PRE-INVENTORY House Cleaning Sale

CHAPTER II.

—And in this brief word, may we emphasize that this sale is a SALE in every sense of the word—that when we speak of whacking a-fourth to a-half off the former prices, we do not mean last month's or last season's prices; but PRICES THEY SOLD FOR LAST WEEK.

It's a sale to clear out all lots that are not to be duplicated again, or perhaps broken in size range. Not rummage; neither will you find the newest and prettiest; but good, serviceable merchandise in abundance.

Below is a simple explanation of some of the many items and the clearing out prices. No "was-ing" about what the former prices were.

If an article was a dollar last week, that was last week's price. If it is 69c to-morrow, you'll be interested in to-morrow's price, only; knowing of course, that it is greatly reduced. And every item in this sale speaks of unusual reduction; the former price could make it no clearer than the item itself.

—Until Saturday evening.

TAKE HATS FROM CHILDREN
Says Dr. Arthur R. Reynolds, former Health Commissioner for Chicago, in the February American Magazine.
"Wearing hats in boyhood retards the growth and full development of the vessels that nourish the roots of the hair and accounts for the baldness in early life. An examination of the heads of boys will enable one to determine whose heads will be made bald by the wearing of hats and whose heads will not with a reasonable degree of certainty."

FROM THE CODE OF SUCCESSFUL WORKERS
In the February American Magazine Ray Stannard Baker gives the following code for successful work, including the nine business commandments adapted for boys and girls:
"1. I will respect all useful work, and be courteous to the workers.
"2. I will know my work, and have ambition to do it well.
"3. I will take the initiative, and develop executive ability.
"4. I will be industrious and willing.
"5. I will be honest and truthful.
"6. I will educate myself into strength and character.
"7. I will be faithful to my work.
"8. I will be loyal.
"9. I will be a gentleman — a lady. The world does not owe me a living, but I am proud to make a good living for myself."

PATTON SOUNDS PRICE WARNING

Says There Is No Necessity For Advancing the Price of Agricultural Lime

Word has reached the Department of Agriculture that a number of producers of lime products for agricultural purposes have increased the price to the consumer, and give as the reason that additional expense is required on account of the new lime law which went into effect on January 1. Secretary of Agriculture Charles E. Patton maintains that the registration and inspection features of the new law, which are aimed to protect the farmer, carry no burdens for the producer that the consumer of lime products should be made to pay. He says: "The increase in the price of lime is entirely uncalled for as the new law requires only a registration fee of five dollars to cover a production of 1,000 tons or 25,000 bushels of lime. The weight of a bushel according to the amended commodities act is eighty pounds. The additional cost to the producer for the registration is one-half a cent a ton in cases where the tonnage produced is from 1,000 to 5,000 tons the registration fee is $10, or about one-fifth of a cent a ton. "No excuse can be offered by the producers by claiming extra cost of production in the case of sacked goods, when the statement of brand name and guaranteed composition must be printed on the containers, because manufacturers have been marking their sacked goods in that manner prior to the enactment of the lime law. They have placed this information on the containers for advertising purposes to show the quality of the contents. "In the case of bulk goods, the law only requires that the written or printed statement showing the amount of calcium and magnesium oxides be given the purchaser when the sale is made. "If it is necessary for the producers to increase the price of lime products at this time, it is due to some other contingency than the requirements of the new lime law which was passed as a protection for the consuming public and the honest producers."

$1,500,000 WORTH OF FURS BEING SOLD IN NEW YORK

By Associated Press
New York, Jan. 26. — More than 1,000 buyers are attending the first fur auction ever held here. In all $75,000 skins are to be sold and their appraised value is $1,500,000. Borough President Marcus M. Marks, in opening the auction said there was no reason why New York could not become the fur center of the world.

PALLBEARERS FALL IN GRAVE, COFFIN ON TOP

Two Men Hurt by Being Wedge in by Casket When Plank Breaks

Special to the Telegraph
Hartford, Conn., Jan. 26. — Two pallbearers were painfully injured by an unusual accident in St. Andrew's Cemetery, in Kent, when they slipped under the coffin and were wedged down by the casket. The pallbearers carried the coffin containing the body from the street to the grave. The outside box rested on two planks over the grave. The pallbearers came alongside and had just placed the casket in the box when one of the planks broke.

Former Selectman J. R. Judd and Gilbert Vincent fell into the grave. It required some minutes to extricate them.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT!

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out. —Adv.
