LINONINE Warms and Enriches the Blood and drives out colds and inflammation by that method. We often hear people say that Linonine cured their cold so quickly that they were astonished. It was done so easily and so thoroughly that they could hardly realize their improved condition and their freedom from the customary bad after effects of some remedies. Linonine is effective in all cases of coughs, colds, run-down conditions and kindred ailments, both adults and children, because it removes the cause. The weakened and distressed tissues are bathed in new, warm vitality-bringing blood—disease is overcome by the health Linonine brings to the user. It is a wonderfully effective remedy for throat and lung complaints.
