

TELLS CHARACTER OF WOMEN BY HAIR

Novel Method Adopted by Enthusiast on Hair Culture Causes Discussion.

Show me a woman with fascinating hair, an immaculate scalp free from dandruff and an abundance of her own hair, and I can usually show you a careful woman with a home hospitably clean and a husband whose life is one of comfort and contentment.

On the other hand—well, the less said the better. Of course, there are exceptions that prove the rule, said the speaker, who by the way is a man that conceived the idea of producing a beneficial preparation for women's hair—one combining ingredients that not only make it radiantly beautiful and fascinating, but refreshes and invigorates the hair roots so as to promote an abundant growth of healthy hair and at the same time banishes every trace of dandruff.

So uniformly successful is this delightful preparation now known as Parisian Sage, both there is probably not one drugstore in the United States that does not guarantee it to give the fullest measure of satisfaction or success before H. C. Kennedy's scores of women they supply regularly with Parisian Sage, and the cost is trifling.

Daily Wage Problem to Be Worked Out

The State Compensation Board has deferred until Tuesday the consideration of what shall constitute a daily wage in compensation, which was discussed before it yesterday by representatives of miners, operators, railroads, and organized labor. This plan has been adopted because of requests from men interested in other lines than mining, which occupy considerable time yesterday. Briefs or suggestions will be received.

The Compensation Board today expected to receive from the Pennsylvania Employers Liability City of Philadelphia, the Pennsylvania, West Jersey and Seashore, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington and East Erie Commercial railroads, the Southern Pennsylvania Traction Co., Wyoming Valley Water Supply Co., county of Luzerne, McClintic Marshall Co., Lytle Coal Co., and a number of industrial, financial and mercantile concerns.

The hearing did not end until late last evening and the important matter next to the objection raised by Roger J. Dever, Wilkes-Barre, to the arrangement proposed for a daily wage determination was the question of amendment of the act. James H. Maurer, president of the State Federation of Labor, stated that some amendments would be submitted among them one for a $10 minimum wage.

Speakers included Representative H. J. Wilson, Jefferson, H. S. Lydick, Pittsburgh; E. B. Creighton, Philadelphia and others.

How to Shed a Rough, Chapped or Blotchy Skin

This is what you should do to shed a bad complexion: Spread evenly over the face, covering every inch, a thin layer of ordinary merozolized wax. Let this stay on over night, washing it at half-past nine, and repeat daily until your complexion is clear, soft and beautiful as a young girl's. This result is inevitable, no matter how soiled or withered the complexion. The wax literally absorbs the filthy surface skin, exposing the lovely young skin beneath. The process is entirely harmless, so little of the old skin coming off at a time. Merozolized wax is obtainable at any drug store or is usually supplied. It is a veritable wonder-worker for rough, chapped, reddened, blotchy, pimpled, freckled or sallow skin. Pure powdered saxolite is excellent for a wrinkled skin. An ounce of it dissolved in a half-pint of witch hazel makes a refreshing wash-lotion. This renders the skin quite firm and smooth; it removes the very first signs of the finer lines; the deeper ones soon follow.

This organization is headed by William Bayard Hale, who calls himself chairman, and who is directly in the monthly pay of Ambassador Bernstorff and Dr. Albert."

Col. House's Trip Feeler For Peace, Paris Paper Says

REAL ESTATE

MANY CHANGES IN BUSINESS PLACES

L. W. Cook Store Sold, Goes Out of Business; Room Vacated

OBERT STABLES TO MOVE

General Shake-up in Heart of City Is Forecast by Recent Deals

Several real estate casts popped out of their respective bags within the past few hours, when it was made public that Dives, Pomeroy and Stewart had taken over the stock, estimated at $100,000, of the L. W. Cook Company, owners of the Quality Department Store, 308 Market street; that Mrs. Emma Astrich, who had on Saturday last been given the option on the Cook property, would exercise that option and take over the lease of the property within the next few days; that Joseph Claster has purchased the property at 119 South Second street and would shortly remove his business to that place; and that the property now rented by Ober Brothers at Court and Cranberry streets, will be vacated by the first of April and the stables removed to a new location on the corner where Mr. Ober will erect a two-story building on the present site of the Harrisburg Transfer stables.

The idea which has caused most interest is that the Cook store, but it is very probable that this will be but a forerunner, together with the recent dissolving of the Jerald Shoe Company and the departure from Market street of Smith and Keffer, wholesale tobacconists, who will move to South Cameron street, of more changes to follow, and a general shake-up in the locale of the central business district.

Cook Property to Be Rented. Mrs. Astrich, widow of the late Herman Astrich, and owner of the H. Astrich woman's store at Fourth and Market streets, has already received a number of offers from out-of-town concerns, and it will presumably be but a short time before the Cook property will be sold. Outside of the desire to rent the property, the price of which has not been made public, Mrs. Astrich said this morning that she had no definite plans. Transfer of the stock from the Cook store to Dives began this morning, and by noon a large proportion had been transferred. Frank L. Cook said this morning that for the present no thought will be given to future plans. The company, with this transfer, goes out of business.

Joseph Claster, wholesale jobber of clothing and notions at 6 1/2 North Market Square, will take the quarters known as the Harrar and Chamberlain property, 119 South Second street, until a year ago occupied by the Holmes Seed Company. A fifth story will be added to the building, which is comparatively new. It has not been made generally public as to who will take possession of the property which Mr. Claster is leaving.

The proposed rental of the property at Court and Cranberry streets for garage purposes has not been communitated, and although Ober Brothers will leave that locality on April 1, no tenant has yet taken possession. The property, which is owned by Harry Hersh, has been used as a livery stable, housing about fifty horses and numerous vehicles, and occupies a considerable territory.

Handsome Residences to Be Built on River Front

There are evidences everywhere throughout the city of an active revival in real estate. This is not confined to vacant lots, but also to the transfers of old places of business and in the prospective expansion of building operations with the opening of Spring. Nowhere will the activity be more noticeable than along the River Front where several vacant pieces will be adorned with handsome residences before the end of the year.

Mr. J. P. Keller has purchased a frontage of 100 feet on the river, and immediately adjoining the fine residence of her son, Dr. W. L. Keller, about midway in the block between Woodbine and Emerald streets. She will erect a new home for herself. Ira P. Romberger, who now resides at 2223 North Second street, is understood to have purchased 100 feet in the same block and it is also said that he will occupy the property with a new residence.

Walter P. Maguire who owns a desirable corner at Front and Woodbine, is considering plans for a new residence and, naturally, a quiet corner on the south corner, which is owned by the Christian Science Church, will be improved this year. It is understood that the start on the fine church property will be the erection of the chapel this summer.

It was further intimated that two or three other houses are contemplated in the same district along the river.

ST. LAWRENCE CHURCH WILL CONSIDER NEW SITE TONIGHT

At a meeting of the parish of St. Lawrence German Catholic church, held last night at the church hall, the question of whether or not the church shall close operations on some Front street property, which is owned by the church, will be discussed. The congregation received $12,500 for the properties. The Mrs. John C. Kunkel property, at Blackberry and Front streets; the Henry M. Stine property, in South Front street, and the old Hickok property, now occupied by Dr. John Omlager, are among the sites that have been considered, it is said.

The deeds of transfer for the St. Lawrence property were recorded late yesterday afternoon. In addition to the $12,500 from the St. Lawrence property of Eleanor Brown's properties in the Eighth Ward for $16,250, were recorded.

MILLER BROTHERS CO. BUSY

Some important real estate sales were completed by Miller Brothers and Co. during the day. These included the three-story brick house at the northwest corner of Twenty-second and Chestnut streets to John T. Shipley. The house was formerly occupied by W. J. Davidson prior to his departure for Wayne, Mich. E. S. Swartz purchased a small farm in Perry county from O. R. McDonald through the same firm, while Bernard C. MOTHER FIGHTS TO RETAIN HER BABY

[Continued From First Page.] woman, in order to support Wertz's contention that the mother was unfit to have charge of the child, Scott S. Leiby, counsel for the husband, probed pretty fully into her habits. "You take good care of your small daughter, do you?" he asked. To the Movies. "I certainly do," snapped Mrs. Wertz. "I take her to the movies every night. She has plenty of stuff to eat and good clothes, too. As for his folks"—and she shot a malignant glance toward her young husband—"they never came near me nor do they ever come to see her. I guess they think they're better 'n me—they all ways did think so. But they'll never never take my baby away from me—never!" Questioned as to her habits Mrs. Wertz declared that she never drank—except "when she got a prescription from the doctor to use beer."

"You never drank anything else? How about when you dropped in to the Aldine?" "If you please," snapped Mrs. Wertz. "I went in there to get a sandwich—and soda!" The Decree. She suddenly branched into a tirade against her husband and his relatives. Wertz had tried to kill her on one occasion, she declared, and she feared him. Nor could the court's gavel silence her.

To Say Good-By

Court Crier Young gavelled for order. He might as well have tapped the table with a toothpick. Deputy Sheriff Hoffman finally wrested the clinging arms of Mrs. Wertz from her daughter and held her chair while Sheriff Caldwell grabbed the youngster in his arms and carried it across the room to the waiting Mrs. Dolbin.

The Search

"I'll be good," she sobbed to the officials. "I'll not make any row. Just let me see her, won't you?" The youngster to reclaim Katherine, Deputy Sheriff Hoffman had his hands full for some time. Pale, tottering, the sobbing woman finally begged to "say good-by to my baby."

THE DECREE

The mother broke from the deputy and darted around the chairs and the counsel table to reclaim Katherine. Deputy Sheriff Hoffman had his hands full for some time.
