PASSENGERS OF APPAM BEGIN TO LEAVE VESSEL

Captured British Steamer Moved Up James River to Newport News

TALES OF SEA RAIDER

English Prisoners Contend Ship Was Converted Merchantman; Germans Say Not

Newport News, Va., Feb. 3.—With her German prize commander on the bridge, the British liner Appam moved up from Old Point early today, anchored off this port to discharge the 245 persons on board given liberty to land in the United States. The ship's legal status still is undetermined. Lieutenant Berg, the German officer, moves his craft only on orders through Collector Hamilton.

"We are treating her as an English ship which has put into an American port flying the German naval ensign and under charge of a man who says he is an officer of the German navy," is Mr. Hamilton's explanation of the present attitude of the United States. Some of those who were passengers on the Appam when she was captured by the German raider variously described as the Ponce or Moeve prepared to land in Newport News, but most of them will be transferred to the crews of other captured British vessels to Norfolk, where, later they will take a vessel for New York.

English Will Go Home Edward Merewether and other British colonial officers with large quantities of baggage have arranged to place their property in customs bond here and proceed direct to New York to take the first available ship for home. Customs Collector Hamilton arrived from Norfolk early in the day to assist in the arrangements for disembarking those who are at liberty to land. He expressed the opinion that two or three days would elapse before all are ashore. Meanwhile the disposition of the other passengers likely will have been decided.

Germans and Brits differ in their versions of the identity of the raider. Prince Von Hatzfeldt, counselor of the German embassy at Washington, insists that she is the German cruiser Moeve while all of the British skipper aboard the Appam who have been interviewed to this time declare she is a converted merchantman of about 5,000 tons, named Ponce, mounting six masked guns of near six-inch caliber and having two torpedo tubes. The Englishmen believe she is a new boat fitted out recently as a commerce destroyer, and that she slipped out of the Kiel canal early in January.

Daring Deeds of Raiders Widely Applauded in Berlin

Berlin, Feb. 3, via London.—News of the arrival of the Appam at Newport and of the daring raids of a German cruiser in the main lane of sea traffic between South Africa and Europe has aroused a new outburst of enthusiasm for the navy. The cruiser Moeve—in English, the Seagull—was enrolled on the honor list with the Emden, Prinz Eitel Friederich and Karlsruhe. Her feats are characterized as most daring, illustrative of the fact that the spirit which animated the men on the Emden is still alive and that further pages of German history are being written.

There is no little mystery regarding the identity of the Moeve. Admiralty officials evidently were not surprised at the news, but for obvious reasons decline to give any information about the cruiser or whence she set out for her raids. A vessel named Moeve is given in the German navy list as a surveying ship. She formerly was engaged in survey work at the East African station. The raider may have been this craft, although it seems improbable that it was this little steamer of 650 tons, with a speed of only nine knots. It may have been some larger steamer, assuming the name Moeve when converted into an auxiliary cruiser, slipped through the British lines. A precedent of this nature exists in the case of the German merchantman which was converted into the auxiliary cruiser Meteor which sank the British patrol boat Ramsey and other ships in the North Sea last summer and consequently was destroyed.

The German surveying ship Moeve was sunk by gunfire on August 9, 1914.

New Way to Wave the Hair Becomes Popular

That most women are quick to appreciate anything that will enhance their attractiveness, is shown by the greatly increased demand for liquid silmerine, since its remarkable hair curling properties became known. Druggists everywhere report large sales for this product.

Women are enthusiastic over liquid silmerine particularly because it enables them to acquire a curliness which is so beautifully natural in appearance, and not have to burn the life out of the hair with a hot iron. Also they find the hair with a hot iron. The liquid is so agreeable to use, being easy to apply with a clean tooth brush at night when the hair is down. The morning is most delightful. As it takes only a little silmerine to produce the required effect, a few ounces will last for weeks.—Advertisement.

MUNICIPAL BAT ROOST IN TEXAS

San Antonio Now Has an Army of the Mosquito-Eating Creatures

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 28.—An army of mosquito-eating bats, several thousand strong, will be turned loose in San Antonio next month. If, as has been predicted for it, the army succeeds in crippling seriously the activities of the germ-laden mosquito population, many other cities may follow San Antonio's example and establish their "municipal bat roosts." Dr. C. A. R. Campbell, who has made a special study of bats, is responsible for San Antonio's bat roost. The institution came into existence last Spring. It was not a success in its first year owing to the fact that it was established late in the Spring, and its population was not numerous enough. This Spring there is a large army of bats on hand and it is expected to get an early start. Dr. Campbell says that one bat in the course of a single day will eat one thousand mosquitoes. He expects hordes of mosquitoes to perish daily, and that by the end of the summer the pestiferous insects will be almost, if not entirely, missing from this locality. The flight of the bats will begin about February 15 and from then until April 30 they will fly about all night long, trailing and devouring mosquitoes. Dr. Campbell says that the more malaria, typhoid and other germs a mosquito carries, the better the bat relishes it. After April 30 the bats grow less hungry and more sleepy. By the end of July their flight totals only about two hours. Soon thereafter the season for baby bats arrives. A neighboring city having written to Dr. Campbell asking him how to get rid of mosquitoes he replied "Breed bats." Then he got another letter inquiring "But when you've got rid of the mosquitoes how do you get rid of the bats?"

DAUPHIN COUNTY VALUES TO BE BOOSTED OVER A MILLION Dauphin county's property valuations will be boosted from a million and a half to one and three-quarter million dollars at least, by the 1916 triennial assessment, according to County Commissioner Henry M. Took Her Fortune and Eloped With Chauffeur

After searching a month detectives found them at Palm Beach, married. The aunt of the young woman, with whom she made her home, threatened to prosecute the garage man, George M. Stevens, because she said he had just received a divorce on conditions named by the court that he must not wed again before April 17.
