"Team Work" by Preachers May Take Place of Evangelists

Southern Baptists and Episcopalians Successful With Plan of Denominational Preaching Missions
(By the Religious Rambler)

By THE RELIGIOUS RAMBLER

Three of the great denominations of the country—Southern Baptists, Presbyterians and Episcopalians—now have under way a special form of evangelistic work which, while fundamentally different from a "Billy Sunday" campaign, yet seeks the same end and with activity and results more widely distributed.

Already, owing to its organized evangelistic efforts, the Southern Baptists have an increase in accessions this far, in the current unfinished year, of twenty thousand persons. The Episcopalians report no figures for their Church-wide Advent Preaching Mission, but it has been fruitful of large congregations and real interest. The Presbyterians, after long preparatory investigation, have this month begun the actual operation of their new method of Presbyterial evangelism.

Pioneering in the South

Although regarded as one of the most conservative of American religious denominations, the Southern Baptists are the first to employ a staff of professional evangelists as part of their home mission board equipment. Beginning as far back as 1907, the church added five evangelists to its general working force, and that number has now increased to 25.

This eliminates most of the objections that have been urged against professional evangelists. The men are on salary, and so the incentive to promote large collections for the preacher disappears. The evangelist personally becomes less conspicuous than the idea of the revival itself. The one-man impression is dissipated.

Superior team work, and consequently, city-wide strategy are possible. At the Baptist churches in a community, the weak as well as the strong, are enlisted and served impartially. There is no tabernacle or other special meeting place. All the interest centers in the churches, where it will continue after the evangelists

Harrisburg Drug Stores Are Giving Away 25c Jars of the New "External" Vapor Treatment

YOU JUST RUB IT ON

Applied Over Throat and Chest It Relieves Colds Over Night Croup in Fifteen Minutes

Local druggists report a remarkable demand for the new vapor treatment for croup and cold troubles, recently introduced here from the South—known as Vick's Vap-O-Rub. The supply of free packages which the local druggists have been giving away is nearly exhausted, and if you wish to get your 25c jar you had better present the coupon below to your druggist at once.

Mothers with small children will find this new treatment especially valuable. It is entirely external, and does away with dosing with harmful internal medicines. For croup a little rubbed over the throat and chest will make the breathing easier in fifteen minutes. For deep chest colds, sore throat, bronchitis or incipient pneumonia you first apply hot wet cloths over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores of the skin. Then rub Vap-O-Rub in well and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors are inhaled, with each breath, all night long, loosening the phlegm and clearing the air passages. In addition, Vap-O-Rub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness.

For head colds, catarrh or asthmatic troubles apply Vick's Vap-O-Rub well up the nostrils, or melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors arising. In addition, mothers will find it a cooling, soothing application for surface inflammations, such as burns, bruises, stings, piles itches, insect bites or muscular soreness.

COUPON NO. 6—A

Good for one 25c package of Vick's Vap-O-Rub. Give free, as long as the free supply lasts. If your druggist has given away all his free packages, try a jar on 30 days' trial.

LANDON'S LEGACY

To-morrow—Henry B. Walthall

and their singers and their publicity have moved on to the next city. In a peculiar degree, the pastors are adequately related to the scheme; for the evangelists are accountable to them both locally and denominationally.

The "Team" Principle

The leader of this Southern Baptist band of twenty-five preachers and singers is the Rev. Dr. Weston Bruner, of Atlanta, whose official title is "Superintendent of Evangelism." He is the commanding general of every local campaign; with the pastors as his war board, in supreme command.

"Co-operation" is uniquely possible with this force of diversified workers. Men of varying talents are sent to different churches, according as the temperament and need of both may indicate. If there is a weak spot in the campaign, the necessary shifts can be made to remedy it. As for the item of expense, the entire team of twenty-five costs less to a community than many an individual evangelist and his helpers.

Big and little cities have been served—Richmond, Louisville, Dallas, Atlanta, Petersburg, Hot Springs and recently, Washington, D. C. Up to date there have been nearly sixty thousand additions to Baptist Churches as a result of this work, and more than forty thousand baptisms. Five thousand volunteers for the ministry and for the mission field have been enlisted; so does the evangelistic work coordinate with the other activities of the denomination.

Along with the work for the white churches, there is special effort rendered the colored congregations. There are two negro evangelists on the team. In Washington, recently, while the additions to the white Baptist churches went above seven hundred, the negro churches reported fifteen hundred new members.

Dr. Bruner, who is the inspirer and director of the work, summarizes for one its distinctive qualities: "In our work, we get the ear of the city, though not in so large a way as some others do, and then in addition to that, we conserve the interest of each local church and bring into the church a very large percentage of those who make a profession. For example, this year so far, we have had about 18,000 professions and we have had 15,000 additions by baptism; 20,000 additions in all, so you see that we largely string the fish that we catch and in addition to this, where there are conversions, who are not Baptists, but are Presbyterians, Methodists, Lutherans, etc., we do our utmost to have them unite with the church of their choice."

How Presbyterians Do It

The while drift of the denominational evangelism is toward a great use of pastors. The great preaching mission of the Episcopalians has been wholly by pastors, usually an "exchange" of pulpits being involved. Now the Northern Presbyterians, under the direction of its assembly committee, of which the Rev. Dr. George Mahy, is secretary, have begun a plan of evangelistic campaigns by presbyterial units.

At Geneva, N. Y., there opens this month the first of these new campaigns. Dr. Mahy will send into Geneva men of proved evangelistic gifts, pastors from outside the community, and so having all the appeal of novelty. Five Philadelphia pastors will go to Geneva for two weeks of special preaching and counseling.

A conference of representatives of seventy-two presbyteries is to be held in Washington this month to consider this new form of denominational evangelism. All the signs are of increasing stress upon this form of aggressive recruiting, but since there are not enough successful professionals like "Billy Sunday" to go round, the work is being done by regular pastors.

Fix Blame For Youth's Death on Engineer and Conductor of Train

Responsibility for the death of George Rhoads of Dauphin, who was struck by a train at Lucknow, on the evening of December 27 last night, was placed on the jury, on the testimony of George Anthony, engineer, and F. L. Knaube, conductor. Both are employed in the local yards of the Pennsylvania railroad. Jacob Eckinger conducted the hearing in the office of M. E. Stroup, district attorney.

It is probable that the trainmen will be formally charged by the district attorney with manslaughter sometime next week. Witnesses last night testified that not only was the engineer negligent in failing to blow the whistle, but that an important rule was broken in running the train past a station while another train was discharging and taking on passengers.

Ernest Thompson Seton to Lecture on Caribou Search

Ernest Thompson Seton, until recently chief scout of the Boy Scouts of America, will deliver an illustrated lecture in this city on the subject "In Search of the Caribou." The lecture will be held under the auspices of the Harrisburg Teachers' Association in the auditorium of the Technical high school next Friday evening, January 14.

Dr. Seton's address will mark the opening of the ninth annual course of lectures given under the auspices of the city teachers. George Earle Ralston, who has circled the globe possibly more times than any other man, will be the second speaker on the program. He will appear in Harrisburg February 11 and will speak to his audience by special request on "Western Europe, the Theater of War."

For the first time in the history of the association a woman will appear on the program. Mrs. William Calvin Chilton, a Southern Monodramatist, will relate "Southern Stories from Southern Writers." Course tickets can be secured at the Technical high school or at the offices of the School Board, while the reserved seat will open to-morrow morning at Stieff's piano rooms.

BARD CO. GETS ITS MACHINERY
Reading Railway Unloads First Carload; Busy Installing Sample Actions

The Reading Railway Company yesterday placed the first car of machinery on the siding at the new piano player action factory of Chas. E. Bard & Company, at Ninth and Hemlock streets and the machines were unloaded to-day. There are six more machines on the road and these are expected to arrive in the next few days.

The work of remodeling the building, which was for many years occupied by J. H. Sheesley, feed man, is being rapidly pushed to completion. A new steam heating plant is being put in by L. R. Lyne and a new elevator will soon be in place. The old windows which were of the old-fashioned type are being taken out on the three floors and large ones put in place making the factory an up-to-date daylight plant. New floors are being laid and the entire building remodeled.

Mr. Bard, president of the company, says that within two weeks his company will have all the work of equipping the plant done and that it will send out the first shipment from the new factory by February 1.

Mr. Bard said this morning: "We are fast approaching the point where we will need more mechanics as the prospects ahead for our actions are brighter than we had thought; we have several pianos on the road here now from the Eastern Piano Manufacturers and some have come in and are now in our factory. These pianos are to be equipped with player actions and returned as samples. We already have many orders ahead for our adaptable action and will soon be turning them out in quantities. When we are through with our work of installing our machines we will have one of the most thoroughly up-to-the-minute player action plants in the country. We have had very good success in the sale of our stock and have now closed out all of the allotment of common stock to be sold. The preferred stock is now on sale and we believe this will be closed out in a very few weeks. Our company was only granted a charter on December 1 and we feel that we are progressing rapidly.

"Our temporary offices, which are now in the Trustee Building will soon be moved to the factory at Ninth and Hemlock streets and we have bought an automobile truck to handle our own deliveries to and from the factory."
