MOMEN AND INTERESTS

And So They Were Married

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Getting married has in the words of Robert Louis Stevenson, "an air of great simplicity and ease; it offers to bury forever many aching preoccupations; it is to afford us unfailing and familiar company through life; it opens up a smiling prospect of the bless and passive kind of love rather than the blessing and active"—

And yet marriage does not offer solid ground under the feet of any who chance into that august state. Nather it means breakers ahead and shoal water and the beginning of life rather than the solving of its problem.

Failing in love and going through the courting state are romantic affairs that engage the human imagination most delightfully. And the next step is to keep in love—and to keep our partner in love with you. A very different business that from the peaceful vision of sitting with folded hands within a safe harbor and lazily floating through a sunny life on the good old sea-going craft "Matrimony."

Your love story does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent dealers that the solvent does not end at the local state that the solvent does not end at the later that the solvent dealers the solvent dealers the water that the solvent does not end the state that the solvent does not end to the strong that the water that the solvent does not end to the strong that the water that the solvent does not end to the strong that the water that the solvent does not end to form complete to offer the and unreliable at times and walled of from complete and walled of from complete

Nour love story does not end at the star. It begins there. Ahead of you lies the struggle toward the ideal of happiness—and it is a double ideal, yours and your partner's. So first of all it is an ideal that demands compromise and forbearance and toleration and understanding. And none of those things have occurred to most of the romantic young things who are lust as much in love with love as they are with each other!

All of us are erring mortals—

An Amusing Story of Psychic Changes

Here is a frock that can be made from flouncing and from material with equal success. It is a very charming little model, eminently child-like, yet essentially smart and it can be made with a high or square neck and with either short or long sleeves, so that it seems adapted to many occasions as well as to many materials. When flouncing is used, the hem and tucks are of necessity omitted. Here, the fulness at the upper edge is laid in tiny tucks, but it would be quite possible to substitute smocking and smocking is exceedingly smart and also gives a very pretty effect. On the figure, the frock is made of embroidered flouncing with plain lawn for the sleeves and lace banding used as trimming. In the small front view, it is made of rose colored challis with lace and it makes a very pretty frock suited to the girls of six years of age.

For the 4 years size will be needed, 2 years of meterial 27 or 26 in mid-21. Here is a frock that can be made from years of age.

As Mr. Brassfield, the rich oil promoter, corrupt politician and man about town, Fairbanks is amusing in his aggressiveness both in business and in dealing with affairs of the heart.
