

63 SURVIVORS OF SUNKEN STEAMER ARE PICKED UP

Eight Are Reported Drowned Following Capsizing of Packet in Ohio River

SCATTERED ALONG RIVER

Passengers and Crew Are Found Along Both Shores by Rescuers

By Associated Press. Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 6.— Captain Brady M. Berry, and sixty-two of the passengers and crew of the steamer Kanawha which sank in the Ohio river last night arrived here early to-day on a train sent out to pick up the survivors scattered along four miles of river front on the West Virginia side, Captain Berry said that while he saw no one in the water and did not know that any had been lost he felt there had been fatalities.

“We were moving down stream with the flood last night with a crew of about 40 men and some 20 passengers on board,” said Captain Berry. “Just as we were approaching the lower end of a lock wall on the West Virginia side, we were struck by a severe storm and the Kanawha had struck an iron pier and started to sink.

“Rolled Over and Over. I shouted for the boats. The cries of the passengers roused the men at the lock. They put out and came to our assistance. We managed to get the people on the hurricane deck and as the Kanawha turned on her side kept them moving toward the top while we were taking them off. The Kanawha continually turned and when we finally got the last man ashore he was clinging to the bottom of the boat as she had turned completely on her side, drifting down stream bottom-side up.

Eight Lives Are Reported Lost in Packet Sinking

By Associated Press. Gallipolis, O., Jan. 6.—It was reported here to-day that eight lives were lost when the river packet Kanawha sank below Parkersburg, W. Va., last night. The drowned were said to include Steward Lloyd Gee and purser Bert Wolfe, of this city, a watchman and five passengers including four women and a child, the names of whom could not be learned here to-day. Government inspectors in this district were planning to-day to investigate the disaster.

VIENNA IS ASKED FOR INFORMATION ON LINER SINKING

Ambassador Presents U. S. Request Concerning Persia to Austria

UP TO FOREIGN RELATIONS

All Available Matter in International Situation Before Committee

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.— Ambassador Penfield cabled to-day he had presented informally to the Vienna Foreign Office the American government's request for any information on the destruction of the British liner Persia and at the time of filing his dispatch had received no reply.

American Consul Garrels at Alexandria reported that the affidavits he has gathered from the Persia survivors gave no more proofs that a submarine torpedoed the liner, or regarding its nationality than were contained in his first dispatches.

Ambassador Penfield was instructed to ask the Austrian government informally for any information it might have on the Persia which would develop the facts in the case and help the American government decide how the liner was destroyed. Consul Garrels was instructed to get affidavits for the same purpose.

So far the only actual statement tending to prove that the ship was torpedoed came from one of the officers of the ship. He said he saw what he thought was the wake of a torpedo. No submarine was seen at any time.

Further dispatches from Ambassador Penfield are expected at the State Department probably late to-day and at any event to-morrow. Meanwhile other consular agents along the Mediterranean coast are, like Consul Garrels, seeking further information.

Before Foreign Committee. The general international situation, including the attitude in the relations between the United States and the Central Powers over submarine warfare, will be considered at a meeting to-morrow of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The meeting has been called by Chairman Stone.

The committee had before it to-day a mass of data bearing upon Great Britain's attitude toward neutral shipping and negotiations with Germany over submarine warfare. The information was sent by Secretary Lansing in response to a Senate resolution. All available information on the destruction of the British steamer Persia also was said to be before the committee.

President Wilson and Secretary Lansing still were without definite information upon which official action in the crisis arising from the Persia incident is to be based. Meanwhile, officials are still reserving judgment.

Two Americans Drown. The Rev. Homer R. Salisbury, of this city, the Seventh Day Adventist missionary superintendent for India, who sailed on the liner Persia for Marseilles, is given up for lost, in a report which the Fenian and the Oriental Line has transmitted to the American embassy in London. The report was transmitted to-day to the Senate Department. Dr. Salisbury was born at Battle Creek, Mich., in 1874.

Senators Simmons and Overman, of North Carolina, asked President Wilson to-day if any further information about the death of Consul McNeely had been received. McNeely was from North Carolina. The President told them that no new facts had come to the government within the last two days, but that every effort was being made to obtain additional information.

Jitney Bonds Cost $200; No Unlicensed Cars After Jan. 18

Special to the Telegraph. New York, Jan. 6.—One of the men most able to gauge that great barometer of business conditions, the iron and steel trade—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation—said in a statement reviewing the condition of that trade: “Conditions pertaining to this industry reflect, more or less, those of other lines and perhaps are an indication of the general situation. Certainly, there are evidences which cannot reasonably be questioned of great prosperity. It is not my purpose to discuss the reasons for these satisfactory conditions. They exist, and it now seems probable that they may continue for months to come.”

“Economic conditions in the United States may and should be good in the future.”

Russian Pressure on Teutonic Lines From Volhynia to Bukowina Proving Too Much

AGAINST COMPULSION

Labor Forces Defeat Measure by Overwhelming Vote; Another Leader May Quit

Russian pressure on the Austrian lines from Volhynia southward to Bukowina continues heavy and official reports from both sides indicate that the fighting is of a desperate and sanguinary character.

The great labor congress in London, that is to decide upon the position of British labor regarding conscription, defeated by an overwhelming vote to-day a proposition that the congress should support a measure of conscription by forcing single men to attest. The card vote was 2,120,000 to 541,000.

Assert Men of Even Higher Standing Than Congressman Involved in Bomb Plot

By Associated Press. New York, Jan. 6.—A special federal grand jury panel to-day to continue the investigation into the activity of German agents in alleged plots against American neutrality. The evidence disclosed before its predecessor which resulted in the indictment of Congressman Frank Buchanan, of Illinois, and other officers of Labor's National Peace Council, eight indictments have already been returned charging conspiracy with Franz von Rintelen, a German agent, to foment strikes in American munition factories. Federal officials said to-day that the evidence showed that the ramifications of the alleged plot were far wider than had been at first supposed and involves many of more important standing than any yet mentioned.

The new grand jury will examine fully 100 witnesses and is expected to go not only into the munition strikes but also that of the numerous explosions and bomb outrages which have occurred both in ships and factories. District Attorney H. Snowden Marshall said to-day that he hoped the work of the jury would be completed within a month, but that this did not mean that the government investigation would be closed in view of the many new angles which had been discovered.

Cumberland Co. "Samson" Dies From Old Age at Home in Mechanicsburg

Special to the Telegraph. Mechanicsburg, Jan. 6.—Samuel Myers, aged 85 years, once famous as "the strongest man" in Cumberland county, and one of the strongest in the State, died this morning from old age at his home in West Allen street.

Mr. Myers was a carpenter by trade and in the days of his prime few men were his equal in strength. It is said of him that he could carry one end of a heavy girder when it required six strong men to lift the other end. He was tall, heavy man of powerful build. His birthplace was Hogshead, and Emory, of Mechanicsburg, and a daughter, Mrs. Oliver Harland, of Carlisle. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Food in Town Snowbound For Week Running Short

By Associated Press. Grand Junction, Col., Jan. 6.—Gateway, a mining town in Southwestern Colorado, which has been snowbound for nearly a week, was further walled up to-day by a four-inch snowfall which drifted badly in a forty-mile gale. Food supplies, it is feared here, are running low in the town. Cattlemen planned to-day to resume efforts to break a trail into Gateway with fifty horses driven in single file.
