West Fairview Firemen to Hold Bazar in New Home

West Fairview, Pa., Dec. 16.—At a joint meeting of the Good Will Fire Company and the Ladies Auxillary at the hosehouse last evening, arrangements for the coming fair and bazar were completed. The fair will be held in the new firehouse in Third street beginning Monday evening, December 20 and continue until January 1, 1916. A number of special events have been planned, one of which will be a Santa Claus post office on Christmas morning starting at 9 o'clock when children of town will receive gifts from Santa Claus through his post office. Another event which is creating a large amount of interest is the Mummer's parade to be held some evening between Christmas and New Year's the definite date not having been decided upon. Principal interest centers in the prizes which are being offered by a citizen of town. The first prize of $10 is offered for the prettiest costume; a gold watch for the best imitation, and a two-and-a-half dollar gold piece for the most comic costume. Three out-of-town judges will be selected so that a square deal will be assured to all contestants. Invitations have been sent to the fire companies of surrounding towns and already a number of them have signified their intention of attending. LYCEUM ENTERTAINMENT Dillsburg, Pa., Dec. 16.—On Tuesday evening the third entertainment of the Lyceum course was held in the Dillsburg Opera House. The entertainers were Miss Edith Hockerson, violinist and pianist, Miss Fay Ingram soprano, reader, and pianist, and Miss Ethel Garten, contralto, reader and pianist. Curiosity Over Wedding Is Consuming Washington Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—With the wedding of President Wilson only two days away, about the only thing Washington feels certain of is that the bridegroom will wear the "conventional black." Nobody knows: The hour of the wedding, The name of the minister, The exact list of guests, Where the honeymoon will be passed. Never in the history of the White House has there been so much mystery and never has Washington society indulged in so much futile speculation. That the wedding gown fits was ascertained a few days ago by the smile on the face of the fitter, and that is about as official as any news obtainable on any subject connected with the ceremony.
