

WATERY BLISTERS ITCHED AND BURNED

Terribly on Ankles and Arms. Very Badly Inflamed and Swollen. Could Not Wear Shoes.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I had poison ivy on my ankles and arms which started with little watery blisters and itched and burned terribly. Matter formed in the little blisters, and they would spread in a big patch like a boil. I scratched so that the blood would come, and it would be followed by terrible itching. The parts which were affected were very badly inflamed and swollen and my foot was so bad that I could not wear my shoes.

"I got a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bought more and I only needed one cake of Cuticura Soap together with the Ointment to heal the trouble." (Signed) John E. Smith, Center, Pa., Oct. 19, 1915.

Sample Each Free by Mail With 35-p. Skin Book on request. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Lancaster, Pa." Sold throughout the world.

Auditor General Makes Clear His Position on Newspaper Solicitors

Auditor General Powell has hit some alleged busy individuals squarely between the eyes in a circular letter to newspaper publishers. It appears certain newspaper publishers have been solicited by persons who alleged ability to assist in placing the official escheat advertising of the department under the act of June 4, 1915, and that within the last ten days an effort has been made to induce publishers to send requests for such advertising, together with circulation affidavits, to agents, such agents to present them later to the Auditor General.

Bang! comes the answer from Capitol Hill, the Auditor General, through his chief clerk, William E. Hingham, declaring in the letter in question that no agent can render publishers any assistance in this respect. It is flatly declared that Auditor General Powell does not deal with or through agents in the placing of this or any other advertising. He will deal directly with the newspaper publishers and in no other way.

To Have Curly, Wavy Hair Like "Nature's Own"

Women who have trouble keeping their hair in curl, or of securing the desired wavy effect—and especially those who realize the harm that the hot iron does to the hair—will do well to try plain liquid silmerine. In no other way can they acquire such pretty waves and curls, having all the appearance of "Nature's own." And the hair, instead of being singed, ragged or otherwise looking, has such a lively lustre and wholesome beauty. If one will get a bottle of liquid silmerine at any drug store and follow the accompanying directions, she will be simply delighted with the result. This product is of course perfectly harmless and there is nothing sticky, greasy or unpleasant about it. The hair will be what fashion it is in, no matter in what fashion it is done up.

GARRISON PLAN IS IN COMMITTEE

Starts Fight For Measure Which Is to Give Country Definite Army Policy

Washington, Jan. 6.—Secretary Garrison laid before the House Military Affairs committee to-day his formal argument in behalf of the administration's army plan which is designed to give the country a definite military policy. It proposes the creation of a mobile federal force of more than a million men in six years, accumulation of a huge reserve of ammunition and equipment and an elaborate extension of the coast defenses, the whole project involving an increased expense of $600,000,000 and an annual War Department budget thereafter of more than $20,000,000 as compared with an average of $100,000,000 for the last few years.

"The integrity of the nation and its very existence," the Secretary said, reading from a lengthy statement he had prepared, "may depend upon what is done in this matter at this time. This great opportunity will be lost unless a wise and definite policy is adopted as the result of the consideration and action of this Congress."

Referring to the far-spread military responsibility of the nation, including into the insular possessions, China, Alaska, and the Panama Canal Zone, Mr. Garrison added:

"We have determined and announced that the sovereignty of the United States, the republics on this hemisphere shall remain inviolable, and must therefore at all times stand ready to make good our position in this connection." He then quoted an agreement to show the full strength of the army on June 30 last—105,993 officers and men of the combatant forces, and their present distribution. To these should be added, he said, 1,183 officers and 17,800 men of the noncombatant arms of the service, bringing the total number of federal troops up to 123,793. He pointed out that the pay alone made up approximately 50 per cent. of the total proposed appropriations.

Turning to the National Guard Mr. Garrison said:

"At the present time this force consists of approximately 123,000 men and officers, and it would therefore be necessary if it is to be expanded to 400,000 to add 271,000 men and officers. If this policy should be attempted to be adopted, Congress would first have to require the State to raise and maintain all of these troops and the States would have to practically triple their existing equipment. I do not know whether Congress would have any power to impose this burden upon the States. It seems to me that a more realistic and practical policy is indicated how utterly futile it is to attempt this solution."

Sigler Factory to Put New Type of Action on Market

C. M. Sigler, president of the Sigler Piano Player Company, Derry and Carlisle streets, this morning announced that his company is about ready to place on the market a new type of piano player action, "the double valve." Mr. Sigler says that the Sigler company has been supplying New York manufacturers for some time with a single valve action, and the completion of the new type, Mr. Sigler points out will open up a new field of business, since many manufacturers of player pianos favor single valve types and others favor the double valve. Mr. Sigler says that in present indications, it will not be long until his firm is shipping an average of from five to eight thousand actions per year to all parts of the United States.

NEW OFFICIALS PUT IN BUSY DAY

Treasurer Oves and Controller Fry Look Over Balances in Coffers

DEWITT A. FRY
City Solicitor D. S. Seitz will likely be asked within the next few days to define the duties of DeWitt A. Fry, the new city controller. Since taking office Monday Mr. Fry has been a busy man about the city treasury examining the books, statements, etc., with Harry F. Oves, the new treasurer. Both officials are acting upon their interpretation of the law on the matter. Mr. Fry is desirous of fulfilling the spirit and letter of the act thoroughly relative to his own duties and prefers to have the solicitor's opinion on the subject, too.

WILLIAM PENN WAY BOOSTED

quantities of influence in this locality in an effort to bring it around this way, and would be pleased to attend the meeting in view whereafter it is decided to have it."
Tyrone Boosting, Too
An enthusiastic letter was also received from N. C. McConahy, secretary of the Tyrone Motor Club, which reads as follows:

"We desire to say that the people of Tyrone, through this club, will do everything possible to have the route leading through here and Altoona designated as part of the new highway. I believe we could easily secure twenty-five influential citizens residing here to come to Harrisburg for the William Penn Highway meeting."

Suggested Route Follows Pennsy
The route that seems to meet with the approval of the majority of people is one that closely follows the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad from here to Pittsburgh, including such towns as Duncannon, Newport, Millin, Lewistown, Huntingdon, Birmingham, Tyrone, Bellwood, Altoona, Cresson, Johnstown, Greensburg, etc.

This route when properly advertised by the William Penn Highway enthusiasts will bring the tide of automobile travel from east and west in Pennsylvania by a route that touches all of the principal cities between Pittsburgh and the Delaware river, giving tourists from New York to the west and from the west to New York an air line across the State of Pennsylvania.

Hotels and garage accommodations on this new route are being sought to make it superior to the Lincoln Highway. In fact parties who use the Lincoln Highway out of Philadelphia will no doubt leave it at Gettysburg, proceed north to Harrisburg and thence to Pittsburgh via the William Penn Highway.

"This suggestion has been made that the William Penn Highway be continued from Harrisburg through the Lebanon and East Penn Highways, via Reading and Allentown to Easton, giving tourists from New York to the west and from the west to New York an air line across the State of Pennsylvania."

GARY PREDICTS PROSPERITY

long future, with the usual interruptions, if we are fully alive to our opportunities. We have the greatest country, with the greatest opportunities, and may properly be hopeful and confident."

Peace May Come Soon
Judge Gary referred to the European conflict, which he intimated may be long protracted, in its prevailing application to prevailing prosperity and economic conditions. He called attention to the dangers of overproduction or inflation by manufacturers and bankers resulting from overconfidence, and the aid of the Government is invoked for adequate protection of the country's industries.

Then Judge Gary issued a warning against overconfidence and inflation, having in view conditions at the end of the war. His statement says:—

"When there is possible danger ahead the locomotive engineer is directed by his rules, formal instructions and signs to proceed with caution; and sometimes to stop, look and listen. We may draw an analogy. We would offer words of caution. We are proceeding at a rapid pace. There is great expansion at present. I fear there is great inflation. Some of the circumstances surrounding the financial and industrial world are peculiar and not justified. There will be jars and jolts when eyes are opened and things become normal. We ought to stop, ponder, reason. We shall be all the better for it. Legitimate enterprise and progress will be benefited if we read all the signs, consider the past and reflect upon the future."

European Ruin May Revert
"I believe the war of Europe will not be so long protracted as many, if not the most of men, predict. This opinion is based principally upon two grounds. In the first place it seems apparent that little, if any, benefit to any belligerent country or to the world at large can result from the war, except and unless it be the firm establishment of an international tribunal for the settlement of all international differences, one that is universal and practical and whose decrees are enforceable; one that will prevent the prolongation of war in the future. This can be created, if so, negotiations for peace and for the greatest good to the greatest number. There should be an effort to ascertain and establish a line of justice and fairness between the producer and the consumer."

Must Be Co-operation
"This is an epoch. Times are serious, perhaps critical. Financial, commercial and industrial interests of this country may be firmly established on an independent and invulnerable foundation, but there must be co-operation between all classes and departments, private and public."

"We must be prepared for radical changes in volume, in prices and resources. There is danger of overproduction, over-extension of credit and liabilities, over-confidence. We have observed this before and we shall see it again. It is possible the banks will over-extend their credits, particularly in favor of foreign interests who offer attractive rates, but they will take care of that matter for themselves. We businessmen should realize there is possible danger ahead in the business outlook, and if we proceed with caution, however aggressively, we will have done no harm and we may hereafter have reason for congratulation. We have the greatest country with the greatest opportunities, and may properly be hopeful and confident."

Urges Protection
"Our producers, including our wage-earners will find themselves in commercial antagonism with the most persistent and difficult competition ever experienced, unless this shall be prevented by laws that are reasonable and sufficient. This is not a question of politics, nor for political parties as such. It is one of economics and of good business and it affects all the people. It is a question of the greatest good to the greatest number. There should be an effort to ascertain and establish a line of justice and fairness between the producer and the consumer."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, promoted its incurability. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
