three Superior Court judges-elect received their commissions personally, but the commissions for the other judges are sent to the recorders of their counties. There were commissions issued for twenty-eight common pleas judges, Philadelphia having four, two orphans court judges, one municipal court judge for Philadelphia and six associate judges.
Opinion by Mr. Collins.—An opinion has been given by Emerson Collins, deputy attorney general, who is in charge of the legal problems arising out of the child labor and women employment acts, that when time is lost in establishment in consequence of the break-down of an outside power plant, furnishing current, that the time lost may be lawfully made up by overtime work by a female employee. The question was raised by an inquiry to the Department of Labor and Industry.
First Stamps by Christmas.—The Auditor General's Department is planning to make the first issue of the stamps for the State's new stock transfer tax about Christmas day. The first installment of the stamps has been received and is about to be tread with fugitive ink which will prevent any frauds. The total issue runs right into the millions.
Big Demand for Bounties.—Over $70,000 has been paid out to various counties of the State in game bounties in the last few weeks, that sum having been put to the credit of counties at the State Treasury. Thanks to the energy of the State game authorities the frauds have been largely checked.
Governor Returns.—Governor Brumbaugh returned last night from Washington and also filled an engagement to speak at Carlisle.
Approved Applications.—The Public Service Commission has approved the agreements between the Pennsylvania railroad and the borough of Mt. Union on laying of sewers.
Addressed Teachers.—Prof. W. M. Denison, of the Department of Public Instruction, is at Tunkhannock today addressing the Wyoming county teachers. He is a State high school inspector.
Four Hearings.—For the first time the Public Service Commission is holding hearings in four different places at once. Hearings are being held in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Altoona and Allentown.
To Address Farmers.—Deputy Highway Commissioner Hunter and Deputy Attorney General Keller are to be speakers at the Farmers' Week meetings at State College the latter part of the month. Mr. Keller, who is an authority on highway laws, is to discuss that subject.
Still No Blister.—Notwithstanding vaunt attempts it was reported today that the State Forestry Department did not know of the presence of the white pine blister in Dauphin county. Cumberland and Perry will now be searched.
Mackey's Busy Days.—Chairman Mackey, of the Compensation Board, who made somewhat of a political speech at Philadelphia last week, is now devoting himself to compensation strictly. He spoke last night at Frankford in Philadelphia on the compensation system and will speak before the State Street Railway Association at Scranton. He will make a number of other speeches on compensation in the next fortnight, giving the benefit of his study of the subject and answering questions which have been raised.
Speaker's Son Saved.—Merrill Ambler, son of the speaker of the House, was saved from drowning at Abington yesterday by a playmate. Both boys were badly scared, the rescuer being the worst frightened.
Congressman Here.—Congressman Henry W. Temple, of Washington, was a visitor to the Hill today.
Urge Stillwagon.—Friends of H. A. Stillwagon, who is well known here, are urging the Governor by mail to name him as justice of the peace for Ardmore.
Board to Meet To-morrow.—The State Compensation Board will meet to-morrow and the assignments of districts to referees may be made at that time. Some changes are to be proposed to the Governor for his approval.

A cure for shut-in lives the joy of journeying

Don't scold the cold; get on board a Santa Fe train to summery California and run away from winter.

On the way— Quaintly garbed Indians, petrified forests, painted deserts, and that supreme wonder the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

At the end— Hedges of roses, gold of orange orchards, sunny skies, golf, autoing, and the romance of old Spanish days. You may go in luxury on the California Limited or travel economically in a tourist sleeper. Four daily transcontinental trains and the weekly Santa Fe de-Luxe. Fred Harvey meals. Ask for booklets.

You May Enjoy Your Meals

If You Will But Equip Your Stomach With the Right Means to Handle the Food.

If you go into a restaurant, cafe or hotel, where all your environments, the lights, dazzling linen, silver, cut glass, music, chatting and laughing women, seem to foretell of a pleasant meal, your stomach should not revolt when you read the menu card.

Heavy steaks, soups, oysters, entrees, salads, etc., should hold no terrors for the healthy stomach and they do not.

A small box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets placed in your vest pocket will be sufficient guard against the mad revels of a worn-out stomach.

A tablet taken a few moments after a copious meal will remove any ill effects of food from your stomach and you may eat as generously as those about you.

One of these little tablets will of itself settle all questions of indigestion for that meal and will place your stomach and digestive organs in a better condition for the next.

Your blood will be enriched, and the depleted gastric fluids will be rebuilt. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are natural, active, digestive agents who give to the gastric juice the elements they lack, which ease the stomach, remove irritation and enrich and stimulate the blood.

All of these statements may be verified if you will take but a little of your time to prove them.

Every drugstore carries Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in stock and will tell you of their merit. These tablets sell for 50c per box, or send us your name and address and we will send you at once by mail a trial package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 214 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

DEVELOP GUARD FOR OUR DEFENSE

and its growth, while what appears to be an impractical scheme was being experimented with.

"The Guard has a long and honorable record and its personnel is made up of real patriots who through years of public indifference and at personal sacrifice have steadily kept an available secondary defense in shape for the nation's need. Instead of minimizing the patriotism and the work of these loyal citizens, they should be given increased national recognition.

"Both economy and efficiency will be attained if this aid is given and the national government turns seriously and actively to the task of making the National Guard the basis of a substantial and effective military force.

"In the last analysis the States are factors of moment in any policy or plan of national security, and it is unfair and unwise to ignore or treat slightly their activities in maintaining an emergency force of fairly trained and efficient men willing for any service the nation may require.

"In Pennsylvania we have a National Guard composed of officers and men of high capacity and in administrative efficiency and personnel the equal of any in the country.

"These patriotic citizens should receive the full recognition and encouragement they deserve.

"Our people annually and gladly devote from the State's revenue above $900,000 for this cause. We have, at the expense of the State and municipalities, erected armories worth fully $2,750,000, and this expenditure the work and the efficiency of the Guard have amply justified.

"Instead of a new and untried venture of doubtful wisdom, and lacking in appealing or inviting features to the general citizenship, why not aid in extending the usefulness of an agency already endeared to the people of the several States?

"Make the Guard as large as the expert's wish; but do not discourage those who have labored so earnestly and willingly to advance its efficiency and value. Do not allow the hysteria of novelty to carry us headlong into a situation that in the end we shall assuredly regret. Rather let us hold fast to that which is good and the permanency of which is established."

SHERLOCK HOLMES IS ON THE WAY

I am the man who has operated throughout.

"I am feeling fine as a fiddle, thank you; expect to have a lively time. Good luck and lots of it."

"HOLMES."

The question has been asked if the Man of Mystery will wear disguises and that is exactly what the Telegraph cannot tell you.

It would hardly be fair to expect the Telegraph to have Sherlock Holmes, Jr., visit here, offer a prize for his capture and then give information that would lead to it. The Telegraph can tell absolutely nothing, except as the paper has previously stated that the same gentleman who has successfully impersonated the part in many cities is a perfect stranger in Harrisburg, and that he comes here solely for this contest. Any other questions will be useless, as they will not be answered.

Also it is well to say that the money will be given away to someone even should Sherlock Holmes, Jr., find it necessary to deliver himself to be caught.

Lest You Forget

Remember now, you are liable to run across the elusive Mr. Holmes in the most unexpected places. There is never any telling just when this gentleman will bob up. Some of the leading places of the city will be selected as his headquarters, at which places he may be found from time to time, and all in all, you will be given a great many chances to locate him.

Understand, please, this proposition of location is one that you will have to figure out for yourself and you will find before the contest is ended that you are up against the game of your life. Easy? Well, hardly, but just the same Sherlock Holmes, Jr., comes to Harrisburg to be caught before he leaves the city.

It might not be amiss to say right here that when Sherlock Holmes, Jr., comes he will write all the stories appearing in the Telegraph and they will be over his signature.

Sherlock Holmes Jr., has a style of saying things in his own way and one that is well "worth reading."

PHI KAPPA SIGMA OFFICERS ELECTED BY LOCAL CHAPTER

A meeting of the Harrisburg Alumni Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity was held last night in the offices of Howard M. Bingham. Much important business was transacted, and the annual election of officers was held. Hon. Thomas Lynch Montgomery, in the absence of the retiring president, Hon. John Price Jackson, presided.

The following officers were unanimously elected: President, Howard M. Bingham; vice-president, John T. Olmsted; secretary, John A. F. Hall; treasurer, Carroll S. Grant.

It was decided to hold mid-day luncheons for the benefit of the members. The next regular meeting will be held at the Phi Kappa Sigma House at Franklin & Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa., on January 11, 1916.

SNOW OPENS WORK

By Associated Press

Kane, Pa., Dec. 15.—The fall of eight inches of snow in this vicinity within 48 hours has caused activity in the surrounding forests. More than 1,000 men with teams yesterday went to work in McKean, Warren, Forest and Elk counties hauling chemical wood, pulp wood and bark. During the past summer, more chemical wood and bark were cut in this region than at any other time in the last ten years and it will require about three months of sleighing to remove it.
