IN MEMORIAM

IN sad but loving memory of ou ear mother, Mrs. Harry Simonetti tho departed this life January 27, 1915 Dearest loved one we have laid thee.
In the peaceful grave's embrace,
sut thy memory will be cherished.
'Till we see thy neavenly face.

By her children, IRS, D. D. CROWDER AND MR. RAY SIMONETTI. IN sad but loving remembrance of my ear one, Mr. J. P. Ladenbeger, who eparted this life January 27, 1911.

The month of January 27, 1911.

The month of January once more is here.

To me the saddest of the year,
Because it took from me away my loved one, six years ago to-day.

You are not forgotten, dear one, nor will you ever be, often sit and think of you when I am all alone,

For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own.

Reactionary Tendencies Manifested Although Declines Are Limited to Fractions

By Associated Press

New York, Jan. 27. — Wall Street. — Further reactionary tendencies were manifested on the resumption of trad-ing to-day, although declines, except a ew specialties, were limited to frac eatures, but United States Steel was moder pressure. Initial offerings of order, Southern Pacific, Mexican Petroeum and Westinghouse were moderiely large. Steel sold at 83%, a deline of one-eighth from yesterday's lose, but immediately rose a haif oint. Metal issues were irregular with nore loss than gains. Secondary prices howed slight recoveries on diminished ealings.

Ober Brothers to Build Stable in Cameron Street

Ober Brothers, liverymen, are planning to erect a new, modern brick stable in North Cameron street, and a permit to begin construction was taken out to-lay. The new building will be a single story affair, but will cover the properties from Nos 31 to 37 North Cameron. It will cost $2,500. E. N. Lebo will be the contractor.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania cquired another property in the Capiol Park extension zone to-day, when he deed for the purchase of No. 139 forth Fourth street from Patrick J. Joyd's heirs was recorded. The price $3,300. Other realty transfers reorded, include:

Gen. Wood Says U. S. Army Could Not Invade Mexico By Associated Press By Associated Press
Washington, D. C., Jan. 27. — The United States army is so short of officers and men, Major-General Leonard Wood, commander of the Department of the East, to-day told the House military committee, that were it ordered to invade Mexico at the present time, infantry, cavalry and artillery would take the field at less than half their full strength. The standing army, he continued, should consist of 220,000 men.

Lynch Will Complete

River Dam in Spring The city dam across the Susque-hanna at Dock street will be completed early this summer, according to W. H. Lynch, superintendent of streets and public improvements. Only a short public improvements. Only a short stretch of the top tier of concrete slabs must be laid. This work will require but a few weeks.

The Board of Public Works met yesterday to compile data for the final report on Harrisburg's public improvements.

POLICE TERM. After a careful investigation, the police department officials placed little credence in the story which Harry Hill, aged 28, 1105 Montgomery street, told of being doped, robbed and lured out of the city on Monday night. Middletown authorities after a complete investigation also reported that they could not learn of any mysterious incident similar to the one which Hill told about. According to local authorities a medical examination of Hill showed that he had not suffered from the effects of either liquor or "dope."
