PLAYS AND PLAYERS

If you were taken out of a foundling home by a man of culture and through his unending devotion and personal efforts, were developed into a highly educated, charming society belle, and if, when you had attained this enviable position, you were forced to choose between this man to whom you owed everything in life and a young officer, himself, and a dashing young army officer, which would you choose?

The heroine of the new "War Brides" Clark faces as Peggy in the Famous Players' Film Company's adaptation of Madame L'Amour, the celebrated theatrical success, "Mice and Men," which has been released by Paramount recently and which in all probability be shown in this city in the near future.

Hazel Dawn declares, in the current number of Picture Progress, that this being a motion picture star may be all very well, and most desirable, but it is so far as the public is concerned, but that genius falls to be appreciated at all times. Madame L'Amour, the famous Players' star arrives home bedecked in a new and stunning frock, there is a shriek of disapproval from her father and mother, neither of whom will admit that there is any beauty in the dress. The heroine, who is the celebrated actress, she would look like the original Queen of the Gipsies, which she does not propose to do.

President Samuel S. Hutchinson, of the American Film Co., Inc., recently sounded the 1916 keynote for the manufacture of better and healthier toned pictures that has echoes throughout the trade. He has given instructions to his writers and directors and his ideas will find immediate reflection on the screen, so that the light and shadows of light, wholesome and human, will have full play.

The present day film, as a picture of life must stand for those qualities which we find the most admirable in men and women, said President Hutchinson. "These are strength, beauty, cleanliness and a sense of the right. The photoplay which depends for its appeal on distasteful topics, like the 'dope' habit, excessive drinking, deathly scenes, tortures, the morbid or the suggestive, has no place in the literature of the screen, which has only recently come into being."

LOCAL THEATERS

A coming attraction at the Orpheum Theater is "The Eternal Magdalene," fittingly described as "an old, old story told in a new, new way." The play will appear in this city on Tuesday, February 1.

"What is the charm of Kreisler?" who may be said, indeed, to stand absolutely in a class by himself.

The charm of "Some would tell you it is his wonderful power as a musician. Others, who are not musicians, will tell you that it is his exquisite taste and musicianly feeling which he exhibits when he plays."

Not in the history of the theater has a play, whether it be acted in thirty minutes or three hours, left such a lasting and indelible impression as "War Brides." A wonderful and appealing argument for universal peace.

"War Brides" is by Marion Craig Wentworth and was published in the Century Magazine. Aside from its dramatic power, the National Order of Suffrage have endorsed it as the most convincing argument the cause has ever had.

The story of "War Brides" is pertinent explained by Rabbi Stephen Wise, who is quoted as saying: "The European women to be just human breeding machines." This play answers the question.

"The company that presents 'War Brides' has been especially selected by the management of the Orpheum, and the beautiful countess, and Earle Williams as a dashing young American naval officer in the film 'My Lady's Slipper' are the two stars who carry the leading roles in 'My Lady's Slipper'.

Francis Burnham, the hero, naval officer and adventurer, escapes from a

Regent Theater Offers School Children Treat

Arrangements are being made to give each of the youthful patrons of the Regent on this feature day of anniversary week a pleasing souvenir that any child would be proud to own. Charlie Chaplin will appear on the screen in some of his funniest antics and the rest of the bill will be especially designed for the pleasure of the youngsters.

By reason of his "matinee" Saturday morning, the regular Saturday program will not begin until noon, after which time the advertised bill will prevail, featuring Sam Bernard in the film comedy, "Poor Schmaltz."
